

Furnish Home For DP Family

Clubs, service organizations, churches and individuals have been generous in their response in connection with the furnishing of a home for the Ardo Tarem family of displaced persons who will take up their residence in Salem some time next month. Carlton Greider, who as program director of the YMCA has been actively engaged in soliciting furnishings for the Tarem home, reported Tuesday that the family's needs have largely been filled. Two dressers or chests could be used while a treadle sewing machine in good state of repair would be acceptable. Since the residence is located on a considerable plot of ground, it is presumed garden tools will be needed.

The Tarems, the husband and wife and three daughters, are now in New York City visiting with friends, after their ocean trip from Estonia. They expect to visit Springfield college where Tarem was a student for a two year period during the interval between the two World wars.

"People have been entirely unselfish and the project has been a good example of direct action," said Greider in commenting concerning the generosity of Salem folk. Agencies affiliated with the Community Chest have been particularly active.

Owens Talks on Legion Virtues

The virtues of the American Legion, its principles and purposes were explained in some detail during Tuesday's luncheon of the Salem Kiwanis club by Kelly Owens, state commander and a member of the group before whom he talked.

Owens spoke of the growth of the Legion since its inception back in 1918 in Paris and said it now is the largest organization of veterans in the entire world with a membership of 4,100,000 scattered in some 31,000 posts.

Answering his own question, "What has made us great?" Owens replied: "We are pledged to uphold the constitution of the United States."

In listing a few of the projects of the Legion, Owens spoke of the national child welfare program on which some $65,000,000 has been spent; the junior baseball program involving 8,000,000 boys and the Beaver Boys' State program now underway on the Oregon State college campus. The more than 200 boys involved spend the week in learning the fundamentals of good government.

A half dozen members of the Salem junior baseball were introduced while the drum and bugle corps provided a selection. Owens requested listings of rooms in private homes for delegates who will attend the state legion convention August 2-6.

3 Day Holiday For State Workers

State employees will have a three-day holiday beginning Saturday but may have a late pay day.

This was made known Tuesday by Harold Phillippe, head of the accounting division in the secretary of state's office who explained that it would be virtually impossible for his office to get out all the state salary checks by July 5, the regular state pay day.

"We do not feel it would be to ask our employees to work on the Fourth of July," he said, "but we will endeavor to get out as many checks as possible on the 5th."

The appointments were made by Senate President William E. Walsh, Coos Bay, and House Speaker Frank J. Van Dyke, Medford.

Liberals Win Canada Election

Toronto, June 28 (AP)—The liberal party of Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent has won a smashing political victory reminiscent of the 1936 landslide of the Roosevelt New Deal.

Returns today from the national election showed the liberals—Canada's nearest equivalent to the democrats—had won 193 of the 262 seats in the new house of commons. They led in all provinces but Alberta. It was the greatest party triumph in Canadian history.

The progressive conservatives, the main opposition party, took 42 seats. The other commons members will come from minor parties.

The Canadian party dominating the house of commons names the government. The liberals now have a mandate until 1954. That will run their incumbency to 19 years — they took over from the conservatives in 1935.

It was a personal triumph for St. Laurent, who has been in politics only eight years. The soft-spoken French-Canadian, 67 years old, assumed the prime ministry last November when W. L. MacKenzie King bowed out because of ill health.

Epidemic of Auto Stripping

An outbreak of auto and truck stripping was evident Tuesday in police reports which detailed four separate cases and one frustrated attempt to steal from an auto.

R. L. Lynch, 687 N. Front, reported that two hub caps, valued at $10 had been taken from his car, while Dale Gibson, 1621 Cross, reported the theft of hub caps from a neighbor's car. They were valued at $20 by the owner.

Sun glasses, a camera and a carton of cigarettes were removed from a vehicle belonging to Charles Chitceck, 2342 Adams, while the machine was parked on Court street near the YMCA.

Hugh Aldrich, 410 McClain, told police that a $12.50 fire extinguisher and a tool box along with its contents had been removed from his logging truck. He set the total value at $87.50, and reported that articles were missing from four other trucks parked in the same area.

J. C. Malone, of Portland, summoned police after he found a young boy ransacking his car on South 14th street near the Southern Pacific roundhouse. The youngster escaped, and came back, before police arrived, to retrieve a bicycle.

Blast Sprayers Save Cherries

Hood River, Ore., June 28 (AP)—Big air blast sprayers and prop wash from planes were used here today as orchardists fought to save their cherry crop.

A heavy morning rain threatened to ruin the crop for the fourth consecutive year. As fieldmen checked the orchards for splits, the growers sought to blow droplets from the cherries. Their success was uncertain at mid-day.

The cherry harvest, rolling into its second week, promised to be one of the best in years. Growers had expected to ship 160 to 180 carloads of fresh cherries, in addition to the usual brining. The first carload went out Friday and three more have been sent since.

The peak of the harvest was expected next week. Beginning in 1946 growers have been plagued by harvest-season rains with resultant splitting of the cherries. Sunday morning a heavy rain fell, but it was accompanied by a brisk wind and damage was slight.

This morning's rain came with a light wind and 80 per cent cloud blanket.

New Chemistry Prof at WU

A new member of the faculty of Willamette university is Dr. James C. Nichol, who began his work in the department of chemistry at the beginning of the summer semester. Nichol, who received his doctor's degree from the University of Wisconsin in June of 1948 is only 27 years of age.

Nichol's record through his 10 years of study in the field of chemistry has been outstanding. He received both his bachelor of science and master of science degrees at the University of Alberta in Canada with high honors and continued at that school to teach organic chemistry for a year. During the war, Dr. Nichol was connected with the Canadian chemical warfare department aiding in the synthesis of organic compounds project.

Dr. Nichol has been doing research on the biophysical studies of proteins and offers a course in physical chemistry for the summer students in science. In September he will teach both physical and general chemistry. His articles on protein chem-

Anderson Tells Of GOP Meet

Growing importance of the west was displayed at the Young Republican conference in Salt Lake last week by the fact that Laughlin Waters, of California lost the race for head of the organization by only five votes.

This was the opinion of Steve Anderson Salem attorney, who returned Tuesday from the convention, who also said that the convention "was the liveliest GOP convention held in 25 years."

Jim Hagerty, veteran political writer of the New York Times told me that for the first time in many years there appeared enough life in the old elephant to forecast its return to national power," Anderson said.

Marion Putnam, Salem high school student was the youngest delegate at the convention. Bill Merriam, Willamette university junior lead in the move resulting in the adoption of a new college program for the organization and Russ Tripp, Willamette, student body president, presented a resolution forbidding the holding of future conventions at any place where discrimination would be made against any delegate because of color or creed. The resolution was unanimously adopted.

Mrs. Mesta Approved Washington, June 28 (AP)—The senate foreign relations committee today approved the nomination

May Record Month In 2 Years for Strikes

Washington, June 28 (AP)—More strikes began during May than in any month since the spring of 1947, the U.S. bureau of labor statistics said today.

The report said the number rose to 450, compared with 400 in April, while the number of man-days lost because of strikes was 3,200,000 as against 1,800,000 in April.

The number of workers involved in stoppages beginning in May was approximately 250,000 as compared with 175,000 in the preceding month, the report said.
