King's Choralaire Choir Sings Here

The King's Choralaire choir of the Salem College and Academy will be heard in concert Thursday, May 26, 8 p.m., at the Court Street Christian church, according to an announcement by W. H. Lyman, minister.

The 40-voice teen-age choir is under the direction of Professor Ronald J. Lush. The program will consist of four groups of variety music.

est, where the "grasshopper" fleet could offer service that would speed up present methods by several hours.

W. M. (Jack) Bartlett, director, and other members of the state board of aeronautics, are doing what they can to promote the West Coast airways extension and are also interested in the aerial star route. He may have an opportunity to discuss the situation with the CAB while he is in Washington, D.C., next week.

Such a route, they point out, would not only facilitate delivery
