

Cars for Students Needless Luxury

Moscow, Ida., June 30 (U.P.)—J. E. Buchanan, president of the University of Idaho, termed the student automobile "a needless luxury" and urged less spending by students in an article published today in "University of Idaho Reports."

"During the past school year," President Buchanan wrote, "more than 1,100 students at the University of Idaho had cars. That meant there was a car for almost every third student. Some of these were needed . . . but perhaps a thousand of them were only hazards to pocket-books, pedestrians and the pursuit of knowledge."

President Buchanan said the academic council of the university recently had issued a ruling that said the "university does not look with favor upon student automobiles."

"It is not that the administration of the university is opposed to fun for youth," President Buchanan said. "I myself look back upon my undergraduate days at the University of Idaho as the most pleasant in my life, but I not only went through those four years without a car, but without a topcoat as well."

Opening of Gates Store Brings Crowd

Gates—More than 400 people attended the formal opening here of the Garrison Variety store and cafe. Refreshments were served by the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Garrison, and their assistants to all who came. Many beautiful floral pieces complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Garrison were received. A large stock was on display and soft drinks and meals are now being served at the fountain and lunch counter.

Gates is proud of this new store, just completed, which is of stucco finish on the outside and outlined in vari-colored lights and a large neon sign; the interior walls are finished in harmonizing pastel shades.

Many of those attending the opening were from Salem, Stayton, Dallas, and other valley towns, as well as the vicinity.
