

'Kewpie Dick' Grins in Victory over Ex-Owners

(By United Press)
The "little round man" was wearing a big, wide smile today. "Kewpie Dick" Barrett, who has been throwing baseballs for bucks for more than a quarter century, won his 218th Pacific Coast league game last night as he beat the Seattle Rainiers. And the win was one of the sweetest of the group for Barrett.

Earlier in the season Seattle, for whom Barrett has turned in 206 wins, decided he was getting too old to pitch at 42 and let him go. Barrett figured he had a few more wins left, so he signed with the Padres.

One of those wins was exhibited last night—a 6-2 victory that barely missed being a shut-out. And the game dropped the Suda another full length behind the league-leading Hollywood Stars, who pummeled Oakland 14-2.

In other loop games the San Francisco Seals beat Los Angeles 6-2 and Portland and Sacramento split a doubleheader. Portland won the opener 4-2 and Sacramento took the second contest 3-1.

Portland won the opening seven-inning game from the Sacs by rallying for all four runs in the last of the sixth. Sacramento took an early lead on Bill Wilson's home run and a single run in the sixth. Red Lynn got the win and Orval Grove the loss.

In the second game Ken Holcombe stilled the Portland bats with five hits as Sacramento scored early and led all the way.

Orteig May Quit Senators Under Business Pinch

Larry Orteig, right fielder, may be lost to the Salem Senators for the balance of the season. Orteig is the owner of a tavern in the Portland area that has been under lease. The operator is having difficulty and Orteig may be compelled to return to protect his interests.

In case Orteig has to abandon the diamond, there is a possibility that Gene Peterson may be switched from the mound to the outfield. Peterson hits the ball well and has been doing ably at fly chasing during pregame warmups.

Although the search for capable pitchers is being pursued, Business Manager George Emigh reports no additions to the mound staff are in sight.

Following the coronation ceremonies the queen and her court will retire from the stage, decorations of which are to carry out the Cherryland theme, and will be seated in a box reserved for them in the grandstand.

After the court arrives at its box a program is to be presented for their entertainment on the stage, where the coronation ceremonies were held.

Opening the program for that evening is to be a specialty revue by Elaine Murphy and associates Sandra Bliven and Judy Gaern of the Merlain Dancing school. Immediately following this will be Lyle Lorentz, 19-year-old Salem entertainer, who is to give impressions of modern day radio programs. Also appearing during the program will be the Cherryette trio from Miller's department store.

Luscious Luke Whiffed Breezes in Dallas Mix

Dallas—The great Luke Easter, first sacker for San Diego in the Pacific Coast baseball league, played in Dallas five years ago, but a local pitcher held him hitless in five times up and whiffed him on three of the trips to the plate.

This fact was confirmed this week by Ray Boydston, Dallas sports enthusiast and former manager of the Dallas Townies baseball team. In reading of Easter and watching him in Portland games, Boydston had the feeling that he had met him on the diamond. Checking back over his old scorebooks, he found Easter listed with the Vanport Black Sox, a team that Boydston's Townies bowed to four times in many meetings.

The leading coast batter played on the local high school diamond against the Townies in a game during the summer of 1944. Neil Richardson, former Dallas high school hurling star, fanned Easter three times and never allowed him to reach first base.

Richardson fanned batters down 16 times in the game, but ironically, lost the game by yielding 11 hits.

Concluding the program planned in front of the grandstand tonight will be a revue by the students of the Paul Armstrong school of dance with over 200 students participating. The students, ranging in age from the wee tots to an older group, are from the Salem and McMinnville studios of Armstrongs.

Immediately after the program and every night following there is to be a dance under the grandstand with Claude Bird and his orchestra playing.

First thing on the program for Friday is the grand parade, slated to start at 10 a.m. The parade will form at 14th and D streets and move down 14th street to State street. Moving down State and past the state capitol building to enable state employes to see the parade, it then goes to Commercial street and turns on
