Development Of Brazil Sought

Washington, May 21 (AP)—President Truman and Brazilian President Eurico Gaspar Dutra today ordered their governments to negotiate a treaty for stimulating private U.S. investment in Brazil.

In a joint statement, they said that during Dutra's visit here they have had discussions about "fostering economic development and social progress" of both nations by exchanging industrial know-how "as well as through financial and economic cooperation."

"These conversations," they said, "have been inspired by the traditional and unflinching friendship which has prevailed for more than a century in the relations between the two countries."

The proposed treaty apparently would be in line with Mr. Truman's long-range program outlined in his inaugural address last January of helping underdeveloped nations by giving them the advantage of U.S. technological knowledge.

The statement said that President Truman assured Dutra that the United States "is now" and will continue to be most interested in the further development of his country.

During the course of the talks, it said, Dutra told Mr. Truman about "the need of foreign private investment in Brazil."

The two presidents recognized the important role of private investment in economic development and social progress," the statement said. "Accordingly, they have instructed technical experts of their respective governments to commence immediately the negotiation of an appropriate treaty that would stimulate the mutually beneficial flow of private investment."

Recall Talk for State Officials

Corvallis, May 21 (AP)—The possibility of a recall move against Secretary of State Earl T. Newby and State Treasurer Walter Pearson was brought up here today.

Hector MacPhearson, four-time state representative in the legislature and former Oregon State college professor of political science, said he had been discussing the situation with political leaders.

MacPhearson added, however, that he has not yet decided whether or not to sponsor a recall move.

The suggestion followed a sharp split in the republican party over this week's tax commission shake-up.

Newby and Pearson, out-going Governor Douglas McKay on the state board of control, appointed Ray Smith, Portland, and Robert MacClean, Waldport, to the state tax commission.

The appointments left two veteran commissioners — Earl Fisher and Wallace Wharton — out of a job, and gave rise to protests that the new appointees were completely inexperienced in tax matters.

Early Saturday afternoon, Bill Bevens and Bill Mulligan of the Portland baseball club had not reached an agreement over the proposal to add the former New York Yankee moundsman to either the Beaver or Salem Senator staff.

Bevens and George Emigh, business manager of the Senators had a conference scheduled for late afternoon and there was a possibility something might come out of it. It is understood salary negotiations have been fairly successful. The sticking point is the matter of a bonus sought by Bevens.

The former Yankee reports his ailing arm is much improved. Spokane is reported interested in him.

Albany, May 21 (AP)—George "Junior" Simons, Albany high school's three-sport standout, will be no prize for a college coach.

But that's only because Simons does not intend to go to college.

The tall, 18-year-old right-hander, who broke the state broad-jump record and pitched a no-hit, no-run game in the same day, is heading for professional baseball.

Scouts were on hand last year when he struck out 32 men in a 19-inning struggle to defeat Salem, 2-1. And Coach Rex Hunsicker said they watched him hurl three other no-hit games.

Simons is a senior. He will pitch for Albany in the state high school baseball tournament at Portland next week. Then he will go to professional baseball.

Southern Baptists To Invade North

Oklahoma City, May 21 (AP)—The Southern Baptist convention today declared its right to welcome churches from any part of the United States — or the world, for that matter — so long as they can conform to New Testament Baptist principles.

The action came amid a chain of events, which some asserted and others denied, presages widespread expansion of the Southern Baptist organization into territory now dominated by the Northern Baptist convention.

The Baptists in their final business session unanimously adopted a committee report by Dr. T. C. Gardner, Dallas, Tex., chairman of a group studying common problems with Northern Baptists the past year.

The Gardner report reaffirmed the Southern Baptist stand against any compact of agreement with the Northern Baptists or any other organization "which does not practice New Testament Baptist principles."

S. P. Franchises Up on Monday

Three ordinance bills for renewal of Southern Pacific street franchises in Salem will be introduced at the city council meeting Monday night.

One of the bills would renew the grant on Union street. It will probably grant a renewal for one year only. Because of the agitation for removal of the tracks from Union the permits for operation are preferred by the city on a year-to-year basis.

Another bill will be for renewal of a spur franchise on Front street to serve the Hunt cannery, and another a spur on the same street to serve the lumber operations of Oregon Pulp & Paper company.

The two latter provide, as the bills are drawn, for 10-year franchises, but the council may amend if it desires.

