Hurling Highlights PCL; Bevos Nosed in Overtime

Wednesday night in the Pacific Coast league saw excellent pitching—Sacramento's Bob Gillespie pitched a two hitter but lost and Seattle's Guy Fletcher got his sixth straight win on a three-hitter.

The night also had some fancy slugging—Los Angeles and San Diego hit nine home runs between them. The mark was just two shy of the PCL record of 11 set 26 years ago to the day by Vernon and Salt Lake City.

There also was a 12-inning ball game in which the league-leading Hollywood Stars edged the lowly Portland Beavers 8 to 6.

Dino Restelli bunted Jack Tobin home from third base in the eighth to give San Francisco a 1 to 0 win despite Gillespie's excellent mound job. One of the hits off the Sacramento hurler advanced Tobin to third. Seattle also won over Oakland by 1 to 0. One unearned run in the eighth was all Fletcher needed to hang up his latest win. The Rainiers' ace had to hurl that kind of a game to win as the Oaks' Lloyd Hittle only gave up four hits.

At Los Angeles, it looked like the boys were out to break the home run record as all nine of the blows came in the first five innings.

Portland jumped to a first inning three run lead over the Stars and then Leo Thomas honored for the Beavers to deadlock the game in the ninth 6-6. The Stars opened the twelfth on Frank Kelleher's infield single. A bad throw got another Star on base. A single and a long fly fall then sent the winning runs home.
