

Brig. Gen. McClure Holds Military District Command

Command of the Northern Military district with the headquarters at Vancouver Barracks, Wash., was taken over this month by Brig. Gen. Robert A. McClure, formerly assistant division commander of the 4th infantry division at Fort Ord.

McClure follows Maj. Gen. Albert E. Brown, who retired the last of June.

The general, a native of Mattoon, Ill., was educated at the Kentucky Military Institute. His first service was in the Philippine Constabulary prior to his commission in the regular army in 1917. He served in the Philippines and China during 1917 and 1918 before returning to the United States as a captain.

A graduate of the Infantry School at Fort Benning, the Cavalry school at Fort Riley, the Command and General Staff School at Fort Leavenworth and the Army War College in Washington, D. C. McClure, following his graduation from the latter in June, 1936, remained on there as executive officer of the college.

Attache in London
From July 16, 1940, until August 2, 1941, the general was personnel officer for the Fourth Army with his headquarters at the Presidio of San Francisco. He then was ordered to London, England, as assistant military attache. March 24, 1942, he was given the assignment of military attache in London.

In September, 1942, McClure was designated intelligence officer for the Allied Force Headquarters, European theater of operations, in England. The following December he moved to the North African theater of operations and was assigned to the information and censorship section. In November, 1943,

Brig. Gen. Robert A. McClure

McClure returned to the ETO and in April, 1944, was assigned as G-6 (psychological warfare), European theater of operations in the British Isles. Additional duty given McClure was that of director, information control service, U. S. military government in Germany from March, 1945 to 1947.

On returning from his foreign service in Germany in 1947 he was given the assignment of chief, New York field office, civil affairs division. He left there in February of this year to go to his assignment at Fort Ord from where he came to take command of the Northern Military district.

Aided United Nations

The general, who is credited with being largely responsible for the United Nations information activities in North Africa, occupied territories and the combat zone, was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for services during the Tunisian campaign. During this campaign he formulated and directed the public relations policy for the allied forces. His other U. S. decorations are an Oak Leaf Cluster to the Distinguished Service Medal, Legion of Merit with Oak Leaf Cluster and the Bronze Star.

His foreign decorations include Commander of the British Empire, Commander of the Legion of Honor and the Croix de Guerre with Palm.

The McClures will make their home at Vancouver. They have two sons, Capt. Robert D. McClure and Lt. Richard A. McClure.

Cowboys Fined As Strikers

Cheyenne, Wyo., July 28 (AP)—Cowboys Gerald Roberts and Clay Carr, accused of leading a strike of rodeo contestants early this month at Reno, Nev., were fined $500 each Wednesday by the International Rodeo association and the Rodeo Cowboys' association.

The fines were announced by R. J. Hoffman of Cheyenne, IRA president, and E. N. Boylen of Pendleton, Ore., IRA commissioner.

They said IRA and RCA directors agreed in a joint session here July 25 to reimburse the Reno Rodeo and Livestock association for $4,000 which it had to add to its July 4 purse in order to hold its rodeo.

The contestants struck to enforce a demand for a bigger purse.

The announcement said the strike was "unauthorized" and that RCA contestants already had competed for two days at Reno under published rules and prizes.
