Drunken Driver Fined $250

Marvin E. Mattson, 940 Academy, was fined $250 and had his driver's license revoked for a year by police court Monday for driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Mattson was spotted by a police prowler after his auto smashed over a light standard on a safety island located on Silverton road at the intersection of Portland road. He was trailed and finally halted by police; then, he was brought to headquarters to face the charge.

Couldn't Swallow the Block

Little Martha Price, about 2 years old, who lives at 170 North 23rd street, got a playing block fast in her mouth Monday. The block was too big to swallow, also too big to get rid of immediately after it was in her mouth. First aid was called, but the block had been removed before aid arrived.

Assessments Scheduled

Assessments to be made against property owners along 7th street between Patterson and Wallace road are scheduled for consideration by the West Salem city council Monday night. Also due for discussion is the proposal to open 7th street west from Gerth to Rosemont or Piedmont as a second arterial through the city. Budget matters will also be studied.

Educators to Meet

Marion county educators of the Oregon Education association are meeting in the Salem senior high school library Thursday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock. Miss Carolyn Chen, a Chinese student at OSC, will speak on "Schools in China." Mrs. Carmalite I. Weddle, Salem, is president of the association.

Rotarians Hear Lewis

Johnny Lewis, baseball and basketball coach at Willamette university, spoke at the Woodburn Rotary club luncheon last week. Special guests were 11 members of the Woodburn high school basketball team, including Coach Marshall Barbour, LeRoy DeJardin, Eldon Erb and Dennis Miller, managers; Dean Seaton, Ralph Undstedt, Pat Huijs Joe Collins, Jack Kreiger, Dick Brown, Russell Baglien and Dale Yuranek.

Brooks, reported to Salem police that he lost a black Scotty dog on South Commercial street. He said the animal was wearing a harness with a license attached.

Car Looted—Claude Boyd

555 McNary street, West Salem, reported to police that his car was looted of tools and that gasoline was siphoned from his tank while the machine was parked in the Hollywood district. He valued the lost tools and gasoline at $23.

Train Hits Auto—George J.

Ditterick, 365 S. 16th street, hopped from his stalled auto Saturday night to avoid injury when it was struck by the Southern Pacific train in the 200 block on South 12th street. He told police he was attempting to turn into an alley by the Kay Woolen mill when the machine stalled on the track. He jumped to avoid injury when the train smashed into his car.

Related Quake Report

That a drain tile manufacturing machine of the Oregon Gravel company was thrown out of alignment and had to be tied up for repairs for two days as a result of the recent earthquake was reported Monday by L. R. Thomas, bookkeeper for the concern. The gears of the machine were thrown out of alignment at the moment of the quake.

Postal Receipts Increase

Receipts of the Salem post office for April were $62,867.94, reported Postmaster Albert C. Gragg Monday. This is an increase of $1,164.76 over the same month a year ago and reflects the growth of the community, in the opinion of the postmaster. The increase is particularly significant, Gragg points out, in that during April 1948, thousands of pieces of mail were distributed by the candidates for election in the primaries.

Lachelle Fur Fire

The possibility of arson was dismissed Monday by Salem fire department officials following an investigation into a blaze at the Lachelle Fur shop at 13th and Ferry street. The owner of the establishment discovered the fire and put it out with a garden hose, and then reported the possibility that the fire had been set. It was suspected that youths, smoking in the building, had accidentally touched it off.

Candy Machine Robbed

Juveniles were suspected Monday in a candy machine theft at the State theatre which was reported by Salem detectives. A machine was pried open and candy removed. The seats in the theatre had all been turned by the thieves who were apparently looking for coins which may have been dropped.

Chemeketas Hike

Five members of the Chemeketas, Salem outdoor organization, braved Sunday's rain and wind to make a scheduled hike of the Agate Beach country. The party was led by Miss Bessie Smith. The trip had been postponed from last February when flood waters made it virtually impossible to reach the coast. The Chemeketas council will hold a meeting Thursday evening. The next hike is scheduled for May 15. The objective at that time will be Nesmith Point, located at an elevation of 3878 feet above the Columbia river on the Oregon side. The expedition will be led by Melvin Becker.

Still Undecided

Miller B. Hayden, for many years district attorney for Marion county, but who during the legislative session handled affairs of the office of Senator Thomas Mahoney in Portland while Mahoney was engaged in the session here, said in Salem Monday he expects to decide in the next few weeks what he plans to do. Mrs. Hayden has just left for Chicago to attend the White Shrine of which she is a national officer and will be gone for two weeks and during her absence Hayden is handling their apartment here. Senator Mahoney has just returned from Mexico City. Hayden said after Mrs. Hayden's return he expects to make a decision as to his permanent plans for the future.

Ask Street Names

A petition of residents of Arnold's subdivision and the Hicks-Jones tracts north of the aluminum plant asks the county court to give names to certain streets in the area. Names asked for east and west streets are Bonneville avenue, Leo Seeburg and Bebee streets, and for North and Fourth streets, Arnold, Gary and Bating streets. The request has been submitted by the court to the postmaster for his confirmation and approval before final action is taken.

Arthur H. Moore, 75 Former Councilman Dies

Arthur H. Moore, veteran bicycle merchant, former member of the city council and member of the Salem civil service board from a time it was formed until last fall, died early Sunday night at a local hospital, following an illness of several months.

Moore, the last surviving child of F. A. Moore, state supreme court judge for 30 years, and Emma Moore, was born near Des Moines, Iowa, July 7, 1873, and at the age of four years came to Oregon. The family lived at St. Helens. He came to Salem from that town in 1898. In 1896 he was married to Elida Ryan, who died several years ago.

Before going into the bicycle business here Moore had charge of carpentering at the Oregon State hospital. He opened his first shop here in 1912, at 421 Court street, and after occupying a number of different locations in 1923 built the Moore apartments at 241 North High street.

The lower floor of the building was used as a bicycle store and there were also quarters for another store. In 1946 the shop was enlarged to twice its former size and room was made for an extensive stock of other sporting good, including equipment for hunting, fishing, boating and camping.

Moore in addition to serving on the city council and the civil service board, until ill health prevented his taking a part, was active in many civic affairs. He was a life member of both the Masonic and the Elks lodge and a member of the White Shrine and the Order of the Eastern Star.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Helen Bradley and Miss Ruth Moore, both of Salem, and several nieces and nephews.

Announcement of funeral services will be made later by the W. T. Rigdon chapel.

April Rainfall An Even Inch

An even inch of rainfall recorded at the U.S. bureau at McNary field for April brought the third driest April on record with only two other similar months giving Salem less than an inch of precipitation. The driest April on record was in 1911 with .59 inches followed by .64 inches in 1926. There were 3.85 inches last year.

Heaviest rainfall for the month was in 1894 when 10.13 inches fell, followed by 9.96 inches in 1916 and 9.04 inches in 1904. There were 8.42 inches in 1938 and an even eight inches in 1928.
