Miss Hills to Quit Teaching

Miss Joy Hills, principal of Leslie junior high school for the past five years and an employee of the Salem school district since 1928, with the exception of a two-year leave of absence, submitted her resignation to Superintendent Frank B. Bennett Wednesday. The resignation states that Miss Hills will become associated with the state department of education as director of teacher education and certification.

Miss Hills was with the state department during the two-year period beginning in 1937 when she was on leave from the Salem schools. The position she now assumes is considered an advancement over her previous post.

Miss Hills came to the Salem system in 1928 as a teacher, teaching in Parrish and Leslie junior high school as well as the senior high where she became the head of the department of social studies. She took over the principalship of Leslie in 1944.

No successor to Miss Hills has been named although Superintendent Bennett said several persons were under consideration.

Capitol Underground—Loraine Poindexter, typist in the secretary of state's office and one of the first state employees to use the new tunnel between the capitol and the new office building, demonstrates the height of the passage way 380 feet long and eight square.

Air-Conditioning Work at State House Is Disrupting

Things are pretty much in a turmoil in the basement and on the second floor of the state capitol as a large force of workmen are engaged in installing an air conditioning system. On the ground floor of the capitol, where a large force of employees of the secretary of state's office are working, dust has been flying for weeks. First, a portion of the wall was punctured for the entrance of the tunnel between the capitol building and the new state office building under construction. This work is not yet completed.

Then began the work of installing ducts to provide for air cooling for the offices in the basement. Heretofore there has been no ventilation for workers in the basement as there are no windows. At both ends of the building on the second floor, a new ventilating system is being installed for the committee rooms used by the legislature.

To accomplish this, workmen have torn out the false ceiling in the hallways to install the air ducts to provide the flow of air into the committee rooms. Several years ago the ventilating of the senate and house chambers was readjusted with the result that it is not believed necessary to make any further installations in these quarters.

The Western Engineering company of Portland is installing the air conditioning system having won the contract at a cost of $62,896. The work is expected to be completed within 60 days.

Sketchers to Meet—The Creative art group of the Salem Art association will hold a sketching trip Thursday evening, meeting at 7 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Emma Drennen, at Hoyt and Church streets. The group will visit the hill back of McKinley school.

Egg Prices Hiked 2 Cents Dozen

Egg prices jumped for a two-cent advance on large grades here Wednesday, and one and two cents on medium and smaller grades.

In the new listings, buying quotations for eggs follow: Extra large AA, 58 cents; large AA, 57 cents; large A, varying from 55 to 58 cents at various local dealers; medium AA, 52 cents; medium A, varies from 50 to 54 cents among local dealers; pullets, 32-35 cents. A seasonal decline in production and a shortage of supply are reasons given for the boosts at this time, the local market following the Portland market. All other produce remained unchanged in price here Wednesday.

Death Toll

But the heat was on full blast in the central, eastern and southern states. Some rain fell in the upper lakes region and north central states. But generally after the showers the mercury started to climb and humidity increased.

A mass of cool air from northwestern Canada brought relief to parts of Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin. It never reached sweltering Chicago, where the mercury hit above 90 yesterday for the sixth consecutive day. A high of 95 was forecast today.

New temperature records for the date were set in many cities yesterday as the mercury ranged between 80 and 100. Philadelphia's 99.2 was the summer season's hottest day. At Lancaster, Pa., the reading was 101 for the second straight day.

Tokyo Rose

The defense used nine challenges. Much testimony of a preliminary nature was expected before the government presents recordings of radio Tokyo broadcasts.

The government, for example, must establish that the defendant is a United States citizen, owing allegiance to this country. One of the defense contentions is that Mrs. D'Aquila became a citizen of Portugal when she married her Portuguese husband.

First Complaint on North Fork Road

First complaint as to the proposed changing of routing of the Mehama-Elkhorn road up the Little North Fork of the Santiam by switching it from the north to the south side of the river between Keel creek and Lumker's bridge has been registered with the county clerk by S. C. Dark who owns property on the south side of the river which he says has one highway and he doesn't want his land "cut to ribbons" by roads. He says he has sold some of his property along the river and these new owners also will object.

The road, he adds, would destroy a natural barrier to keep neighbors' cattle from his place, would make a high speed road endangering his cattle and also allow them to roam miles from home.

He says that the road up the river on the other side needs attention and that the work should be directed to repairing the big slide and also other hazards he says exist to log trucks and the school bus.
