

County Court Listens to Silverton Road Disputants

Fifty persons, 44 of them favoring the route chosen by engineers of the Federal Bureau of Roads for the Salem-Silverton road, and six opposing that route and favoring the present route, crowded the Marion county court room for a hearing on the route Friday morning.

20 Employees of UN Probed

Washington, July 15 (AP)—Attorney General Clark disclosed today that some 20 or more persons attached to the United Nations headquarters in New York are being investigated by the justice department.

Clark, testifying before a senate judiciary subcommittee, mentioned no precise figure on UN employees. But he said the department "has espionage and intelligence investigations pending concerning approximately 685 aliens." He added that about four per cent involve persons attached to the UN.

Four per cent of 685 would be about 27 or 28.

"This is not to imply," Clark said, "that these parties are actively engaged in espionage or intelligence work but merely that available information requires these investigations and that they are present in progress."

He went on to say that one employee of the UN "is reported to be a contact of a suspected agent of an iron curtain country."

Clark added: "Another employee, who is suspected of working for the intelligence service of an iron curtain country, is believed to have obtained a United Nations position through an embassy official of that country."

Can-Can Dance By Margaret

London, July 15 (AP)—"Arry and his old woman," "Arriet, had something besides the dollar crisis and the heat to discuss over their pint of beer tonight—legs. Not just ordinary legs, mind you, but royal, blue-blooded legs, covered in sheer black silk stockings, set off by a pair of frilly pants, and twinkling in the saucy can-can.

The legs, no less, of her royal highness, Princess Margaret. The princess' legs became news this week at a fancy dress ball at the home of American Ambassador Lewis Douglas.

The king's younger daughter, with Sharman Douglas, the ambassador's daughter, and 10 other girls trotted out before 250 guests.

They were dressed in the traditional can-can girl's costume, complete with red decorations and feathers in their hats.

The band struck up the usual can-can tune, the girls did their stuff.

When they were finished the guests asked for more, and Princess Margaret and her troupe did it all over again.

Princess Elizabeth and her husband, the duke of Edinburgh, also were at the party. But they played it conservative—coming dressed as a housemaid and a butler.

Shocking London and causing talk is nothing new for the 18-year-old Princess Margaret.

City Asks Bids on Interceptor Sewer

The city of Salem has issued invitation for bids for construction of the interceptor sewer. Bids will be received by City Recorder Alfred Mundt until 1 p.m. August 3.

The city had planned to do the work itself, but pressing need of drainage work in the north part of the city which calls for service of the city crews working on the sewer project, cause a change of plans.

The line will extend from the sewage disposal site on North River road to Union street. A small section of 30 or 40 feet has been done by city forces.

Two Hold-up Men Routed at Dagwood's

State police reported Friday that an attempted holdup of the Dagwood burger and chili stand on Highway 99E south of Salem was frustrated Thursday night.

The officers were called by Harry J. Coriell, owner of the establishment, who told them that two men, one armed with a gun and the other with a knife, had attempted to hold up their stand.

One shot was fired at Mrs. Coriell, but she was unharmed, and another shot was fired when her husband tossed a chair at the men. They fled without taking anything.

Britain Upset On Cripps' Plan

London, July 15 (AP)—Britain's plan to slash dollar purchases 25 per cent caused a storm in the London morning press today. All newspapers except the labor (government) party organ took a dim view.

Sir Stafford Cripps, Britain's economic boss, told the house of commons yesterday cuts will be made in purchases of cotton, steel, non-ferrous metals, timber, paper, pulp, tobacco and sugar that have to be paid for in dollars.

He said Britain would try to buy them outside the dollar zone.

To which the conservative Daily Telegraph asked why, if these things could be bought without using dollars, Cripps had not done so earlier.

The Financial Times, London equivalent of the Wall Street Journal, opposed the plan saying: "Alternative sources of supply might be in high-cost non-dollar areas. The result of obtaining them must therefore be to increase our prices and to make the solution of the main problem—reduction of British costs—all the harder."

Britain must buy raw materials to make the goods she sells in dollar areas.

The Times said it was hard to see how dollar-import cuts will "allow industry to keep up its recent rate of business."

Dock Unions Sue For $1,500,000

Honolulu, July 15 (AP)—A $1,500,000 damage action marked Hawaii's lingering waterfront strike today—the 76th day since CIO stevedores tied up the ports for a 32 cents an hour wage increase.

The damage suit was filed by Matson Navigation company, the largest shipping firm serving the islands. It asked $20,000 additional damages for each day the tieup continues.

Matson named three defendants: The International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union, to which 2,000 striking stevedores belong; the CIO Marine Cooks and Stewards union, and the Independent Pacific Marine Firemen, Oilers, Watertenders and Wipers association.

A spokesman for Matson said the suit was filed yesterday under provisions of the Taft-Hartley act. The provisions, he said, authorize companies to "sue for damages resulting from illegal acts by unions" and for "damages by reason of breach of existing contracts."

