They first visited at Fruitland, Idaho, with former neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Alvi Harp and in Walla Walla, Wash., with Mrs. Stowell's sister and family. They then drove north to the summer resort of Banff in Canada where they spent three days driving on to Calgary to visit Mr. Stowell's sister whom he had not seen for 22 years, his brother and family and several homes of his nieces and nephews. They came home through Glazier park and stopped for a visit with another sister of Mrs. Stowell's at Grandview, Wash.

Drinks Flow Despite Strike

Reno, Nev., July 5 (AP)—Millionaires, card dealers and cowboy crooners took off bar aprons and went back to their own occupations today after the week-end Fourth of July celebration on record here.

The city's bars and restaurants were struck by the AFL Bartenders and Restaurant Workers' union Sunday as an estimated 25,000 tourists thronged the nation's widest-open city during a three-day rodeo celebration.

The strike closed the town's 150 restaurants. But as tourists departed today, the strike became serious. The Reno Central Trades and Labor council, representing 8,000 members in 36 unions, pledged "fullest support" and told members not to cross picket lines.

Halvorson Company Offers Only Bid

The Halvorson Construction company of Salem was the only bidder on a bridge construction and grading project in central Idaho, with an offer of $117,800, according to W. H. Lynch, division engineer in Portland.

The bid was opened at Missoula, Mont., Friday. The work consists of grading and constructing a small timber bridge on a concrete foundation on the Elk City highway, a forest road in Idaho county about 30 miles east of Grangeville.

Award of the contract to the Halvorson company has been recommended.

Early July Sky Read and Reviewed by Astronomer

By J. HUGH PRUETT
Though strange it may seem with summer heat here, our earth is now at its greatest distance, 94,500,000 miles, from the sun. This is 3,000,000 miles farther away than at the closest approach early last January.

Despite our relative remoteness, our northern hemisphere is now tipped sunward and receives more direct solar heat than when tipped away six months ago. This inclination far more than offsets the effect of greater distance.

Venus is now brilliant low in the west northwest not long after sunset. This planet sets well toward the northeast over an hour after the sun.

Saturn, still near the bright star Regulus, but somewhat farther from it than a month ago, is well above the western point of the horizon in the deepening twilight.

Gorgeous Jupiter comes over the skyline in the southeast a little over an hour after sunset. Three weeks hence, it will rise before sunset.

Mercury and Mars are now

Best answer when the open road calls...

The oil that stops 80% of engine wear

Summer vacations are tough on motors. There's the harmful grindstone effect of road dirt. And there's the threat of internal rust, (cause of 80% of engine wear), when your car stands idle. RPM Motor Oil is especially compounded to keep dirt dispersed between oil drains—and to prevent harmful internal rust. When the open road calls, go with "RPM"—it's first choice in the West.
