To widen Road—County Commissioner Ed Rogers stated Friday that order has been given to start work early next week on the widening of Cummings lane in the Keizer area which runs west from where it intersects the north river road about opposite to where Cherry avenue comes in on that road. The decision to widen the street was made about two years ago but has been delayed for one reason or another. The road is now 16-foot wide but a right of way 40 feet wide has been granted and the actual roadway will probably be widened to about 20 feet. Portland General Electric company has been directed to remove four power poles which are now in the right of way and would interfere with the work.

Stamp Collectors Meet—Stamp collectors from a number of Willamette Valley communities as far south as Eugene will be in Salem Sunday afternoon for a program of discussion, swaps and sales. It is expected fully 100 philatelists will be in attendance.

Koo Plays Flute—Dr. T. Z. Koo, Chinese member of the international staff of the YMCA, captivated several hundred pupils with his personality and his discourse during a Salem high school assembly Friday forenoon. He opened the program with two or three typical Chinese numbers on a bamboo flute which he said "probably cost as much as 10 cents." Following his appearance in the auditorium Dr. Koo discussed international relationships with Miss Mary E. Eyre's class in social studies. Dr. Koo will appear on a public forum discussion in the auditorium of Willamette university's music hall Friday night.

Budget Committee Named—During a meeting of agency heads of the Salem Community chest, six persons were selected to represent the group in connection with discussions concerning the next budget. Those selected were Mrs. Geo. Alling, Lester Barr, Roy Harland, Al Loucks, Leo Page and Ed Schreder. The chest board will name five additional budget committee members and from the entire group a chairman will be named.

County Plans to Inspect Streets

The county court Friday discussed a plan for hereafter assigning one of its road crew as a foreman to make daily inspection on work done improving dedicated or public streets which are slated to become county roads in event they are brought up to the specifications required. The county has a considerable list of such specifications including among them a standard base and oil surfacing. The fact that one such street accepted last year went to pieces during the winter brought up the question of closer and continued on-the-spot inspection. Definite action was not taken on the plan but discussion indicated a favorable tenor.

Request of R. W. Morse for information as to what steps would have to be taken and what specifications compiled with to secure a county road 400 feet long running south off Salem Heights avenue met with decision of the court not to approve such proposed street. The roadway at present is not even dedicated to the public, could never be anything but a dead-end street as at one end is a bluff which would bar further extension and was considered not of the type to meet the qualifications required.

Embezzlement Charged—Amoyt F. Aymon, 40, former clerk at the Salem branch of the First National bank of Portland, is under arrest in Portland on a charge of embezzlement of around $400 several months ago. He has been released on his own recognizance by Federal Judge James A. Fee and trial date has not been set. According to Guy Hickok, manager of the Salem bank, full restitution has been made.

Hofstetter Is Dairy Chairman

Hans Hofstetter, Curly's Dairy, Salem, has been appointed June dairy month committee chairman for the Marion county area, according to an announcement made by Lyle Ham-mack, state chairman for June dairy month.

"Dairy Foods Always Your Best Buy" is the slogan for dairy month this year. The nation pays tribute to the dairy industry during the month of June, and dairy products will be featured in restaurants and stores all over the country.

"I call on all local dairymen and dairy plants to support their chairman in this important campaign," declared Lyle Ham-mack, "The dairy industry, nationally as well as locally, is resolved to make this, the 13th annual June dairy month campaign, one of the most successful of all."

"This program is not only planned to promote and sell dairy products, which are so important to the health of the nation, but to economic consumers with the economic contribution made by this industry, the largest of all agricultural industries."

Dairy month state headquarters are at the offices of the Oregon Dairy Council in Portland.

Marian Fischer Heads Zontas

New officers were chosen at the meeting of the Salem Zonta club Thursday evening when the group met at the home of Mrs. W. L. Allen. Following are the officers for the club, a classified membership service organization: Mrs. Marian Lowry Fischer, Capital Journal society editor, president, succeeding Mrs. Gladys Bacon of the Allen Fruit company; Mrs. May R. Smith, first vice president; Mrs. Frank Burke, second vice president; Mrs. Gordon O. Leonard, secretary; Mrs. Eleanor Clearwater, treasurer. Others on the board with the officers are Mrs. Karl Becke, Mrs. R. W. Land, Miss Dorothy Cornelius, Miss Dorothy Pearce.

Preceding the election by the board members, the club had chosen Mrs. Burke, Mrs. Clearwater, Mrs. Smith and Miss Pearce as new directors; the other five being hold-overs.

Two new members were welcomed, Mrs. Robert McEwan and Mrs. Paul Rockenfeller. Mrs. Earl Rohland was a visitor at the meeting.

