Small Irrigation Pump Nips Fingers

Dayton—Loren Phelps received serious injury to his left hand when his hand caught in the belts of a small irrigation pump on his farm near town. As a result he has lost the two middle fingers to the second joint, the end of the little finger, and the first finger was crushed, but they hope to save it. He was in the hospital until Sunday when he returned home, although he has been suffering considerably.

The pump was at the river, back of his home, and it had stopped running. In an attempt to start it, it started with the slightest touch thus catching his fingers. Able to walk to the house, he was rushed to the hospital by a neighbor, A. F. Wilson.

Socialists Lose In B. C. Election

Vancouver, B.C., June 16 (AP)—British Columbia voters today rejected a socialist party bid for power and returned the coalition administration of Premier Byron Johnson with a sweeping majority.

Socialists Lose In B. C. Election

Final returns showed the coalitionists had elected 40 members to the 48-seat provincial legislature. They entered the election with 36 seats. Six Canadian Commonwealth Federation candidates were elected, one labor member and one independent.

The election was a two-party contest fought on the straight issue of free enterprise vs. socialism. The present government returned to power is a coalition of the liberal and conservative parties, while the opposition was the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation, a socialist party. This will be the third term for the coalitionists, who went into office originally in 1941.

Officials to Discuss Parking

County Judge Grant Murphy has issued a call for a conference between city and county officials for next Monday at 1 p.m. to discuss and probably draft a set of rules governing parking inside the courthouse block. Included will be members of the county court, district attorney, sheriff, fire chief and others. A new law giving the court power to enforce such regulations will become effective July 15.

The court issued such a set of regulations for itself back in 1946 and attempted to enforce them. Later Attorney General Neuner ruled that the secretary of state had no power to enforce penal provisions as to parking on the state house grounds and this was followed by an opinion from the district attorney's office that the court had no such power at the courthouse. So the legislature enacted laws to extend such powers. Fire Chief Roble of Salem had written a letter to the court warning of fire hazards which had arisen because of the laxity of enforcement of parking regulations which couldn't legally be enforced.

Loganberry Price Set at Eight Cents

Oregon Cane Fruits Control Board, Inc., at a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night fixed an 8-cent minimum for loganberries, boysenberries and youngberries as compared with 11½ cents last year on boysens and youngberries and 12½ cents for loganberries. This is the established price to the growers who are members of the organization and William J. Linfoot, its secretary, estimates that about 80 per cent of the berry crop is produced by the membership. Loganberry harvest will probably get under way next week and boysens in probably another 10 days. It is expected the berry crop may be as much as 20 per cent below that of last year.
