Hetty Kreikenbaum With State 30 Years

Hetty Kreikenbaum of the state industrial accident commission was honored by the commissioners and her fellow employees Thursday on the completion of 30 years of continuous service with the commission. She began her employment with the department as a stenographer on May 19, 1919.

Paul E. Gurske, chairman of the commission, presented her with a gift on behalf of the commission and the employees. He complimented her on her faithful service and outstanding work record which he expressed as being a wonderful example for the younger employees, declaring that state service does hold a future for ambitious and energetic workers.

One of the first to congratulate her was L. R. White, supervisor of the firm division and president of the State Employees association, who holds the distinguished record of almost 35 years of continuous service with the commission. His initial employment dates back to the inception of the accident commission in 1914.

The accident commission will similarly honor three more such employees in 1950 who, at that time, will have completed their 30 years of continuous service.

Idanha Will Retain Mobile Chest Unit

Detroit — Mrs. Ray Johnson president of the Detroit Women's club called a meeting of the committee in charge of arrangements for the X-ray chest unit.

After some discussion it was decided to keep the mobile unit in Idanha near the Lloyd Grand store instead of moving it to Detroit. It was felt that the hour wasted in moving the unit might prohibit some from the use of the X-ray. The time decided upon from 1 to 9 p. m. on June 13.

Those in attendance were Mrs.

Lebanon Logging Firms Liquidated

Lebanon—The Lebanon Lumber and the Lebanon Logging companies have been liquidated, C. Huston Walter announces.

Walter, manager of the operations and an officer in the company, said the mill could not reopen unless old, worn-out machinery was replaced, and that the supply of timber was so inadequate that the large new capital investment was not justified.

The remaining timber has been sold to the McPherson Lumber company, and is in sufficient quantity to keep this mill operating for many years, Walter said. The timber tracts are located by the Cascadia ranger station on the south Santiam highway.
