

Lebanon Water Main Nearing Completion

Lebanon—A 1300-foot water main of four-inch cast iron extending along Seventh street from Rose to Grant at an estimated cost of $4,400 is now nearing completion, according to K. P. Sims, manager for the Lebanon district of the Mountain States Power company.

This project is to improve the present water service to the west side residential area which is rapidly expanding.

The new line will replace an obsolete two-inch pipe and will increase the supply of water for consumers in new additions. Also installation of a new fire hydrant at Seventh and Grant will be made possible due to construction of this new main.

The job is being done locally under contract by H. Den-Herders' construction forces.

Weather Man Helps Start of Cleanup

Silverton—The weather man aided the first move of the Jaycees in their demonstration of their intention to start a clean slate for "clean-up" week in Silverton Saturday.

A drenching rain, cold at that, fell during the entire hour of the parade, wetting mops, brooms, rakes, paint brushes and other significant paraphernalia suggesting methods of neatening up the town.

Even the city garbage truck came in for a thorough wetting for the Cub Scouts riding in the carrier bed, enthusiastic for the work of cleaning.
