

Special Cancellation for Salem P. O. Is Approved

Postmaster Al Gragg has received assurance from the post-office department at Washington, D. C., that it will approve a special cancellation to be used on letters out of the Salem postoffice from October 15 to December 31, inclusive, to mark the centennial anniversary of the Salem postoffice which was established November 8, 1849.

Linn County Crops Survive Dry April

Albany—Albany had the driest April on record since 1939, but the first two days of May looked as though winter weather had called back. During the whole of last month only .67 inch of rainfall was recorded, but over the week-end Seth T. French, local U.S. weather observer, recorded a total of 1.09 inches.

No damage to Linn county crops has been reported so far. O. E. Mikesell, county extension agent, reported in speaking of the rain. Undoubtedly more good than harm was caused by the heavy precipitation.

Last month 12 clear days, 15 cloudy days and three partly cloudy days were recorded by the local observer. Maximum temperature for April was 79 degrees, recorded on April 14. The minimum temperature of 32 degrees was registered on the morning of April 3.

Cattfish Appear on No. Lincoln Beaches

While Salem fishermen were bemoaning the lack of success at the opening of the season Sunday, fish eaters of the coast were having all they wanted of cattfish which they "caught," of all places, at several points along the north Lincoln beaches. The cattfish apparently went astray from the fresh water at

The reading on the cancellation as suggested from the post office department will be:

100th Anniversary
PO Salem, Oregon
Est. Nov. 8, 1849

The special cancellation die is sponsored by the Salem Chamber of Commerce, Salem stamp society and local individuals who contribute to the expense of the die and for which it is understood the Chamber of Commerce will be glad to receive contributions from any interested. Already some such donations have come from the stamp society and individuals. The die is furnished through the post office department but its cost must be borne by sponsoring agencies in the community.

It is expected the cancellation will be sought by stamp collectors over the world as numerous philatelists specialize in this sort of thing. Postmaster Gragg said that arrangements will be made in due course for furnishing first and last day cancellations to those who desire them as well as on the special day, November 8, itself, which will mark the 100th anniversary of the postoffice. It is expected requests for that date will be particularly heavy.

Devils lake and started out to sea. However many of them were cast up on the beach with the fishermen sharing the unexpected catch with the gulls is not known.

Pioneer coast residents claim that this is the first time that they had seen cattfish, and thousands of them, tossed on the beach sands.
