

Horse Show Bosses—Harry V. Carson and S. Parzy Rose, two of the three-man committee in charge of the third annual western horse show at McGinnis field in Silverton Saturday night. The third member of the committee, Elmer Lorence, was in Candaa with the Oregon Mounted posse, when this picture was taken.

Third Annual Horse Show At Silverton Saturday Night

Horse lovers of the Willamette valley are expected in Silverton Saturday night at 8 o'clock for the third annual western horse show sponsored by the Silverton Rotary club and assisted by the Silverton Saddle club.

Cecil Edwards, Salem, will be the announcer and judge of events will be Roy Simmons also of Salem. Gus Herr and Earl Spencer will appear as clowns while special entertainment is being provided by Pat Rolfsen, Portland. Proceeds will be used by school district No. 4 in the repair and improvements of facilities of McGinnis athletic field.

Scheduled events are the grand entry and parade, followed by stake bending by a six-rider team and a drill by the Oregon Mounted posse, Salem. Matched pairs will also be judged and an apple scurry held with a six-rider team.

The Salem Saddle club is holding a drill with judging in the Palomino class followed by musical sacks, an open event for paired riders. Contesting will be horses at walk trot and skat with a man vs. horse feature event, the Silverton high school challenging the Silverton Saddle club from a standing start 20 yards to a stake and return.

There is also a classification for pleasure horse with the Silverton Saddle club appearing in a quadrille. Concluding the program will be a flag race for a six-man team. Prizes are offered winners in each event.

Icebreaker Disabled
Seattle, Aug. 5 (AP)—The navy icebreaker Burton Island limped toward Point Barrow, Alaska, today without its starboard propeller and part of its shaft as the coast guard cutter Northwind raced to its aid, the coast guard said.

5,000 Purebreds Entered in Fair

Livestock entries closed at the headquarters of the Oregon State Fair in Salem with a record number of purebreds entered in most classifications.

Manager Leo Spitzbart expects nearly 5,000 animals to be on hand when the fair opens Labor day. Competition will be particularly keen in all beef and dairy cattle classes.

Meanwhile, the 187 acres of fairgrounds are being touched up in preparation for the state's biggest outdoor show. The last major bit of construction for the 1949 exposition, a "kiddieland" amusement area, is about completed. The 77 acres of parking area have been completely disced and leveled.

Demand for commercial display space is reported to be the heaviest in history. The farm machinery area alone will occupy two of the eight blocks on the fair's main midway. Helene Hughes, veteran San Francisco theatrical producer, has assured Spitzbart the night vaudeville show in front of the racing grandstand will be the finest ever offered at the Salem plant. Miss Hughes has also booked a trio of high wire acts to be the basis of a free midway show four times daily.

Harrison Cutler, horse show manager, has been deluged with stall requests for horses entered in the combined horse show-rodeo. Cutler expects a number of the top California show strings to be on hand. Plans now call for the combined show six nights of the fair with straight rodeo competition slated for Sunday afternoon, September 11.

Mrs. Boettiger Arrives
Portland, Aug. 5 (AP)—Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Boettiger was in Portland today, awaiting the birth of a grandchild—the first great grandchild of the late President Roosevelt.

Eugene Firm Low on Sewer Job in Salem

City Manager J. L. Franzen will recommend to the city council acceptance of the bid of Werner & Keske of Eugene for the contract to do the excavating and pipe laying for Salem's interceptor sewer.

The firm's bid of $216,974 was the lowest of three offered, and $44,008 under the next lowest, $360,982 bid by the Valley Construction company of Seattle. The third bid was $388,668 by Mullin Incorporated, also of Seattle.

The bids were announced Thursday afternoon. They were opened Wednesday afternoon and carefully sifted by Franzen and City Engineer J. H. Davis before a recommendation was decided on.

Ingrid Falls on Volcano
Hollywood, Aug. 5 (AP)—Ingrid Bergman tumbled 30 feet down the side of a volcano on the Italian island of Stromboli, then got up to work 12 more hours in front of the cameras. She suffered cuts and bruises on her left arm and leg and was treated with penicillin.

Danger of Typhoid Seen by Authority

Portland, Aug. 5 (AP)—The state sanitary engineer warned residents of the southwest hills district outside Portland Thursday that they are living on a "disease powder keg."

Curtiss M. Everts Jr. declared that lack of proper sewage disposal makes possible an outbreak of typhoid fever or other sewage-spread disease.

Everts said that the hardpan soil in the area does not absorb water well, and that consequently sewage overflows from septic tanks and runs to lowlands and roadside ditches.

The state sanitary authority has asked that a sewer system be installed in the area.
