

Boggie Passes In California

Lebanon, Ore., July 2 (AP)—Clarence Boggie, 55, who was pardoned from the Washington state prison last year after serving 13 years for murder, died today in northern California, a spokesman for his family said today. Erle Stanley Gardner, noted mystery writer, and a Don Magnuson, Seattle Times reporter, led a prolonged and successful campaign to free Boggie from the penitentiary at Walla Walla because they were convinced of his innocence. Boggie's aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Boggie, left for California today to take charge of funeral arrangements. Boggie, a lumberjack, was convicted of the slaying of Moritz Peterson, a retired Spokane hotel and saloon keeper. He was sentenced to life imprisonment. From the beginning, Boggie said he was innocent and denied any knowledge of the crime. As a result of the campaign conducted by Magnuson, Gardner and others interested in the case, Boggie was given an unconditional pardon by the then Gov. Mon C. Walgren of Washington Christmas eve, 1948. Freed, Boggie married Mrs. Gertrude McKean, 50, Naches, Wash., last March.

Red Milhorn Freed by McKay

Klamath Falls, July 2 (AP)—Cleft (Red) Milhorn, accused in California of complicity in the 39-month old El Rancho Tule roadhouse robbery and murder, was released from the Klamath county jail at noon today. A technicality kept him behind bars last night. Sheriff Jack Franey at noon today received a telegram from Governor Douglas McKay formally notifying him that California's attempt to extradite Milhorn from Oregon had been denied. A similar telegram from McKay Friday afternoon was addressed to E. E. Driscoll, the 35-year-old Klamath Falls patrolman's attorney. The telegram to Sheriff Franey said Milhorn could be released from custody "as far as this (McKay's) office is concerned. Upon receipt of the message, Franey released the prisoner. The governor's message said he was denying California's request for extradition of Milhorn "on advice of the attorney general of Oregon" but gave no reason. Because the telegram to Driscoll was not considered official word of the governor's action, Milhorn was kept in jail last night.

License Fees for Portland Business

Portland, July 2 (AP)—It's more expensive to run a business or a profession in Portland today. New license fees, expected to raise some $1,916,000 a year, are in effect now, after the start of the 1949-50 fiscal year. A complicated series of ordinances levies a percentage tax on gross sales in some lines of business; increases license fees on other establishments. Some changes will probably be made. One major change, already made, much to the pleasure of big firms, was the decision not to tax sales of goods which will be used outside the city limits. Instead of medals for bravery, soldiers of Annam, Indo-China, in 1940 received orders on the royal treasury for as much meat and other foods as they and their families could eat during the soldier's lifetime.

18 Killed in D-C Airliner Plunge

Perth, Australia, July 2 (AP)—A DC-3 airliner crashed and burned in the middle of a housing project today, killing all 14 passengers and four crewmen. The crash occurred only a mile from Guildford airdrome, from which the plane had just taken off for Darwin. Families in the housing settlement fled their homes and a number had narrow escapes from death or injury.

Airforce Chiefs Defend Stand

Chicago, July 2 (AP)—Air Secretary Symington said today he was thankful a congressional investigating committee is going to give the air force a chance to tell the "truth" of its case to the country. His prepared address at the Air Force association's convention carefully avoided any discussion of the capabilities of the B-36 bomber. Such references had appeared in addresses by air force officials until the house armed services committee decided recently to probe B-36 procurement and air power strategy. The closest Symington came in his prepared text to re-opening the argument with the navy over carrier-versus-B-36 was his statement to the Air Force association that: "I am sure most Americans agree—indeed, is there any informed person anywhere who does not agree—with your conviction that Uncle Sam's capacity to deliver the atomic bomb anywhere in the world is a great deterrent to war?"

Hraba Is Seated Dayton Lion Chief

Dayton—Merill D. Ohling, district governor of Lions International, was guest of the Dayton Lions club at their meeting at the Riverwood Country club. Ohling acted as installing officer, and Adolph Hraba was seated as president for the ensuing year. Other installed were: Clair Heider, second vice president; Jerry Gardner, third vice president; Gordon King, secretary-treasurer; Bob Stillwell, tall twister; Pat Carey, lion tamer; Harvey Stoller and Ernest Beichel, jr., directors. Robert Todd, first vice president, and Beichel were not able to be present and will be installed later. The club will discontinue all meetings throughout the summer and a picnic will be held August 7 at Champoeg park. Visitors of the club were Miles Jones and Alfred Dietrich of LaFayette. Dietrich played several numbers on the accordion for the evening's entertainment.

Competition by Canada Protested

Seattle, July 2 (AP)—A vigorous protest was being drafted today by the northwestern council of lumber and sawmill workers (AFL) against permitting Canadian sawmills to compete with the northwest industry. Canadian sawmills, paying lower wages, are getting much American business "while our men are walking the streets," John N. Christenson, council president, said. The protest will be sent to congressional delegates and the army. Christenson said he had notice of an army bid call for 10,000,000 feet of lumber, which carried the notation "Canadian Bids Acceptable."

Air Force Removes Swim Pool Barrier

Indianapolis, July 2 (AP)—Officers today ordered removal of a picket fence which enlisted men said was erected across a Benjamin Harrison air base swimming pool to separate enlisted men and their wives and officers and their wives in the pool. Authorities said the fence was erected by mistake. They admitted that there was segregation of officers and men in the pool, but said, it is accomplished by a time schedule for use of the pool. Maj. L. F. Krebs, public information officer for the 10th air force, denied that the fence was put up to keep airmen from mingling with officers. The fence was pictured in the Indianapolis Times, which quoted personnel on the post as complaining that it was installed "to separate officers and enlisted men and officers' wives and enlisted men's wives."

