Legion Sets Up Convention Quarters in Senator Hotel

With the opening of headquarters for the American Legion state convention in the Senator hotel building, preparations are going ahead rapidly for arrangements preliminary to the annual meeting held August 3 to 6.

Elimination of all unauthorized solicitations is one of the early endeavors of the convention committee, headed by John C. Kerrick, general chairman. This week-end letters are being sent to the merchants of the city asking them for cooperation.

Only two solicitations have been authorized today, General Chairman Kerrick states. Eric Bergman and Wallace Southard are the accredited committee for advertising, primarily for publication in the official convention program. A second committee, for decorating, has not yet been named. Each solicitor will carry a letter of authorization signed by Onas S. Olson, executive secretary of the commission, and cooperation with these authorized representations is sought by the three American Legion posts of the city.

The convention commission estimates that more than 5000 convention visitors will attend the session and a spectacular program is being mapped out.

Convention offices in the Senator hotel are open daily from 1 to 5 o'clock where any information pertaining to the convention may be obtained.

Call Heard for Outside Help

The Oregon State Employment Service reported today that the start of the strawberry harvest and pick-up of other farm activities all over the state have resulted in increased demands for outside help from many of its offices.

Cabins in farm labor camps are available at Dayton, Hillsboro, Salem and Ontario. But the employment service cautioned that workers should be ready to furnish their own bedding, utensils and dishes in all areas.

Most northwest Oregon areas will need berry pickers before the end of next week, the employment service said. Ontario's farm labor shortage has increased to 300 workers. Both single men and family groups can be used in eastern Oregon beet fields.

Berry picking got off to a fast start in the Lebanon area this week, but so far no shortage of workers has been reported there. Both Portland and Salem offices of the employment service expected to need 1000 or more outside pickers by the end of the week. McMinnville and Oregon City also looked for early shortages. By June 1 the berry harvest should be in full swing.

Several eastern Oregon areas also may need help in gathering berries and early fruit crops, but the principal demand from this section is expected to come about June 10 when the pea harvest gets under way. Mostly single men are needed and the season will last well into July. Free-water, Pendleton and Ontario are the main centers for peas.

The employment service suggested that prospective workers, before moving, should check with the nearest of its 26 local officers for latest information on crops, housing, prices and labor demand.

The Pay-Off in Lighting
By Paul Yeater

BETTER LIGHTING in the home, store or shop cannot be considered only as a utility. It creates an atmosphere which lends itself to better health, more alertness and more efficient work. Psychologists have proven that 87% of our impressions reach us thru the eyes and that 21% of the energy spent by the average human body is used in seeing. Poor lights, faulty distribution of shadows overtax the eyes, causing headaches, tired feeling and also affects the nervous system. Do you work in the SHADOWS? SEE THE LIGHT! Provide adequate lighting for your employees. We compute the correct number of Lumens required for lighting various sizes of rooms and different types of businesses.

The Sand Lots of America

Baseball has been a healthy and wholesome influence in the lives of American youth. It has taught them the lessons of fair play and obedience to rules in all human relations. Like other clean sports, it has furnished an outlet for youthful energies and enthusiasm.

The delinquency in America today is traceable to idle time spent in street-loafing and back-alley sessions with questionable associates rather than in healthy, constructive activities.

In contrast, it has been said that the character and stamina shown by American boys on the battlefields of the world was built up on the sand lots of this country in clean and invigorating sports.

Only a nation founded on the concepts of Christianity can produce this fair-minded and honest sportsmanship. Only by upholding such standards as the Golden Rule can we expect our youth to engage in constructive spare-time activities.

Thus we find that religion is the true answer to delinquency. So that Christian teachings may become a greater part of our national life, we must bring our youth into the Church where they will learn to live and play by the Golden Rule.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
