

Cornutt in Bagpipe Band

Independence—Pvt. Loren Cornutt, drummer for the first Scotch bagpipe band in the United States army, and the concert band of the 2nd Infantry Division Band at Fort Lewis, Wash., spent the weekend visiting his family and friends.

Pvt. Cornutt, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Cornutt, has been in the service for 10 1/2 months. He was a member of the local high school band for two years playing bass drum and cymbals prior to being graduated with the class of 1948.

The "Scotch Killers" was organized in January under the direction of CWO Nicholas Frank. It is the bagpipe unit of the 2nd Infantry Division Band and numbers 16 members CWO Frank, who has been in army service for 35 years, has been transferred to Yokohama, Japan so the "Killers" are now under the direction of Sgt. Le-Duc.

This unique organization has appeared in many concerts along the west coast. In May they traveled by plane to Presidio, Calif., to play a concert for General Mark Clark's surprise anniversary party. Later, at a party given by General Clark in Los Angeles, they played a concert which was also broadcast.

Among other places, they have appeared in Yakima and Seattle, and Portland. The week following July 4 they will go to the east coast to present concerts in New York City and Philadelphia.

The 80 piece concert band, under the direction of Warrant Officer Anderson, spent a week in May at the various high schools in Portland giving concerts, and marched in parade formation downtown showing marching maneuvers. They have also appeared in Tacoma, Wash., in addition to their regular camp appearances.

The money spent in the United States for business, repair and personal services is spent in New York State.

Two Young Divers Find Signs of Lost Treasure

Point Pleasant, N. J. (AP)—Two young deep-sea divers coming a 13-year dream of finding $250,000 in sunken gold treasure saw a true today.

Floyd Sharp Jr., 31, and William Conway, 25, reported they had found the 51-year-old wreck of the liner S. S. Delaware, believed to have a gold quarter of a million dollars in gold aboard, and have begun exploring it.

"We've found some signs of the gold aboard," Conway said. "But we'll have more to say about that sometime next week." He refused to elaborate.

Sharp explained that his interest in the wreck began in 1936, at the time Simon Lake, the late inventor of the submarine, led an expedition to recover the treasure, but ran out of funds before locating it.

Sharp, who was then 18, dreamed of someday finding the treasure for himself. He began to collect all the information he could about the matter, and resolved to become a professional deep-sea diver.

A letter he wrote to the War Steamship Line, owner of the vessel, verified that the $250,000 gold had been aboard when the Delaware sank on July 9, 1898.

He found five men still alive in Point Pleasant who remembered witnessing the sinking of the ship. From them he got bearings on where they thought the wreck was. He made charts. And he went into partnership with his old friend Conway who helped him purchase $4,000 in salvage equipment.