The suit charges the two maritime unions with breach of contracts. Firemen and stewards walked off five of the 10 Matson ships tied up here by the strike. The walkouts came on when Matson tried to sail them back to San Francisco and when two others were seized temporarily under federal court orders for unloading cargo.

In opposing the re-routing of the highway the group represented by Heltzel pointed to the valuable farm land that would be taken for the road and mentioned that a number of farms would be damaged by being cut in half or into odd shapes. They protested the construction of a second highway so close to a present highway and of the $75,000 to be spent on an overhead crossing.

Other Speakers
Speaking in behalf of the new route besides Dr. Loar were Alf O. Nelson, Lowell Brown, L. C. Eastman, C. C. Parton, J. D. Drake, Si Runyan. Opposing it were Mrs. Nellie Lorenzen, Alvin Krug and Alfred Jensen. Not protesting the road but questioning the location of the Cascade highway was Jonas Byberg.

At the conclusion of the hearing Judge Grant Murphy reminded the group that the $425,000 had been allotted for this route and the county court had no part in choosing the route then commented that Marion county was only one of the counties in District No. 2 allotted money. He noted there were other projects that could use the money in other counties and that they would be glad to get it. He then reminded them that Marion county was the biggest contributor to the government fund in district No. 2 and was not now getting back from the federal government what had been her yearly contribution.

Order Strike on Espee July 22

San Francisco, July 15 (AP)—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen today called a strike against Southern Pacific railroad for July 22 which will tie up both passenger and freight service on the line in a seven-state area.

A spokesman for the railroad, largest in the west, said the walkout would tie us up practically 100 per cent.

J. J. Cochran, general chairman of the brotherhood in San Francisco, said the strike would affect Southern Pacific's service in Texas, New Mexico, California, Utah, Nevada, Arizona and Oregon.

Cochran denied the strike had anything to do with repeal of California's "full-crew" law. Voters at the general election last November voted in favor of an "anti-featherbedding" initiative, which eliminated many extra brakemen assigned to trains as a safety measure under a 37-year-old law.

"The brotherhood is seeking in all these states to acquire a third brakeman on freight trains of over 40 cars under certain conditions," Cochran said. "It also seeks a third helper on switching crews in yards having a grade higher than 1/2 of one per cent in order to increase safety."

Cochran estimated the strike would affect approximately 8,000 workers on Southern Pacific, including dining car stewards, railroad brakemen on both passenger and freight trains, conductors who are members of the BRT; men in the yard service.

The United States Census of Business, now under way, will cover almost 3 million retail stores, wholesale houses and service trades.

Marines Ready For 'Invasion'

Aboard the U.S. Sixth Task Fleet, Mediterranean Sea, July 15 (AP)—Some 1200 U.S. Marines hit the beach on the island of Crete tomorrow—but the "invasion" is just a training exercise, approved by the Greek government.

Never before have the Marines made one of their famed landings so far east of the United States.

The landing will be the culmination of a training operation of the Sixth task fleet, which is stationed in the Mediterranean. The fleet's commander, Vice Adm. Forest P. Sherman, conducts such exercises nearly every month to keep his force in fighting trim.

Daylight Time to Remain in Oregon

Portland, July 15 (AP)—Northwest Oregon and Willamette valley points can keep daylight saving time the rest of the summer.

Sponsors pushed daylight saving petitions above the 15,926 signatures needed to prevent a state law from banning fast time.

Lee Stidd, Jr., Portland, who headed the petition-gatherers, said a total of 17,025 valid signatures was reached yesterday. The petitions were to be filed in Salem today.

They will force a vote in November, 1950, on whether daylight saving time is a matter for local option, as at present.

Eye for Sale—Paul Richter (above), 46, unemployed painter of Kansas City, Mo., who has offered to sell his left eye for $5000, covers his right eye and reads a calendar on opposite side of room. He made the offer as a last desperate hope of prolonging his wife's life. Richter hopes that with the money she could spend her remaining days on earth "in peace and comfort." Plan Survey Of Industry

Washington, July 15 (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Sawyer announced plans today for a nationwide survey of business conditions to be used as the basis for possible government action where and if needed.

Business groups and businessmen will be consulted, Sawyer told reporters after today's cabinet meeting with President Truman. He added that he personally will head up the survey.

The findings, and the recommendations of businessmen, will be turned over to the 20-member committee appointed by Mr. Truman yesterday, with the responsibility of directing federal efforts to relieve regional unemployment problems.

If the survey indicates the need for steering defense and other federal contracts into certain areas, or to speed up public works in distressed regions, such measures will be recommended, Sawyer said. He disclosed that he will meet with the New England council, a region-wide business body, in Boston on July 25.

Sawyer also will visit Detroit, Kansas City, Atlanta, Texas, and the Pacific coast.