A resolution will be introduced calling on the planning and zoning commission to hold a public hearing the night of June 7 on the zone classification of the Kingwood water district annexation.

Ordinance bills will be introduced changing from Class II residential to Class III-X Lots 6 and 7 of Block 3, Capitol Street addition, where a Dairy Queen store is proposed; and from Class II residential to Class III business Lots 4, 5, and 6 of West Park annex.

South Salemites Criticizes C of C

The South Salem Progress club, meeting Friday night, criticized the Salem Chamber of Commerce for taking sides on the question of one-way streets without a vote of its entire membership.

The meeting condemned both one-way streets and daylight saving time "and those who forced them upon us."

It applauded Aldermen Tom Armstrong and David O'Hara for "their honest representation of the people at the last city council meeting."

The Chamber of Commerce did not act on the Baldock plan except that the board of directors called for a report and recommendation from the long-range planning commission. The commission approved the plan in its various parts. Its vote on the two bridge part of the plan was by ballot and was 8 to 6 in favor of the plan.

The chamber did not act on the daylight saving question.

Sanitary Campaign Reports Progress

Portland, May 21 (AP)—Milwaukie, Beaverton, Canby and Oakland are joining in the state sanitary authority's campaign to clean up Oregon rivers.

Their plans for sewage disposal systems were approved yesterday by the sanitary authority.

The largest is Milwaukie's, designed for 7,500 to 10,000 persons, and estimated to cost $190,000. A bond issue will finance it.

Beaverton already has issued $225,000 in bonds, and will open bids June 1 for its system.

Canby's has an estimated cost of $116,200 for sewers and $39,000 for the plant. Oakland's is to serve 1,000. The estimated cost is 106,000.

This made 13 cities that have submitted such plans in the last eight months.

Transients Held as Stolen Goods Suspects

Two transients were held by Salem police under a ten-day jail term for vagrancy while an investigation continued to probe the possibility they were shoplifters.

They were Percival A. Farrow and Ulize Sizemore.

Several reports of their activities were received by police, who finally arrested them near a downtown tavern. Both men were seen going from place to place in the business district with clothing hidden under raincoats.

A detective's report of Farrow's arrest pointed out that he may have hidden stolen goods in a car which was later moved when he saw police closing in.

Farrow had left several pairs of gloves with a waitress.

Says Found Lost Watch in Salem

Salem police were puzzled Saturday by a letter from a woman in Ione, Ore., who identified herself as Mrs. Ray Barnett.

She had directed her letter to the "lost and found" department and explained she had found a watch on the streets of Salem in March. She described it as a lady's wrist watch, and said it was still running when she picked it up.

"I would be glad to return the watch to its rightful owner," the letter said, "if such a person could describe it and tell the approximate time it was lost."

To End Milk Control

Portland, Ore., May 21 (AP)—The Portland City club milk control committee has recommended the abolishment of state control of milk prices. It suggested the transfer of controls to the U. S. department of agriculture under a price formula system.

Lee's Tombstone Found on Campus

A tombstone some five feet long, 30 inches wide and two inches thick, presumably from the grave of Jason Lee or from the Jason Lee plot in the cemetery that bears his name, found its way to Willamette university campus Saturday in a mysterious manner. Through the efforts of Robert Fenix, financial vice president, and four men it was loaded onto a truck and placed in safe keeping until it can be returned. It weighs about 400 pounds.

The stone was found leaning against a tree on the campus undamaged.

Dr. G. Herbert Smith, president of the university, does not believe it is the work of students. "I do not believe we have anybody on the campus that would do such a thing," he commented. The campus was virtually deserted Friday night and Saturday because of annual week-end class journeys to the coast.

Garden Clubs to Dedicate Redwoods

Portland, Ore., May 21 (AP)—The national council of state garden clubs is scheduled to dedicate a 40-acre grove of giant Redwoods in northern California today as its 20th anniversary gift to the nation.

Delegates of the council, en route here for their annual convention, plan to stop in Humboldt county for the dedication ceremonies. Council President Mrs. Lewis M. Hull will make the presentation.

The California branch of the council also is scheduled to present a similar grove as California's centennial gift to the nation. Governor Earl Warren of California is expected to be on hand for the affair.

The national council's four-day convention starts here tomorrow.
