

Campus Clippings

OREGON STATE COLLEGE
By MARILYN HILL

Spring term has reached its middle point this week much to the surprise of the many students who have been busy with elections, planning coming week-ends, and carrying out other traditions. The mid-term exams came as a complete shock to most students.

Big Jim Hankers, Peasant party candidate for president of OSC, stole the election from the Free Stater party, who have had virtual monopoly on the student offices for two years. Hankers' position as President Truman was last year, since Hankers is practically the only Peasant in high office and the senate is controlled by Free Staters. But parties don't mean quite as much to Oregon Staters as they do in the nationals, so it is practically certain that the tall, blond, football-playing president will have the full cooperation of the students—especially the women.

Complete and utter havoc reigned supreme last Friday when the sophomore class over the campus for their annual Sadie Hawkins day. Strangers to Corvallis might have received the shock of their lives to see the mixture of costumes and antics worn by the sophomores. Each living group selected a Daisy Mae or Lil Abner to take part in the contest for the most authentic. The winning costume group wore dresses typical of Dogpatch society with dreadful hairdos and color combinations. Everything from the "skunk works" down to hairless Josephines was portrayed as the Sophomores went all out for their day.

Dr. G. Herbert Smith, president of Willamette university, Salem, spoke to a gathering of 500 fraternity men at the seventh annual interfraternity banquet last Thursday. In his speech on fraternities and their relations with one another and the college, Dr. Smith said that through the years fraternities have been increasing very steadily in their friendly relations with one another.

Plans for Mothers' week-end, May 6, 7 and 8, are coming to the final completion point with only one more week before the big event.

Mothers will receive an invitation and newsletter from the school, including a program of the events of the week-end. Some of these are the "Salute to Rhythm 1949" dance recital, a music program Saturday afternoon, and the speech department play, "Years Ago." Don Burlingham is a co-chairman of the matinee musical.

Evelyn Ferris, sophomore from Medford, was chosen "Little Colonel" in an impressive ceremony during the military ball last Saturday night. Escorted by the Pershing Rifles unit as her honor guard, the new "little colonel" was introduced to the dancers and the ROTC and NROTC groups which she will represent. The Memorial Union ballroom was decorated along military lines for the occasion with the insignia of the six units on the pillars. Immediately before the dance a banquet was held by the members of Scabbard and Blade, military honorary, to honor the candidates.

LEBANON — Twenty-four members and Mrs. Kenneth Wilshire, educational director, were present at the Beta Sigma Phi sorority meeting. Mrs. Royce Sutter and Mrs. Robert spoke on the cultural program.

The sorority elected members for a sextet to include Mrs. Don Clark, Mrs. Robert Peterson, Mrs. George VanPelt, Mrs. Willard Estep, Mrs. Frank Schrouder and Mrs. Lon Estep. They will sing at the founders day banquet on April 30.

A donation was made to the Junior Chamber of Commerce toward completion of the city park.

Connor-Hollenbeck Wedding April 24

St. Andrews church in Portland was the scene of a wedding Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock when Miss Elaine Hollenbeck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hollenbeck of Trout Lake, Wash., was married to John S. Connor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Connor of St. Paul, the Rev. Robert O'Hara officiating.

The bride wore a white tulle gown brocaded with velvet. Her fingertip length veil was edged with imported lace. It is an heirloom in the family, having been worn by all the brides in the family. The bride carried a prayer book with streamers of ribbon and topped with an orchid.

Miss Marie Jones was maid of honor and Mrs. Jerry Connor, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. They wore identical dresses of pink and carried nosegays of carnations and sweet peas. Young Miss Darle Joy, cousin of the bride, was flower girl, wearing blue and carrying a single pink rose.

Albert Copp was best man for Mr. Connor and Jerry Connor, brother of the bridegroom, was the groomsmen. Ushers were Teddy McKillip and David Smith. Mrs. Lester Kirk and Mrs. Ray Kerr were the soloists.

Following the ceremony a reception was given at Grace Manor. Mrs. Harold Hollenbeck, aunt of the bride, cut the cake, assisted by Miss Lois Hollenbeck. Serving the punch were aunts of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Edward Davidson and Mrs. Lester Kirk. Pouring at the coffee urn was Miss Geraldine Kirk, also an aunt of the bridegroom. Mrs. H. Vandovering, aunt of the bridegroom, had charge of the short book.

Following a short trip the couple are at home on a farm near St. Paul. For going away the bride wore a suit with brown skirt and beige jacket, and brown accessories and corsage of orchids.

LEBANON — Addressing the Business and Professional Women's club at the April dinner meeting was Mrs. Bernus of Albany.
