Preliminary plans for the formation of rifle clubs in the high schools of Marion county were made at a meeting Thursday night of military manpower representatives, representatives of the high schools, of the Salem Rifle association.

Through the club competition between high schools in the county and groups in the high schools would be arranged under the sponsorship of the military manpower committee. Tentative plans call for a schedule to be completed by next fall to permit the clubs to be organized at the beginning of the school year.

Attending the meeting held at the office of William Baillie, were Mr. Baillie, Col. Philip Allison, and Robert R. Boardman, representing the military manpower committee; Capt. Thomas Massey and Sgt. 1/c Lester B. Lent of the army recruiting service; Harold Hawk, high schools; and from the Salem Rifle association, W. K. Graber, C. R. Thompson, Charles Wilson and T. E. Fennell.

Project also being planned by the military manpower committee is to arrange for men from the army and air force to appear as speakers before groups of graduating senior boys in the high schools of Marion county.

In charge of that program are Robert R. Boardman, chairman of the military manpower committee, and Capt. Thomas Massey of the recruiting service.

8 Dogs but No Dog Licenses

An 83-year-old man who lays claim to being born in Oklahoma Indian territory in 1866 of mixed Cherokee and white parentage was ordered to dispose of eight dogs Friday by District Court Judge Joseph Felton.

William Price had been brought to court with his stepson, Charles McKenzie, on charges of larceny of chittam bark, and the elderly man was also faced with a second charge of failure to procure a dog license.

Workers from the county welfare office explained that the eight Spitz dogs "were like children" to Price who lived with all of them in a small shack.

Price pleaded guilty to failure to purchase a license, and was fined $50 and costs, the fine suspended. Judge Felton ordered the dogs removed from Price's custody and recommended new homes be found for them.

The charge of larceny was dropped against Price, but McKenzie was fined $50 and costs on the charge and given until June to raise the money.

Age Pension Bill Action Delayed

Gov. Douglas McKay will not act on the old age pension law passed by the recent legislature until early next week, he announced Friday.

The bill, which provides for a $50 a month pension providing funds are available, is not satisfactory to the sponsors of the $50 pension bill passed by the people at the last November election.

Smith Outlines Insurance Problems

Homer Smith, Jr., outlined problems of insurance management today for members of the Salem Credit association at a luncheon meeting.

Prior to his speech, Charles Schmitz, manager of the credit bureau, advised members of the relaxation of time and down payment regulations by the federal reserve board.

The amount required as a down payment on appliances, furniture and most items except automobiles has been dropped to 10 per cent with payment periods extended to 24 months, Schmitz pointed out.

School District Board's Actions

The district boundary board Friday set May 20 as date for an election on the question of consolidation of Salem Heights and Pleasant Point school districts with the Salem school district. The election will be held in all three of the districts and the date was fixed to coincide with the election in Salem school district on a bond issue question. Salem Heights district covers the area immediately south of Salem and Pleasant Point is in the vicinity of the penitentiary annex adjacent to the old Pringle district which already is consolidated with Salem.

The board denied a petition to change boundaries of Macleay and Aumsville districts which would transfer a small piece of Macleay into Aumsville and which would involve five pupils.

It did grant, however, petitions which would transfer a small part of West Stayton into North Santiam district. Five families are involved in this change with seven pupils next year. Both boards had consented to the change.

The district board also confirmed canvass of the recent vote at which voters in the rural school district turned thumbs down on a plan to consolidate Stayton union high school district with the rural school district by a vote of 1110 to 1069.

Realtors Told About Storage

The relationship between the moving and storage industry with the business of selling real estate was discussed during Friday's meeting of the Salem Board of Realtors by Russell Pratt of the Capital City Transfer company. Pratt said few persons realized the part the realtor played in selling the city in which they operate to the outsider.

His own industry, Pratt added, tied in with the exchange of real estate since it facilitated the movement of household goods from one point to another. Shortage of storage space which grew acute during the war years is gradually being overcome, said Pratt. The industry is now engaged in trying to educate their employees to the need of greater care in handling furniture since household effects are generally less sturdy than they were a generation or ago.

Next Friday, Senator Allan Carson will address the realtors, May 13th the program will be provided by the Portland Ad club.

President Elpidio Quirino, at the summer capital of Baguio, declared he believed the killers were simply bandits. Manila newspapers, however, suggested that it may have been a trap by communist-led Hukbalahaps intended to slaughter Quirino himself.

Troops Battle Quezon Slayers

Manila, April 29 (AP)—Hukbalahaps identified as the slayers of Mrs. Aurora Quezon and 11 others were engaged in a battle by Philippine soldiers and constabulary today.

Gen. Alberto Ramos, chief of the Philippine constabulary, said the battle had been under way since last night in the Sierra Madre mountains.

The communist led armed peasants were identified by Lt. Col. Angel Magallanes, Nueva Ecija provincial commander of the constabulary, as the slayers of the widow of the Philippines' first president. He said the Hukbalahaps were led by Col. Alejandro Viernes, a veteran ambusher. The Quezon party was ambushed while traveling in the Sierra Madre mountain area yesterday.

Progress of the battle was not known here because of the lack of communications. Constabulary and army soldiers were using cannon to pound the Huks.
