

Additional Power for Salem Electric Urged by Sen. Morse

Washington, June 1 (AP)—Senator Morse, republican, Oregon, is seeking funds to extend the Bonneville transmission lines to Canby, Ore., and to a rural electric cooperative system in Clackamas county.

Pasture Tour Next Thursday

A tour of pastures, livestock operations and tansy ragwort is scheduled for Thursday, June 9 in Polk county, announced N. John Hansen, Polk county extension agent.

The tour is sponsored by the Polk County Livestock association and the extension service. All persons interested are invited to participate in the tour. Hansen said.

The tour will include the following:

10 a.m.—daylight saving time—Eldon Frink farm, Falls City road, pasture of subterranean and alia fescue with different types of management.

11 a.m.—Wiley Gardner farm—View pastures with beef cattle. Also Burnett and other pasture legumes and grasses.

11:45 a.m.—Tansy ragwort area and demonstration on control, Cooper Hollow area.

12 noon—Jack Stump farm, lunch. Each one bring a snack lunch. View sheep on pasture and pasture management.

2 p.m.—Joe Harland farm.

Old Building to Be Reduced in Size

The old business building located at 290 North Commercial, a three-story structure, is to have its top story removed, according to Max Gehlhar, the owner.

The building, erected in 1884, has housed various businesses in its day. At one time it was the location of the old First National bank and later used by the Masonic lodge as a meeting place.

The lower floor is now used by the Willamette National Farm Loan association.

The top story is being removed because the top cornice is considered unsafe. The work will cost about $1300.

Slight Quake in B.C.

Vancouver, Wash., June 1 (AP)—A light earthquake shook the northeast section of Vancouver at 9 p.m. (PST) last night. A radio report from Kelso, 45 miles north, said a tremor occurred at the same time. State police said no damage had been reported.
