

Selection of New Coach Draws Praise for 'Cats

Announcement of the selection of Chester R. Stackhouse as head football coach and athletic director for Willamette university drew special praise Saturday from coaching and collegiate circles in Oregon and Pennsylvania.

LaVerne (Kip) Taylor, who coached in Michigan sports during the same time Stackhouse was active there, was the first to come forward with special mention.

"I have known Chester Stackhouse for a period of approximately 18 years both on the high school and college level. His background in coaching and physical education is one to be admired. As a high school coach in the state of Michigan, he was one of the outstanding contributors to the game itself and also to the development of the youth in that state," Taylor commented.

"At the University of Michigan, he was responsible for the development of many conference and intercollegiate track champions. His background in coaching and physical education will be a distinct asset to Willamette.

His long record in coaching which started in 1929 at Cadillac, Michigan, high school, includes a total of 93 football victories compared with 23 defeats, 180 cage wins over 47 defeats and the amazing total of 64 track meets without a single defeat in dual or triangular competition.

His impressive track coaching work in high school led Michigan Coach Ken Doherty to seek his service with the Wolverine staff.

The new coach and athletic director replaces Jerry Lillie who resigned from the Bearcat staff last month to take over a backfield coaching assignment with the University of Oregon Ducks.

In football, Stackhouse has been quoted as an advocate of a modified T formation style with an accent on pass deception and a quick-hitting ground attack.

His 1948 squad at Lincoln university in Pennsylvania lost a tie for the conference grid title.

The president of the university which he served during the past year advised Willamette officials by telegraph while Stackhouse was on a two-day visit of the campus that Lincoln would suffer a loss with his new appointment.

"He is a fine gentleman, excellent coach, an inspiration to the boys, a great community asset. I told him he could have a life time job but he prefers a change to the west," President Horace M. Bond advised Willamette.

The husky, 44-year-old coach is married and will arrive on the campus with his family Aug. 10.

Salem Legions Extend Wins to Seven Straight

Mt. Angel—The Salem American Legion Juniors extended their undefeated campaign Friday night when they victimized Mt. Angel, 8-1, behind the two-hit pitching of Bob DeGeer.

Salem punched over four runs in the third frame and five more in the seventh, while Mt. Angel's lone tally came in the fourth.

DeGeer struck out six to win the seventh contest for Bill Hanau's crew.

CALL MEETING TO PLAN STAYTON ROD-GUN CLUB

Stayton—A meeting has been scheduled for June 24, at 8 p.m., at city hall, to organize a Stayton rod and gun club, according to Harold Woodly.

Here to explain the aims and benefits of such an organization will be Peter Morienson of Millwauke who will be speaker. Prime objective of the movement it is said, will be the stocking of rivers and streams with game fish.

Skits and Scratches

Dam Means Fish

Sportsmen may have other ideas concerning the effect of fish life of the high dams being constructed in connection with the Willamette Valley project, but army engineers have been consistent in asserting that many benefits will be derived from the stream obstructions. Lt. Col. John W. Miller, resident engineer on the job at Detroit, in explaining the project on the North Santiam for the benefit of the Rotary club said that the elimination of violent fluctuations in the flow of the stream would benefit fish life. In this connection he said the mean daily discharge of water over a period of years had been 2000 cubic feet per second. Once, in 1929 the flow reached a peak of 63,300 cubic feet. At another time it reached a low of 320, a "mere trickle."

Water Colder

Since the dam will provide storage for a maximum of 455,000 acre feet of water, Colonel Miller said this meant that the water to be released will be of lower temperature, a condition that will please the fish. Salmon, naturally will not be able to advance upstream beyond Big Cliff dam, a couple miles below the main Detroit obstruction. However, they will be trapped and hauled to the Marion Forks hatchery where young ones will be reared and later released below the dam. The colonel asserted that the hatchery is located at an ideal spot since water temperatures are the best there for salmon production.

