Peddler of Dreams

By PEGGY DERN

with."
She spoke as though the matter was all settled, and the arrival of the butler, accompanied by two footmen carrying a huge tea-hamper and various thermos juga, created a diversion.

The butler served the luncheon with all the dignity and formality that he would have exhibited in the most formal drawing room, to the wide-eyed interest of the children, who clustered about watching him, so entranced that they were scarcely aware of the delectable food.

Susan suddenly put down her plate and put out a hand to Tippy drawing her close.

plate and put our a man of drawing her close.

"Tippy, howd you like to come and live with baby and me?" she coaxed. "And be my little gri?"

"You mean — live here with you in that beautiful house?" she stammered.

"Of course — here and abroad and—oh, wherever I go. Would you like it?" demanded Susan eagerly. It was Denny who answered Denny who cried sharply, "Hey, ahe can't do that. She belongs to "te."

she can't do that. She belongs to us."

Susan said lightly, extending her other hand. "Oh, you're coming too, Denny, Didn't I tell you? I'm going to adopt Tippy and you."

Tippy looked at the tea table, she half-eaten cake in her hand; ap the dunes to the lovely white villa with its luxury and beauty of which she had caught a glimpae a few days before.

"And have food like this all the time?" she suggested cannily. Susan laughed. "Of course, angel. And lots of lovely frocks and beautiful dollies and nice half-rib-bons."

ons—"Tid likt it a lot, said Tippy.
Cornella, who apoke so seldom and was so shy and retiring that seople often forgot her entirely, and in a low, shocked voice, "Why obpersty Horne! Aren't you advanted. To turn against your own flesh and blood!"
Ellen crept into Felicity's arms and from that beloved shelter looked at Tippy as though she had at Tippy as though she had at Tippy as though she had at remphanity. "You see, Felicity? You see Felicity? You see." Susan crowed trimphanity. "You see, Felicity? You sen't stand in her way. I can do much for her. I'll take such or much for her much f

Chapter 14

"But, Garry — be sensible! Denny would break his heart!"
"I'll take Denny, too. After all twins ought to be a lot of fun And the baby adores Tippy and will easily get accustomed to Denny," said Susan eagerly.

Pelleity was distressed, bewildered. It had all come so suddenly, so without a moment of preparation. And she had an uneasy conviction that it was, on Susan's part, merely a momentary whim that she'd fegret in her next breath.

"Well we don't have to decide this very minute, do we?" protested Chalmers good-naturedly, his eyes on Felicity's white face. "was under the impression that this was a plenie. Why is everybody so gerious?"

"But I am serious, Chal. I do "man to adopt Tippy. She's a darling—so pretty—li would be fun to dreas her up and show her off—cried Susan.

"Which would be the very worst thing that could possibly happen to Tippy," said Felicity. "She's a darleady well aware of her beauty and has an extremely exaggerate didea of her own importance."

Susan looked at her sharply. "But and said sweetly. "I'll said elearly. "Garrett said under his breath to Felicity," Don't look so tragic, darling, and the suitant of the builder accompanied by two somebody terriby exclime to life by chologist as a governess and that he is taught to express herself you'll see. Tippy is going to be is somebody terriby exclime to life with."

She spoke as though the matter was all settled, and the arrival of the builder, accompanied by two

(To be continued)

H

L

E

U

n't stand in her way. I can do much for her. I'll take such and care of her."

"But—but her father will have decide," protested Felicity unsedily. "Til write to him."

Chalmers said quietly, "Far be from me, my angel, to offer e slightest hindrance to your little hims and fancles—but why not six have Tippy visit you and the six have Tippy visit you and the six here signed with the simplicity that su decide anything definite? Alt. Tippy may change her mind."

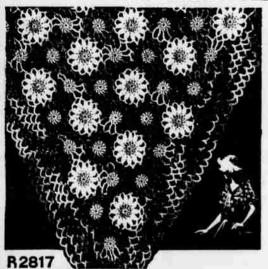

"And," said Garrett firmly, eye.

"And," said Garrett firmly, eye.

"And," said Garrett firmly, eye.

