$52 Millions in Road Program

During the past three years the state highway commission has been contracting and constructing a three year highway construction program which has totalled approximately $52 million in money and which will result in the improvement of some 1,891 miles of roads in the extended motor transportation grid of the state. In comparison with the progress made in other states in the conduct of its highway construction program for this period, Oregon stands in seventh place among the 48 states.

Of the $52 million, approximately $40,300,000 represented federal aid projects, the remaining $11,700,000 state projects to which no federal money attached. This work constitutes what is called the "first postwar program," as initiated by the 1944 road act of congress, which earmarked $36 million ($21 million of federal funds and $15 million of state funds) for federal aid construction in Oregon during the three year period.

The second postwar federal aid program was authorized and initiated by the congress in June 1948. Under this program, the highway commission will have available approximately $21 million in both state and federal funds for construction work during the coming two years, the program for which was set up, in major part, by the commission at its May meeting.

Federal Judge 'Calls' Commies

New York, June 30 (AP)—Judge Harold R. Medina sharply criticized defense attorneys at the communist conspiracy trial today for repeated reference to "lynching, lynching, lynching" and "Jim Crow, Jim Crow, Jim Crow."

Medina's criticism climaxed an exchange with defense attorney Abraham J. Isserman. Isserman had attempted to introduce a pamphlet entitled "The Marxist-Leninist Position in the Struggle of Rights for Women."

He said it was written by Gilbert Green, chairman of the Illinois communist party who was on the stand for the 11th day. Medina ordered sections pertaining to the "Negro question" be deleted.

"That's been iterated again and again and again," he said. "We're already in our sixth month and I don't intend that this trial shall continue for the balance of my life."

Isserman charged that Judge Medina's remark was prejudicial. "You accuse me of being an old tyrant and it doesn't bother me at all," Medina replied. "I know you say I am not giving you a chance to present your case, but anybody who reads the record can't possibly think that."

Green and 10 others are accused of conspiring to teach and advocate the overthrow of the government by force and violence.

Road Tax Divided—Distribution of proceeds from taxes collected from old road levies against property inside of incorporated cities and towns has been ordered by the county court. No such levy has been made for the past three years and the only money collected is from dribbles collected in against old levies from 1945-46 and earlier. The total divided between the 14 towns outside of Salem is $147,70, deducting 6 per cent for administration cost, the lowest amount to any town being 15 cents to Aumsville and the largest $4.07 to Silverton. Of the total collected $161.08 is allocated to the part of the county outside the cities and towns. Salem does not benefit as no tax was levied against property within its borders.

Dayton Couple Licensed—Charles H. Jackson and Irene M. Valek, both of Dayton, have been issued a marriage license at Vancouver, Wash.

World's Richest Dog Passes On

Victoria, B.C. (CP)—"Rip," probably one of the world's wealthiest and most publicized dogs, is dead.

The 10-year-old male wire-haired terrier, which had been bequeathed $75 a month for its upkeep and care, died of a heart attack.

Its mistress, Mrs. Marguerite E. Spratt, who died two years ago, laid down in her will disposing of $250,000, a program for "Rip."

The will provided that the dog must sleep on her bed, be bathed in an adjoining bathroom and receive other privileges. A trusted friend, Miss Agnes Cartwright was left in charge of the dog, but was obliged to give up these duties owing to ill-health. "Rip" had since lived in a kennel.

Coast Service

Air freight boarded here totaled 91,411 pounds for the first six months of this year. The Salem station was ninth in the 41 stations in the western region in the poundage boarded. The western region includes such cities as Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, Portland, San Diego, Salt Lake and Burbank. Pounce in this six months period is 15 per cent above that of 1948, and that is discounting the Portland traffic handled through here during the flood in 1948.

For approximately six weeks, while Portland's airport was under water during the flood in 1948, it was the Salem station that handled the United Air Lines business from that city. That included passengers, freight, express and mail.

Total figures of passenger revenue, mail, freight, baggage and express handled by United Airlines in Salem in 1948—this includes the Portland traffic handled during the 1948 flood—are: Mail: 109,203 pounds on 122,864 pounds off, making it 22nd in the total 71 stations in amount handled.

Air freight: 28th in 71 UAL stations in amount handled, with 129,650 pounds on and 142,472 pounds off.

Air express: 28th place in 71 stations in amount handled, with 129,650 pounds on and 82,326 pounds off.

Baggage: 24th among the 71 stations with 415,461 pounds on and 437,125 pounds off.

Gross passenger receipts for tickets sold here during that year was $305,813. (In the case of tickets sold in 1948 in the Salem office the figure was affected little by service from Portland being transferred here during the flood, as it is estimated at least 90 per cent of those people purchased their tickets in Portland.)

Urge Speed on New Schools

Greater progress in the construction of the new grade school buildings at Capitola and Four Corners is being urged by the administration upon the contractor, Henry Carl. The school board fears the new structures, each of eight rooms, will not be completed in time for the opening of the fall term in September. However, Carl has given the assurance that both will be ready.

The strike of mill workers, if continued over a period of weeks, could seriously interfere with the completion of the two buildings which are needed to care for the large number of pupils in the eastern part of the city.

Work on the enlargements at Parrish junior high school is considered on schedule. This job is being done by Viesko and Post. All of the concrete with the exception of the auditorium floor has been poured.

Remodelling and enlarging the Englewood grade building, also in charge of Viesko and Post, is being pushed as rapidly as possible. The contractors are centering their energies on the remodelling of the present structure so that it will be ready for the fall term. The addition will come later.

Ralph Coan, Portland, reappointed to a five-year term on the public employes retirement board.