Slow Progress

Development of nesting and resting areas for waterfowl, initiated by the state game commission hasn't proceeded as rapidly as had been hoped. This project is considered a vital part of the over-all program calculated to improve habitat for big game upland game, waterfowl and furbearers. Small areas in the Willamette valley—one or two acre tracts which can be leased for three to five years are needed. The tracts would be fenced, water developed, and plantings made of grains and beneficial shrubs or plants. With numerous developments of this type, nesting and resting areas would be provided for waterfowl, and it is also thought they would aid in holding these migratory birds for a longer period of time in Oregon," explains the commission. The suggestion is made that anyone owning or knowing of small waste tracts contact the game commission.

New Time Record?

No doubt umpire Ed Young's 1:31 for the Salem-Vancouver quickie Monday night will go into the record books as a league record. However, if that time piece to the left of the scoreboard at Waters park is correct, then, the game was completed in an hour and 36 minutes. That's fast time in any park and is exceptionally so for Western International league competition. The contest got away at 7:59 and was finished at 9:35. Al Spaeter, ex-Salem second baseman, collected one of the seven homers slugged out during the recent 20-14 scoring binge of the Spokane Indians and the Tacoma Tigers. Hal Summers, Salem outfielder of 1947, now with the Meridian, Miss. club, hit two home runs, each one with the bases loaded during his first two weeks with the squad.

More Baker Dope

Sam Baker, the Corvallis graduate with the maximum in physical ability as it relates to competitive sports is in Fort Worth, Texas and contemplates entering Texas Christian university in the fall. The kid is married to Sara Oliver of Corvallis, according to information dug up by Bruce Myers and is working for a breakfast food concern in the Texas city. Loris Baker, assistant to Spec Keene at Oregon State, has made a hurried trip to Texas in the hope of convincing his son that Sam should return to the Beaver institution.

Love Sick Girl Doesn't Want to See Waitkus Now

Chicago, June 18 (AP)—First baseman Eddie Waitkus rested more comfortably today following removal of congesting blood from his lungs, while the love-sick girl who shot him said, "I never want to face Eddie again."

A spokesman for Illinois Masonic hospital said the infield king of the Philadelphia Phillies was "breathing much easier" after the operation to remove the blood released into his chest cavity by the .22 caliber bullet.

But the 19-year-old Ruth Steinbagen, who shot him Tuesday night after "adoring" him from afar for two years, said she couldn't stand the thought of facing him June 30 when she comes to trial on charges of assault with intent to murder.

Sporer Hurls 4-1 Win for Victory-Hungry Senators

Silverton Tops Woodburn, 9-4

Woodburn—Silverton posted fourteen hits Friday night to defeat Woodburn, 9-4, in a game played on the Woodburn lot. The locals were credited with 8 errors compared to 3 for Silverton.

The 1909 Pittsburgh Pirates, who won 110 games, hold the major league record for games won in a season.

Bus Sporer was lenient with bases on balls and stingy with base hits in his pitching performance opposite the Victoria Athletics in Waters park Friday night. He allowed eight free passes to first, but was touched for two hits as the Salem Senators scored a 4 to 1 victory over the Western International league cellar-dwellers. The two teams continue their series with a single game at 8 o'clock Saturday night and a Sunday doubleheader beginning at 6 p.m.

For two and two thirds innings, bespectacled Bus hurled no-hit, no-run ball at the hapless Canadians. Then with two out in the top half of the fourth frame Frank Match's bat dispatched a sizzling grounder down the left field foul line that was good for two bases. Match died at second.

The only other hit off Sporer was by pinch-hitting Dick Morgan in the ninth inning. Morgan got no further than second.

Victoria's lone run was chalked up in the fifth, and Sporer can blame nothing but his own wildness for the tally. He walked four consecutive batters—Larry Ward, Al Drew, Charlie Ballasi and Vic Buccola. The walk to Buccola scored Ward from third.