"Tippy with a curious look, "it's look for your copy, price just panner yours. Tip's a handful."

Street, San Francisco 5, Calif.

m!

tastes good wherever vou are

PATTERN No. R2817

Flower Searf — This enchanting stole is easily and quickly crocheted by polining delicately colored minia-ture dataies. Use threads in differ-ent colors for a most delightful ef-fect. Perfect to wear with past-summer frocks or fascinator-fash-ion on windy evenings.

Pattern Envelope No. R-2817 contains complete crocheting instructions, stitch illustrations and material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 20cm COINS, giving pattern number your name, address and zone number to Peggy Roberts Capital Journa, 828 Mission Street San Francisco 3, Calif

BUT HOW DO YOU EVER

YOU JUST TIE

DIAL LISTINGS: KEX, 1190; KOAC, 550

RADIO PROGRAMS

THURSDAY--P.M. KSLM HE KGW KOCO KOCO KOIN

> News George Moorad String Serenade String Serenade Musical Cockialis Elmer Peterson

Sleepy Joe Rhythm Ranch flins Crosky Sport Page Candle Light and Sliver News Eyes on Champs

Bandstand

Newscast Rurgandy Room Burgandy Room

KOCO Klock

Coffee Cup Northwest Rep Rhapsody in Bhythm

Ted Date Presents

Off the Shelf Off the Shelf Records Off the Shelf

Wendy Warren Aunt Jenny Helen Trent Our Gal Sunda

PEX Thursday P.M. — 3:08, Suuirel
Care: 5:30, Sky Kniz: 6:00, Keepine Up With Sports: 6:15, Home Edition:
8:20, Green Harnett 7:00, Musel Festival:
7:20, Jo Stafford: 8:00, Counterapy; 8:20,
Bling Coreby: 3:00, Milian Berle: 8:20,
Damod Runyon Theatre: 10:00, Eichfield
Damod Runyon Theatre: 10:00, Eichfield
cert: Hour; 11:30, Memos to Tomorrow;
12:00, Xira Hour: 10:00, Sign Off.

NEW Priday A.M.—6:00, Early Bird; Sids, Farm News; 7:00, Lawson McCall; 7:15, Time Tempes; 7:100, Robert's Almnase; 7:13, Robert's Ramase; 7:13, Robert's Realizat Club: 10:00, Milldred Redelli 10:15, Stars of Today; 10:20, Kar Kyser's Reliese; 11:100, Ted Malone; 11:15, Galen Drake; 11:100, Ted Malone; 11:15, Galen Drake; 11:100, Robert Ramase; 11:100, Robert Ramas

ACROSS

s. Away
12. Feminine
name
13. Ancient Troy
14. Electrified
particle
15. Scotch purse
17. Open place in a forest
18. Amerous
glance
20. Genuine
21. Taxes

Taxes Ancient Greek Ancient Greek
Judge
Teller's office 48. Fit
Purposive
Alternative 48. Ep

LET'S HURRY BAY

MOON NG UP

Christenson) of Salem, came to case of mumps.

KOAC Friday a.m. to 4:45 p.m.—
10:00, The News; 10:15, Repecially for Women; 11:00, The Cencert
Hall; 17:00, News; 17:15, Neon Farm
ticur; 1:00, Ride cen Cowboy; 11:15,
Variety; 1:80, Melody Lane; 2:00, Club-

erners: 1:30. Kay West; 2:00. Breakfast in Hollywood: 2:30. Talk Your Way Out of Its 3:00. Surprise Packace: 3:20. Bride and Graom: 4:00. Welcome Travelers; 4:30. Art Linkletter.

Silverton-Pamela Lindholm, with the George Christens, and ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and the John Merrifields, her grand-Mrs. Elmo Lindholm (Ellen parents, and woke up with a

Crossword Puzzle

4. Covers with

20. Forward by short intervals Artificial waters
21. King of 1
24. Drench
25. Ringlet
17. Lukewarm
0. Hide
L. Turns saide
Read metricellet single state of the state of the sun of the

By Gene Ahern ROOM AND BOARD

U

0

T

