Telephone Discussion — J. D. Welch of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company will speak on the subject "Electronics Show" during Wednesday's luncheon of the Salem Rotary club. The July meeting for the board members and committee chairmen will be held at the Marion hotel Wednesday evening.

Dress Up Day — "Dress Up," third special day of the Salem playgrounds, will be held next Friday afternoon at the neighborhood playgrounds. Costumes will be judged in five classifications: Prettiest, best characterization, best foreign, funniest and most unusual.

Record Number Cars — Oregon has a record number of 602,500 motor vehicles, compared with 549,000 a year ago, the state department reported today.

To Watch Bids — County Commissioner Ed Rogers states he will watch with particular interest opening of bids by the state highway commission August 2 on a double 7 x 7 concrete box culvert to be installed on Tunnel creek on the North Santiam highway above Detroit. The county has installed several similar culverts the past year or two by use of county labor and he is anxious to see how the costs will compare on similar type jobs under contract and by county work.

Hearing Set — The district boundary board Tuesday set Tuesday, August 9, at 10:30 day-light savings time for hearing petitions asking for changes in boundaries of Silver Crest and Evans Valley school districts. The changes proposed are sort of give and take affairs, each district giving up small parcels to the other in order to straighten out crooked boundary lines and also to benefit children involved. Both schools boards are said to be agreeable to the changes and no opposition is anticipated.

To Value Property — Sale of the old Noble school is in the offing, County Superintendent Agnes Booth reported to the boundary board Tuesday and gained consent of the board to ask the county assessor for a valuation of the Scotts Mills and Evans Valley districts on a proportionate basis so any proceeds from the sale of the school building or equipment may be divided between the two districts on a basis of respective assessed valuations. The Noble district was dissolved by part of it going into Scotts Mills and part into Evans valley which calls for the plan of dividing the proceeds between these two districts.

Asked to Festival — Invitations are being received by county officials and others from Fred J. Schwab of Mt. Angel urging attendance at the Oregon Flax festival there July 29-31, inclusive where elaborate plans have been made for a big event. Special feature will be display of flax products and material made of flax fiber at City hall; a country style dinner will be served at St. Mary's school, July 30 from 12 o'clock and a supper from 6 to 7 o'clock. Coronation of the queen will be July 29 at 8 o'clock, Saturday morning there will be a tour of the flax plant, creamery, oil company and warehouse. A parade is scheduled for 2 p.m., with speaking program immediately thereafter. Sunday afternoon there will be a kiddie parade followed by a baseball game. Various other shows and features are planned.

Disease Report — Thirteen cases of communicable disease were reported in Marion county during the week ending July 16. Only 52 percent of the physicians in the county turned in reports and of the 48 who did report, only seven had come in contact with communicable diseases. Those listed included five enteritis, three measles, and one each of conjunctivitis, impetigo, German measles, mumps and poliomyelitis. Six instances of dysentery were reported from state institutions.

Brannan Plan

Alken, chairman of the senate agriculture committee in the republican-controlled 80th congress, said he expects the basic features of a farm bill be authorized last year, including a flexible price support program, to be retained.

2. In the house a coalition of democrats and republicans opposing the Brannan plan rejected a compromise proposed by hard pressed sponsors of the administration bill. The proposed compromise would limit the trial run specifically to potatoes, eggs and shorn wool.

Thus the compromise offered by the administration supporters in the house coincides with the senate subcommittee's action in barring use of production payments on hogs.

The Brannan program would let the prices of perishable farm products fall to the natural level on the market. Farmers would get government checks — paid for by taxes — for the difference in those prices and what the government considers a fair price.

Phone Call Foils Suicide Effort

A Salem police report disclosed Tuesday how an apparent attempt at suicide was frustrated by a telephone call and quick rescue efforts by the first aid crew.

Police were summoned to the residence of Phillip A. Dutro, 30, 568 Union, the victim of the attempt, after he was found unconscious in his rooms.

