

Linn Will Ban Jail Visitors

Albany—After July 1, anyone placed in the Linn county jail will, as usual, be "settin on the inside—lookin' on the outside," but there won't be any company allowed.

Sheriff H. A. "Mike" Southard announced that at that date all visitors will be barred.

Housing of federal prisoners enroute also will be discontinued, the sheriff asserted.

"Owing to the lack of sufficient personnel I must take these drastic actions," Sheriff Southard declared. "We handled 403 prisoners in the past 12 months, not counting those enroute to other jails and prisons, and with their visitors it has meant that either a deputy or myself had to be constantly in the office."

"The amount of both criminal and civil business has increased considerably. With only one deputy to handle each phase I am forced to close the jail to visitors so that I can help take the load off my deputies," Southard said.

Southard asserted the yearly contract with the federal government has not been signed and he will discontinue the Linn county jail as a stopping place for federal prisoners and their guards, to relieve the load on his staff.

Mother Makes the Grade—The senior year for Mrs. Marlon Mock Andrews (above) of Stow, Mass., was a little more difficult for her than it is for most people. She had to take time out from classes at Simmons College to greet the stork. Mother made the grade, however, and son Harold attended her graduation in Boston. Here she holds twin prizes, four-months-old Harold and her diploma. (AP Wirephoto).

MOTHER KNOWS BEST!

When every brand claims it is the best, how's a woman to tell which is right?

Only S&W dares do this!

While other brands claim better quality, your grocer will tell you only S&W dares to prove it. We invite a grocer to select other brands—any brands—from his shelves. Then together we open each can and compare its quality with S&W, product for product, by actual taste test. For more than 50 years, grocers who have made this actual store test have judged S&W best, every time.

PROVE IT YOURSELF

Try any S&W Fine Food—fruits, vegetables, juices, oven-baked beans and brown bread, or famous S&W mellow'd coffee. We are confident you will agree that S&W is in a class by itself.

S&W quality is so much better
