Officers Named In AL Auxiliary

Stayton—The American Legion auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Chrystal Miller when election of officers for the coming year was held.

Following suggestions of the nominating committee and in the absence of nominations from the floor, officers were unanimously elected. Mrs. Norma Wells of Scio will be president; Mrs. Grace Keirsey, West Stayton, first vice president; Mrs. Beatrice Hiatt, Lyons, second vice president; Mrs. Betty Ward, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. June Ruggles, chaplain; Mrs. Thelma Biever, sergeant-at-arms.

Officers will be installed at the June meeting by Mrs. Gail Creason of Dallas, district president. Reports were given by Mrs. Keirsey and Mrs. Eva Humphreys on the district council held at Newberg recently, and by Mrs. Mabel Knight and Mrs. Nellie Jones on the county council at Woodburn a week ago Friday.

Initiation was held for Mrs. Rose Moullet, Mrs. Betty Ward and Mrs. Ila Hanson. Mrs. Katie Etzel, poppy chairman, reported on plans for the sale May 27 and 28, assigning hours to various members for selling the poppies on Stayton streets. The card party has been postponed until sometime in the fall.

There will be a special meeting in the kitchen of the Legion hall, Wednesday, May 18, to elect delegates for the state convention in Salem in June. The members joined the post at the hall after the meeting and refreshments were served by Mrs. Etzel and Mrs. Myrtle Pieser.

Jones-Wellman Rites Take Place at Mt. Angel

Mt. Angel—Light from cathedral tapers burning on the main altar of St. Mary's Catholic church, Mt. Angel, cast its glow on the wedding of Miss Rosella Wellman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wellman, of Silverton and Herbert Jones of Scotts Mills, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Jones, of Reydon, Oklahoma. The double ring ceremony was read on Saturday morning at 8:15 o'clock by the Rev. Hildebrand Melchior, OSB, who also officiated at the nuptial high mass. Johnny Bochsler and Richard Wellman, cousins of the bride, served as altar boys. Sprays of bridal wreath and greenery in bouquets and baskets decorated the altar and sanctuary.

Miss Helen Keber played the professional and recessional marches and accompanied Miss Elaine Hamering of Silverton, who sang before the services; Miss Pauline Saalfeld and Miss Eustelle Bauman who also sang; Bernard Smith of Woodburn, who sang following the services, and the St. Mary's choir singing during the mass.

Wearing traditional white satin the bride came down the aisle with her father who gave her in marriage. Her gown was designed with fitted bodice, long sleeves pointed at the wrist, lace yoke edged in two rows of French lace ruffles, self covered buttons centering the back and alternate rows of satin and French lace forming the front panel of the skirt that ended in a long train, all encircled with a ruffle of the same French lace. A wreath of orange blossoms held her fingertip veil of illusion, and she carried a white prayer book topped with an orchid and satin streamers, and a sterling rosary gifts of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Ray Mills, of Aumsville, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor wearing orchid taffeta. She carried a hoop of white carnations, pink sweet peas and Shasta daisies. Miss Elsie Jackson of Silverton was bridesmaid in a gown of lettuce green taffeta. Her hoop of flowers was in pink carnations, orchid sweet peas, and Shasta daisies. Their floor-length gowns were fashioned identically, with fitted bodice, square neck-line, boleros with cap sleeves, and gored skirts with unpressed pleats in the back. Both attendants wore headdresses of matching taffeta, and mitts.

Raymond Wellman, brother of the bride, was best man; and Harold Wellman, a cousin was the groomsman. Ushers were cousins, James Wellman and James Hoffer. Mrs. Wellman was dressed in a peacock afternoon dress, and black and white accessories, for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. R. B. Jones, who came here for her son's wedding, was dressed in a navy blue afternoon dress with which she wore white accessories. Each wore a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Following the ceremony breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents for the officiating clergy, the wedding party and the immediate relatives. Pink, orchid, and white flowers decorated the bridal table. Serving were Mrs. Forest Sauvain of Woodburn, Miss Jeannette Hoffer, Mrs. F. Flannigan. A large reception was held at the St. Mary's dining hall in Mt. Angel during the afternoon. Mrs. Forest Sauvain, aunt and god-mother of the bride, cut the wedding cake. Passing the guest book was Mrs. Harold Wellman, and Miss Jeannette Hoffer and Miss Georgetta Hortsch, of Portland, cousins, were in charge of the gift table. Serving the guests and pouring were Mrs. Jack Travis, Miss Elaine Purdy, Miss Jeannette Bentz, Miss Anna Louise Plas, and Mrs. C. Clang of Molalla.

Coming from the U. S. naval base at Tacoma, Wn., for his brother's wedding were Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Jones. For going away the bride chose a green dress, green shoes and white accessories with which she wore her orchid corsage. The couple left the same day on a wedding trip into Canada. On their return they will make their home at Crooked Finger.

THE SIGMA KAPPA mothers' meeting is not Wednesday of this week, but Wednesday, May 18, a no-host luncheon to be at the Golden Pheasant.

Mothers' Boards Meet at Breakfast

A number of Salem women attended the annual breakfast given Sunday morning for the outgoing and incoming boards of the University of Oregon Mothers' clubs. This year's event was in the mirror room at the Eugene hotel, Mrs. George H. Swift of Salem presiding as the new state president.

Others from here attending were Mrs. Robert M. Fitzmaurice, corresponding secretary; Mrs. George Alexander, director; Mrs. Grant Fallin, president of the Salem unit of the mothers; Mrs. Walter Kirk, outgoing director.

About 30 attended the gathering. Special guests were Dr. Harry K. Newburn, university president, and Mrs. Newburn; Dr. Burt Brown Barker, university vice president, and Mrs. Barker; Mrs. Golda Wickham, dean of women; Dean Karl W. Onthank of the university personnel division; and Ernest Haycox, president of the Oregon Dads club who extended greetings.

SPEAKER for the meeting of the Soroptimist club Wednesday noon at the Golden Pheasant will be Mrs. B. Koh, who is to talk on Korea.

the lovely Toad wears a Jewel in his Head

Just in case there are those who still think fine jewels are expensive to own, difficult to buy; let us remind you that even the legendary toad wore a jeweled tiara! We, at ALEXANDER'S, don't make a practice of toadying to toads . . . but we do insist that jewelry, as the wise investment that it is, be made easy to own.

For that reason we take special pride in making it easy for anyone to purchase a beautiful ring . . . a fine watch . . . gleaming silver. You need not sacrifice to own the finest. You are assured of that at
