

Classic Plays Start Tuesday

Ashland, Ore., July 28—Stage door Johnnies who have been watching preparations for the Oregon Shakespearean Festival gave unqualified praise today for the excellence of this summer's program after witnessing first dress rehearsals.

Judgment will be passed on their extravagant claims beginning on Tuesday evening, August 2, when the ninth annual drama program opens in Ashland's Elizabethan theater.

"The perfection demanded by the producing directors both from the theatrical standpoint and Shakespearean authenticity is readily seen in the finished productions," reports Henry Bussey, NEA feature writer who is covering the festival. "And the actors have responded magnificently to the coaching of the past two months so that we are confident that the 1949 season will be tops."

Marshall E. Woodell, festival association treasurer, reminds that an unprecedented number of inquiries has made it necessary to reserve all seats this

No Pix Made of Winnie Swimming

Milan, Italy, July 28 (AP)—Photographers cruised out to take pictures of Winston Churchill swimming yesterday, but they were stoned by police. Several rocks nearly hit their motorboat.

Churchill is vacationing at Gardone on Lake Garda in northern Italy. He has requested privacy from newsmen and photographers.

Gabrielle Mundo, assistant Milan police chief has ordered confiscated any pictures of Churchill in swimming togs.