Draws the Line At Live Lobsters

Baltimore, July 2 (AP)—Live lobsters in the boarding house bathtub? That is just positively, finally and completely too much. So said the landlady, Mrs. Philip J. Padovan, today. She told police Judge James Cadden that she was mad enough when 52-year-old Perce J. Spence insisted on keeping a pigeon, several dogs and at least one cat in his room. Then came the lobster, which she found swimming around in the bathtub. Floating on the water were a lot of orange peels—presumably lobster food. Judge Cadden fined Spence $50 on the ground he was responsible for a ruckus which developed in the rooming house last night. Spence told the judge he was a lover of birds and animals. And the lobster? "Oh, I was going to eat that."

No Break in Hawaii Strike

Honolulu, July 2 (AP)—Stevadores of Hawaii have turned down a peace formula for the 63-day waterfront strike by a 10 to 1 margin, and a settlement seems far away. The CIO International Longshoremen's and Warehouse union announced yesterday that the final vote against a fact-finding board's plan for a 14-cent hourly raise was 1,487 to 149. No one had an answer to the question "what next?" Henry Schmidt, ILWU labor relations committee man, said the union would ask the stevedore companies for another session, but there was a string attached. And employers didn't care for the string. Schmidt said the union was willing to reduce its demand for an increase of 32 cents an hour from its current $1.40 wage. But he expected employers to be willing to bargain above 14 cents. "We're not going to bargain upward from 14 cents, that's a cinch," declared Russell Starr, spokesman for the employers. In fact, he implied any new offer would be less than 14 cents although employers previously had accepted the fact-finding board's recommendation. The union appeared to be getting ready for a long struggle. Harry Bridges, head of the ILWU, is expected by the middle of next week from San Francisco to take personal charge of the strike.

200 Youths in Boys' State on Way Home

Corvallis, July 2 (AP)—The 200 youths who came to this year's "Boys' State," were dispersing today—with two of them particularly happy. The two were Ted Demeritt, Malin, and Ralph Thayer, Portland, both of whom were awarded an expense-paid trip to the national forum of good government in Washington, D.C., in August. Nine boys were chosen last night as junior counselors for next year's session. Among them were Demeritt, Thayer, John Benedict of Eugene, Bob Jones of Salem, and Kent Allworth of Corvallis.

Union Votes for Strike at Fords

Detroit, July 2 (AP)—UAW-CIO local 600, representing 60,000 workers at the Rouge plant of the Ford Motor Co., today voted a strike, subject to call by the international. The local announced tabulation of the secret ballot showed 2,902 favoring strike action and 172 opposed, with nearly 57,000 abstaining from voting. The big local thus became the third Ford unit to authorize the UAW leadership to call a strike. Since the union ordered the strike polls a week ago, Ford workers at the firm's Mount Road plant here and one at St. Paul, Minn., have taken similar action. The strike poll results were announced as the union and company agreed to extend their current contract on a day-to-day basis. The two are at odds over union demands for a $100-a-month pension and a wage increase. Another policy change, described as an "inventive" proposal, permits heads of families with children under 16 who receive state aid for food to earn enough to pay for fuel, rent and utilities without endangering their state food grants. Previously the food grant was reduced by the amount the head of the family earned. Such heads of families, having no regular jobs although being able to work, are eligible for the food grants. The new policy, Olzendam said, will cost the state more money, at least while it is being started. He made no estimate on how many would be affected by the two proposals. He said he was trying to economize wherever possible as "it's very apparent to me the people of the state do not want to pay more taxes."

Crack Train Hits Truck; One Killed

Chicago, July 2 (AP)—The Pennsylvania railroad's passenger train "Kentuckian" collided with a truck early today, derailling four of its cars and killing the driver of the truck instantly. The train and the oil truck collided on Chicago's far south side, throwing the locomotive and four mail and express cars from the track. None of the hundreds of passengers on the train was injured. The truck driver was identified as Theodore Wolinski, 33, Chicago.

Londoners Ordered To Quit Watering

London, July 2 (AP)—Londoners got orders today to quit watering their gardens and washing their cars. The reason: Britain is having its driest weather in nearly 30 years. The metropolitan water board

New Gambling Racket Appears

Los Angeles, July 2 (AP)—A new racket is plaguing the beleaguered Los Angeles police force and its new chief, Maj. Gen. W. A. Worton of the U.S. Marines. It is baseball gambling, by television. Casinos are springing up in various sections of the city. Croupiers stand behind green tables and sing out frequently changing odds on plays of the game being televised. Will the batter fly out, single, strike out? Will the runner go on the next pitch? There's betting action on every move, and of course, it's against the law. Worton Succeeds C. B. Horrall, who retired during a grand jury investigation of the police vice squad and underworld activities.

Tryphena Rebekahs Guests in Stayton

Silverton—Tryphena Rebekah No. 38 members making a visitation to Stayton were asked to meet their state president, Mrs. Lela Ramsey of Madras, who was on her official trip to the Stayton lodge. The hostess lodge put on the initiatory work. Mrs. Ramsey talked on the good of the order and gave instructions to the members.
