

Klondike Kate Fliers' Guest

Lebanon, July 21—Guest of honor at Lebanon's breakfast for sportsmen pilots of Oregon and the state's Flying Farmers on July 31, will be a well known national figure, Klondike Kate, who will fly in for the festivities beginning at 8 a.m.

An entertainer in Alaska during gold rush days, she has become one of the nation's most colorful women, the subject of countless feature stories, and in frequent demand in Hollywood as adviser for stage settings of Alaska gold camps. Until her recent marriage to W. J. Van Duren, she lived in Bend, and was well known for her many philanthropies.

Service clubs of Lebanon are aiding the Lebanon chapter of Oregon Sportsmen Pilots in preparing a welcome for the expected 150 planes piloted by sportsmen pilots, and about 50 Flying Farmer ships.

Breakfasts will be served by special arrangement at the Lebanon coffee shop, Pruitts, and the Pine Lodge.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will furnish courtesy cars for the guests.

All in this area who are interested in seeing the landing and take-off of Lebanon's first mass plane flight, are invited to the local airport. There is no admission charge and ample parking space for cars will be arranged at the field.

The Santiam Wranglers will assist with parking and generally aid in policing the runways.

Gullies Cut Supply Lines

That gully cutting across a field of good cropland cuts across the supply line to your grocery store.

The food that could have been produced from the top-soil that was washed away in forming that gully will never reach grocery shelves.

In this pointed manner, W. M. Tate, chairman of the Marion county agricultural conservation committee, calls attention to the responsibility of everyone—not just the farmers alone—in protecting soil resources.

As the chairman explains: "The gully is not just a loss to the farmer who happens to be owning the land. It is a loss to all who depend on the land for their food and clothing. And the loss extends to those who will be depending on the land in the future."

"In most cases a gully is but the more dramatic evidence of erosion. Less spectacular but more serious is the slow, steady loss of top-soil in the area that feeds into the gully. The gully is the open door through which tons and tons of soil are being carried away."

Bond Issue Voted For Buell School

Dallas—Buell residents, who on the first ballot for the construction of a new addition to their school cast a tie vote, made it unanimous on the second try. They voted a $15,000 bond issue with a count of 34 yes, against no negative votes. The first vote was 14 to 14 on June 14.

A basement room in use at the present time has been condemned, and the school faced the prospect of losing basic school support funds unless action was taken.

Vaughn Gets Mock Medal

New York, July 21 (AP)—Newsweek magazine says that President Truman gave a mock decoration to his military aid, Maj. Gen. Harry A. Vaughn, for his recent brush with newsmen who questioned him about "five percenters" who allegedly used influence to obtain government contracts.

The incident occurred July 6 when Vaughn returned with his family from a three-week vacation trip to Guatemala. Vaughn declined to comment on a coming congressional investigation of "five percenters," and expressed anger when one reporter questioned him about the financing of his vacation trip. He said each participant paid his own fare.

Vaughn reported for duty last Monday. Newsweek said the president, looking severe, fished a pink-ribboned package out of his desk and commanded the general front and center.

"In recognition of your courage and intrepidity over and beyond the call of duty," Newsweek said the president intoned. "I hereby decorate you with the medal Operation Union Station."

The president then pinned the medal on Vaughn's uniform. It consisted of a bar inscribed "Operation Union Station, July 6, 1949, Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughn, U.S.A., from President Harry S. Truman." Suspended from the bar was a disc bearing a picture of a desolate stretch of railroad tracks.

Newsweek said Vaughn was relieved to get off so easily.