A brother-in-law related how Dutro's wife had telephoned him from downtown Salem and became suspicious when the line went dead. She and her brother hailed a cab and rushed home. There, Dutro was found unconscious, with three gas jets wide open. The telephone was still off the hook, and windows and doors were closed.

The brother-in-law, William A. Sauer, opened windows and doors while the first aid crew was summoned. Dutro was taken to a Salem hospital, and given oxygen in a successful attempt to revive him.

Dutro was reported recovering Tuesday.

Hospital Drive

Hospital donations as an investment rather than a gift was the idea Charles A. Sprague urged the campaigners to carry to the people. Sprague headed a committee last year that made investigations and reported findings that led to the program now in progress.

Salem has needed at least 200 more hospital beds than it has for the last two years Dr. M. K. Crothers said. He spoke from the point of view of the doctors who are giving generous support to the program. Dr. Crothers said that by accepted hospital standards a building is considered overcrowded if 75 or 80 percent of its beds are filled as an average. In Salem, he said, the average is 90 percent.

E. T. Franklin, director of the campaign, asked each worker to make $400 his minimum objective. Pledges, he said, are payable in six installments over a three-year period. Ford Watkins, general chairman over the whole program, told about the progress so far. The co-chairmen of the women's division, Mrs. Ralph E. Moody and Mrs. Chandler Brown, and the men's division chairmen, Charles Edwards and Coburn Grabenhorst, were introduced.

The corps of workers, including leaders, numbers about 300 persons, most of whom attended the dinner.

Justice Dies

Murphy said that if the people of Michigan wanted their governor "to shoot the workers out of the factories and thus end sit-down strikes once and for all," they would have to get another governor to do it. "If the American workingmen are wrong," he declared, "I believe they can be taught the right way without writing the lesson in blood." (He said later that he believed sit-down strikes were wrong.)

During the strike crisis President Franklin D. Roosevelt described him as "a profoundly religious, able and law-abiding governor."

Governor Murphy was defeated for re-election. The defeat hurt him, for he felt he had done a good job in pioneering state reforms. Among other things, he had put into effect the state's first civil service law and had overhauled the penal and corrections system.

Dr. Miller Hearing Date to Be Set

The state civil service commission will meet here Friday to decide on a date for a hearing for Dr. Horace G. Miller, dismissed Oregon State hospital psychiatrist.

Dr. Miller, who was fired July 6 for insubordination, asked the commission to review his case.

Gray said the committee had "evidence which indicates that General Waitt improperly furnished personnel data to an individual not in the military service and who was not entitled to receive such data."
The evidence also indicated, Gray said, that Feldman furnished to a contractor's representative "procurement information under circumstances which appear irregular."
Later, Rep. Shafter (R., Mich.) contended that Vaughan was "implicated in the same case." He demanded Vaughan's suspension.

Battle for Palace
Both the president and the congress have decreed a state of emergency suspending all constitutional guarantees.
One rumor sweeping the city said the assassination of Arana was brought on by a split in the armed forces over the week-end. It said the split was caused when Arana supporters won the elections for members of the defense council late last week, defeating candidates backed by Arbenz. Following the elections, Col. Francisco Cosenza, a close friend of Arbenz, was fired as chief of the air force.
A truck driver told an Associated Press correspondent he witnessed Arana's slaying. He said six men with machine guns forced the army chief out of his station wagon near Lake Matitlan, southwest of the capital, and then cut down both Arana and a police official with a burst of fire.

Airport Off Air
Brownsville, Texas, July 19 (AP)—Pan American Airways said today the company radio to the Guatemala city airport is off the air.
Violence was reported in the city today after yesterday's slaying of the army chief of staff.
Pan American station manager here, Finley Howard, said the company is dispatching its regular Guatemala-bound flight at 10:45 a.m. as scheduled. It will land at San Salvador if it can't land at Guatemala City.
