

Cramers Feted at Silverton On Occasion of Anniversary

Silverton—The outstanding social event of the week for local and many out-of-town guests, was the Sunday afternoon golden wedding observance complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Everett K. Cramer, at the fireplace rooms of the Silverton armory.

Families of the children of the honored couple arranged the reception and remained as house guests at the family home in South Water street, until Tuesday.

Special guests who were present at the original wedding were M. W. Neal of Hillsboro and Mrs. Blanche Neal-Brady of Belt, Mont.

Miss Ivy Vine Hall and Everett K. Cramer were married June 15, 50 years ago at the home of the parents of Mrs. Brady and Neal, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Neal, in Albany. They have made their home in Detroit, Albany, Mill City and Silverton, as his employment as an engineer in timber hauling from the woods to the mills demanded.

Children of the Cramers are Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Price (Vivian Cramer) of Riverside, Calif., where both are members of the high school faculty, Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacPherson (Nana Cramer) publishers of a morning and an evening daily paper of Riverside, Calif., and they are the parents of the only grandchild of the Cramers, Dickey. A son, W. H. Cramer, and Mrs. Cramer live at Klamath Falls.

An unusual surprise during the afternoon of the reception was a call of congratulations from a cousin of Cramer, Bede Armstrong of Waukegon, Ill., who previously had mailed gold framed pictures of a family group and specially framed pictures of both Mr. and Mrs. Cramer.

Mrs. Cramer wore a slate gray afternoon gown and an orchid corsage, and the bridegroom, a matching gray tailored suit and a deep red rose boutonniere. They greeted their many guests after being received at the door by Mrs. Elmer Richardson.

Presenting the guest book for the first hour were Donna Dean Wolfard and Shirley Greenfield, and the second hour, Margery Hahn and Arlene Stam, youthful friends of the honored couple.

Receiving and arranging the gifts and assisting in the kitchen and serving were Mrs. Harry Hahn, Mrs. D. L. Wolfard, Mrs. Reuben Holstrom, Mrs. J. D. Drake, Mrs. Lloyd Greenfield, Mr. and Mrs. Wren Matheny, Mrs. I. L. Stewart, Mrs. John Gustafson and Mr. and Mrs. Helmer Brokke.

The bridal cake was white and gold, three-tiered, gold rose and leaf trimmed, with a golden bell from an arch in miniature at the top. This centered the serving table, flanked by tall white glowing tapers in a theme of ivy, gilded amid red roses. The punch was served from one end of the long, decorated table, and the coffee and tea service was at the other end. The bridegroom's cake was decorated with tiny red roses and served in individual sections. All refreshments were symbolic of gold and red roses.

Flowers about the rooms were in huge baskets, bouquets made up of golden carnations, white snap dragons, deep red and pink roses with a mingling of blue delphinium for a brighter scheme.

Guests attending included: From Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Matheny, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hannan, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Alm, Mr. and Mrs. H. Gordon McCall, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Shea and Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Beret Fenside, Mrs. Elizabeth Treason, Mr. and Mrs. John
