Reserve Makes Camp Plans

Though summer training for Salem's Marine Corps Reserve C Battery, 4th mm howitzer battalion, does not come until August 20-September 3, members of the unit are already making plans for the encampment.

Camp Joseph H. Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif., again this year is the site for the annual field training of the Salem unit commanded by Maj. Leonard Hicks. The unit is to be transported to Camp Pendleton by air with the planes piloted by marines from El Toro, Calif. The return trip from the camp will be by rail with the unit slated to leave the camp September 1 and arrive in Salem September 3.

The reserve unit will have two pay days while at camp and all members of the unit attending the camp will be equipped with full 782 equipment. They also will carry their individual weapons, carbine-M1 rifles.

As yet the training schedules has not been published, but all members of the unit will fire their basic weapons for record and the firing battery will undergo actual firing of the 195 mm howitzers.

It is expected that 90 percent of the unit will attend the camp and the unit is now prepared and authorized to enlist at least 30 new members prior to August 20 of this year. Both veterans and non-veterans interested in serving with the reserve unit can make application either at the U. S. Naval and Marine Corps Reserve Training Center on the Airport road or at the U. S. Marine Corps recruiting station in the post office building.

Court Reinstates Dr. Geo. H. Buck

Portland, May 4 (AP)—Circuit Judge Charles H. Combs, Lakeview, today ordered the reinstatement of Dr. George H. Buck, Portland, as a licensed physician and surgeon.

The state board of medical examiners had revoked his license in May, 1947, on a charge that he performed an abortion in 1943, the patient dying.

The judge ruled the board did not have the power of revocation because the charge was not filed within three years.

Girls Advised On 'Makeup'

Don't apply make up in the presence of the public or your employer, complete your hair combing before leaving home and wear full length stockings instead of bobby sox. These were a few of the suggestions made by Mrs. Marion L. Beck, who, as a representative of the Salem chapter of the National Secretaries association, spoke to senior girls of the Woodburn high school commercial class Monday night.

Mrs. Beck, secretary of Guy L. Hickok, manager of the Salem branch of the First National bank of Portland, give a number of hints to the girls which should prove valuable when the time comes to seek employment. She frowned on the fussy types of clothing and hair arrangement and stated that the girls should expect to give an honest day's work.

Employers, Mrs. Beck pointed out, are in the position where they can become much more critical of their employees than during the war when no questions were asked.

Many persons resent cigarette smoking on the part of persons who are waiting upon them and in this connection Mrs. Beck said many concerns restricted smoking to the period before and after working hours.

The Woodburn girls and their instructor, Miss Hopkins have been invited to inspect the facilities of the Salem bank some time in the near future.

Jaycees Hear Talk on Socialized Medicine

Dr. M. K. Crothers discovered by vote Tuesday at the Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce that a majority of the group believed some federal legislation would be passed on social medicine.

In general, the group was opposed to any federal legislation and specifically opposed to the measure sponsored by President Truman. The Jaycees were most favorable to a child health bill which has been proposed.

Dr. Crothers asked for a vote on different problems following a talk on socialized medicine. He pointed out that physicians were generally opposed to federal plans because the costs of service go up and the quality is forced downward.

The physician explained that doctors would be asked to give an unspecified amount of service for an indefinite period of time for a fixed fee, something that labor in general is opposed to.