Salem's four runs came one at a time, in each of the first four innings, off opposing hurler Ward.

Rud Peterson crossed the plate in the first inning. He had drawn a walk, stole second and scampered home on Mel Wasley's rap to center field.

The Solons' second-inning marker came when Wayne Peterson batted in Marty Krug from second base. Krug had got on base via an infield single, and stole second.

Two stolen sacks by Larry Orteig helped account for the third inning run. Orteig hacked a clean single to left field to reach first, stole second, then stole third. A long fly by Bob Cherry brought the fleet-footed Orteig in to score.

In the fourth canto, the Senators' run was of the unearned variety. Marty Krug drew a walk to start the inning, and advanced to second as Manager Bill Beard also waited out four balls. Vancouver Catcher Bob Day pegged wildly in an attempt to catch Krug off base, and each runner took advantage of the situation and moved up a base.

Ward kept the Salems pretty well bottled up after that. After the fourth inning, only two Solons got on base, and one of those was picked off in a "hot box" play.

Although Dick Sinovic, star of the 1948 Senators, returned to the lineup Friday, he failed to collect a hit in four times up. He played right field, shifting Orteig to third.

Hollywood Scores Again At Top; Bevos Post Win

Hollywood and Los Angeles are gripping the Pacific Coast league at both ends today, but Friday night's games apparently were inspired by the call of the wild.

It took the league-leading Hollywoods 11 innings to dispatch Sacramento, 7 to 6. The narrow escape was due mainly to some untimely wildness by the Twink's Pinky Woods and a timely double in the 10th by Jack Paepke.

The Stars took a 3 to 1 edge in the series and increased their lead to 6½ games.

At Portland, Pitchers Don Watkins of Los Angeles and Hal Saltzman rattled for seven innings before the Beavers erupted for five tallies in the eighth. That broke a 1 to 1 deadlock and gave Portland a 6 to 1 triumph.

Oakland whipped San Diego, 10 to 4 in a 14-hit attack, squaring the series at two games each. Charles Gassaway went the route for the Oaks, and homers by Don Padgett and Mel Deuzob gave him the margin he needed.

At Seattle, San Francisco uncocked a three-run ninth inning for a 7 to 5 victory over the second place Rainiers. It was the first win in eight starts for the Seals, but it came on a fluke.

With two away in the ninth, Seattle Southpaw Jack McCall had a 3 and 2 count on Dick LaJeskie. Then McCall threw wild trying to nab a runner at third. That took all the fizz out of the Rainiers.

Krug Vaults to Fourth Spot in WIL Slug Rating

Marty Krug, Salem Senator first sacker, jumped into fourth place in Western International league batting when the records were compiled at the end of competition June 13. This is revealed in the weekly release by the Howe News Agency, official statisticians for the league.

Krug, at that time was hitting .378.

Hal Rhyne of Wenatchee, league leader with a .465 percentage, slumped a bit but managed to pull up even with Bob Cherry, Solon outfielder in the matter of runs batted in. Each has accounted for 55. Cherry's batting average of .368 was good for sixth position.

Individual averages of batters hitting .300 or more, plus all Salem contenders:

"Holly" Says

My wife says I should tell you more about the wonderful Orchid Wrappings we give with every diamond. We do not like to keep bragging about this "easy to say it—easy to do it" method that we figured out to help the man get over those three important words, "Will you huh?" Well, for your newcomers to Salem, here is how it works: Each diamond engagement ring purchased from us is placed over the petal of a full size beautiful orchid and the orchid is then placed in a box and tied with real honest-to-goodness orchid color ribbon. All the man has to do is hand the box to the lady and stand there with his mouth half open waiting for her to open the box and find that beautiful orchid and a wonderful diamond ring and (just like our Boxer with nine pups) she just can't say "No," and besides she will admire you for thinking up this exclusive way of proposing. Gee, I almost forgot to tell you, there is no extra charge for this wrapping—the price is no higher with than without this service.
