Junior CDA Elects New Officers

Meeting in St. Joseph's hall this week the Salem court of the Junior Catholic Daughters of America elected their officers for the coming year.

Miss Dolores Brunkel, who will be a senior at Sacred Heart academy, was elected president; Miss Marjorie Davey, vice president; Miss Grace Cory, secretary; and Miss Nancy Brown, reporter. Miss Lois Schwab, president of the Junior court for 1948-49, presided over the meeting.

A social hour followed the business. A moving picture of the girls taken at their summer camp at Silver Creek, also a reel taken of the 1949 graduating class at Sacred Heart academy, were shown.

Miss Reiling Wed at Detroit

Silverton — Mrs. Gregory Reiling is announcing the marriage of her daughter, Eulalie, to Lt. Robert McCormack, June 18, at Detroit, Mich., at St. Paul's Catholic church in a 9:30 morning ceremony.

Mrs. Reiling made the trip east to attend the wedding of her daughter, remaining as a house guest at the home of another son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Pike (Thelma Reiling).

Mrs. McCormack is remembered in Silverton for her service as registered nurse, serving with the air corps during the last world war, going from location at the George Wright hospital in Spokane, to Percy Jones hospital in Battle Creek, Mich. She was two years on location in Osaka, Japan, with the rank of lieutenant. Lt. McCormack recently has been at the Panama Canal Zone. They are to make their home for some time near Sacramento, Calif.

During her stay in the east, Mrs. Reiling was guest of the Wallace Pikes on a six weeks' travel tour of Canada, visiting in Quebec and Montreal, meeting the newlyweds at Niagara

Jeannette Kirkwood Bride Sunday at Amity Church

Amity—One of the pretty weddings of the summer was that of Miss Jeannette Kirkwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kirkwood, and Lamar Aldridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Aldridge, of Amity. The service was solemnized Sunday afternoon, July 24 at the Christian church at 3 o'clock before an altar decorated with a white arch and baskets of all white flowers.

The young couple exchanged their vows in a double ring ceremony. Rev. William F. Morse, pastor of the church read the service. Mr. Kirkwood escorted his youngest daughter down the white carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage. The alternate pews were marked with sprays of white gladioluses, tied with white satin ribbon. Just before the ceremony, Mrs. Jessie Kirkwood, Beauty of Salem, cousin of the bride, sang Mrs. Winnifred Bantari played the wedding music. The bride wore a wedding gown of white nylon marquisette, fashioned with close fitting bodice, long sleeves, round neckline, closed in back with small satin buttons and a full skirt, extending into a court train. She wore white gloves. The fine net veil with embroidered edge was held in place with a halo of the same net pleated. Each pleat was tipped with a pearl. The bride carried a white Bible on the top of which were white gardenias, and carnations, showered with white satin ribbons and sweet peas. Her only jewelry was a rhinestone bracelet, a gift from the bridegroom.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Robert Shields, sister of the bride, gowned in a pale yellow nylon dotted Swiss floor length dress, that was styled with a close fitting bodice, short puff sleeves and low round neckline. She carried a crescent bouquet centered with an apricot colored begonia encircled by pompon dahlias and tied with orchid ribbon.

The bridesmaids were Miss Yvonne Kirkwood, niece of the bride, and Miss Phyllis Jorgensen. They wore frocks of pale green nylon dotted Swiss in the same style as the matron of honor and carried nosegays of mixed flowers.

Denna Shields, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a white taffeta dress with petticoat of lace showing at the edge of the skirt and carried a miniature nosegay of white centered with a yellow flower.

Best man was George Watts, cousin of the bridegroom. Ushers were Ewart Callendar and Frank Sattler.

The wedding party formed a line at the back of the auditorium and greeted the guests.

They then went on to the country home of the bridegroom's parents, where the reception was held on the patio and lawn. Mrs. Glenn Watts, aunt of the bridegroom, cut the wedding cake, and Mrs. Ersel Kirkwood, Salem, aunt of the bride, presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Nolan Wanless, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Clinton Schoemaker, sister of the bridegroom, assisted with the serving.

The couple left for a few days wedding trip to the Oregon beaches. For going away the bride wore a two-piece satin suit of the new fall shade of blue, white hat, corsage of gardenias and white accessories.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Kirkwood wore an afternoon dress of silver gray with black hat, black accessories and corsage of deep wine gladioluses. Mrs. Aldridge wore a rose crepe afternoon dress, black hat and corsage of contrasting flowers.

The couple are graduates of Amity high school. He has just completed a year at the University of Oregon. They will be at home in Amity after August 1.

Buttermilk Lemon Pudding
Ingredients: ½ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon all-purpose flour, grated rind of 1 lemon, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 2 eggs (separated), 1 tablespoon butter or margarine (melted), ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 cup buttermilk.

Method: Put the sugar and flour in a mixing bowl and mix well; add the grated lemon rind, and lemon juice. Beat the egg whites until they form peaks that curl over slightly when rotary or electric beater is slowly withdrawn; without washing egg beater beat yolks until thick and pale colored. Add the beaten yolks, the melted butter or margarine, the salt and the buttermilk to first mixture; stir well. Add egg whites and fold in until no white blobs remain. Pour into custard cups; set in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate (350 F.) oven for about 45 minutes. Chill, invert on individual serving dishes if desired; there will be a cake-like base and a custard-sauce top.