Installation is planned in June as a dinner meeting at Silver Creek Falls lodge.

Rivers Rise

Heavy equipment and 160 men dispatched by the corps of army engineers at Seattle were expected here to help in the emergency work.

Dikes around the town will be raised to the 37-foot level, almost two feet above the peak of last year's flood.

The flood picture in the rest of the Northwest was dangerous in certain localities but gave no indication of a major Columbia river flood.

Clearwater Rising
In north central Idaho, the Clearwater river sliced through a low earthenwork and flooded a recreation park at Orofino, Idaho. The river was rising but well below the 1948 peak. A water edge warehouse was flooded by the Snake river at Lewiston, Idaho.

Several farm homes in Oregon were threatened when Catherine creek broke through its barriers. Volunteer workers filled sandbags to protect the homes. No serious damage was expected at the town of Union, Ore., below the break where floodwater caused $500,000 in damage last year.

The Columbia river rose steadily at Vancouver, Wash., but no major damage was expected. River observers revised their prediction of an 18-foot crest and said the level might reach 20.9 feet by Monday.

Northern Washington's Twisp river swelled out of its banks into lowlands and bridges were closed as precautionary measures on other rising rivers in the state.

Entertainment Dated For Hospital Patients

Anticipation is keen among the patients at Oregon State hospital looking toward the talent show to be put on by Willamette university Friday afternoon in the auditorium at the hospital. A variety of numbers will be given and the event will be at 2 p.m.

Another program arranged for is one to be given on May 15 by the Czech Jolly Dancers of Scio when this group will put on the Besada, the Czech national dance, in costume. Aray Podrobsky is president of the dancers. Eddie Holec, vice president, Laddie Pesek, secretary and Jerry Falus, treasurer.

These programs have been arranged for the patients' benefit by Mabel E. Hayles and William Reder of the recreational department at the hospital.

Varsity Students to Pick Prize Winner

Willamette university students who will receive the Albert and Colonel Willis prizes during next June's commencement exercises will be selected by a vote Tuesday. The balloting will take place during the regular chapel program.

Selected by the faculty for consideration in connection with the Albert prize are Bill Harris of Seattle, George Hurt of Warrenton, Ore., and Bob Sayre of Beaverton.

Mary Lois Cotton, Canby; Ari Dimond, Portland and Betty May Jackson, McMinnville, are faculty nominees for the Colonel Willis prize.

Fire Practically Destroys the roof and attic of a two-story residence at 375 Fairview avenue during mid-morning Friday. The place is owned by Nick Casper and occupied by the Phil Thompson family. It was one of two serious Friday the 13th fires south of the city. The other gutted the William K. Meyers home on Liberty road.

Plead Guilty To Forgeries

Mrs. Nellie E. Axberg, housewife residing on route 4, who had admitted to city detectives that she had forged about 20 checks over the past month aggregating $300, pleaded guilty before Judge George R. Duncan Friday to obtaining property by false pretenses on one of the checks and the court ordered a pre-sentence investigation by the parole board. The woman, said city detectives, took her young daughter along when she wrote the checks and they followed her witnessing the passing of several of the phony pieces of paper.

Mike Pfeiffer also pleaded guilty to forgery and the court continued imposition of sentence to 9 o'clock next Tuesday morning.

He is said to have forged three checks for $29.50 each.

Robert Merrill Wells who pleaded guilty to contributing to the delinquency of a minor was ordered sent to the state hospital for 30 days for observation.

Henry Durig under a plea of guilty to a non support charge was accorded a suspended sentence but placed on probation for three years under direction of the state parole board. He is to pay $35 by Monday to apply on support of his family, a wife and three children, and to continue supporting them thereafter.

West Salem Expects To Go on Fast Time

Mayor Walter Musgrave said today he believed West Salem will go on daylight saving time Monday when its sister city of Salem across the Willamette river does likewise. He called a city council special session for Friday night to discuss a switch to fast time.

Meanwhile, the Salem post office announced it would follow the capital city and operate on daylight effective Monday. Several Willamette valley cities have decided to join Portland and Salem on daylight time.

Rugged Individuals Reside at Stayton

Stayton, May 13 — Stayton will stay on Pacific standard time, it was announced by Mayor Clifford J. Likes Thursday, following a caucus of the city council, which voted to concur with state and county officers.

Since Portland went on daylight saving time, a number of communities in the state have followed suit.

Among the Salem folk who will have a part in the program are Gus Moore, general secretary, YMCA; Mrs. Esther Little of the YWCA; Mrs. Edna Bag-nall and Margaret Emmons, Camp Fire Girls; Roth Holtz, boys work secretary of the YMCA and Mrs. Dorothy Barlow, in charge of district girls camping for the YMCA.
