Maulding-Cooley Wedding Beautiful Service Saturday

St. Paul's Episcopal church was the scene for one of the summer's most beautiful wedding ceremonies Saturday evening when Miss Margaret Jane Cooley, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Herbert Cooley, was married to John Phillip Maulding, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Maulding of Tillamook. The Rev. George H. Swift, rector of the church, read the vows at 8:30 o'clock before a large gathering of friends and relatives.

The church was decorated profusely in all white flowers, delphiniums, stock and larkspur. Many bouquets of them with greenery stood among candelabras with lighted tapers for mass effect at the front of the church, large bouquets of them were arranged in the windows and baskets of them were placed above the wall lights. The processional aisle was covered with a white cloth and at every other pew was a large cluster of the white blooms encircling a tall candelabrum holding a cathedral candle.

All the bride's attendants were in white with touches of American Beauty pink for contrast. Mrs. Scott Adams (Elizabeth Nelson), William Bush and Ronald Craven were soloists and Miss Ruth Bedford was at the organ. Miss Marjorie Tate and Miss Lois Frink, the latter of Dayton, lighted the candles and both wore white dotted Swiss gowns designed with full skirts gathered to eyelet beading and American Beauty colored ribbon, and each wore wristlets of American Beauty miniature nosegays. Closing the aisles as ribbon attendants were Miss June Young and Miss Antoinette Kuzmanich, the latter of Portland. They also wore dresses of white dotted Swiss with the American Beauty ribbons, their gowns being identical to those of the taper lighters.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a handsome gown of white organza over satin. The dress was designed with fitted bodice pointed in front, long pointed sleeves and a deep flesh colored net which was enhanced with two rows of accordion pleated imported French lace. The skirt was full with wide rows of the lace edging the hemline and train. The three-tiered illusion veil cascaded from an Empress Eugenie crown of pearls and rhinestone. During the ceremony the bride wore the short veil over her face. For her flowers the bride carried a bouquet of white roses, orchids and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Richard L. Cooley was matron of honor for her sister-in-law and Miss Mariann Croasian was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Marjorie Meyer of Chicago, Miss Jeanne Foster of San Francisco, Miss Charlotte Alexander, Miss Jean Claire Swift, Miss Jean Maulding of Portland, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Lester D. Green (Marylou McKay). The eight attendants wore identical frocks of white marquisette, fashioned with hooped skirts, tucked bodices with tiny buttons down the front and Peter Pan collars. All wore open crown ruffled French lace hats tied in back with American

Miss Duffy To Wed Soon

Announced for Sunday afternoon, September 4, is the wedding of Miss Florence Duffy and John S. Horton, whose engagement was announced in the spring.

News of the wedding date was told Saturday afternoon at an informal tea given by Miss Duffy's sister, Mrs. Stuart McElhinny, a group of 25 close friends of the bride-to-be being invited.

The ceremony is to be at 4 o'clock in St. Joseph's Catholic church with a reception following in the Marion hotel.

At the Saturday tea Mrs. William McElhinny and Mrs. John Kolb poured. The centerpiece was of all white blooms and pastel flowers were arranged around the room.

Miss Duffy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew P. Deady and Mr. Horton is the son of Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Horton of Baker.

GATES—A special meeting of the Gates Woman's club was called this week to make further plans for the erection of the new clubhouse which was started the first of the week. Mrs. Elmer Stewart presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Elmer Klutke was appointed chairman of the building committee, with Mrs. Robert Lewis and Mrs. Floyd Volkel assisting.

It was decided to hold a food sale Sunday, August 14, when the opening of the Santiam highway will be held, the committee in charge to be Mrs. Harold Wilson, Mrs. Theodore Burton, Miss Georgia Shane and Mrs. Harry Keiser. Members will be asked to make donations of food for the sale and the proceeds will go to the building fund.

Mrs. Joe Jun and her daughter, Miss Pat, and Mrs. Bob Lewis, recently of California, were welcomed as new members of the club. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening by the hostess, Mrs. Theodore Burton, assisted by Miss Shane and Mrs. Harold Wilson. Others present were Mrs. Floyd Volkel, Mrs. Elmer Klutke, Mrs. Albert Millsap, Mrs. Bob Lewis, Mrs. Joe Jun, Miss Pat Jun and Mrs. Elmer Stewart.

A brown silk crepe costume suit with bronze and gold beading edging the jacket and collar, the skirt being made with separate panel in back. With the costume were worn a brown hat with brown trim, brown suede accessories and kolinsky furs.

Following a trip to San Francisco and Carmel the couple will be at home in Eugene at 1342 A Street after September 10. Both will complete their senior year at University of Oregon.

Miss Morse Bride Sunday

A wedding of Sunday afternoon was that of Miss Pauline Morse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Morse, and Frank Charles Rock, Jr., Pasadena, Calif., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Rock of Salem, the ceremony being solemnized at 4 o'clock in St. Paul's Episcopal church with the Rev. George H. Swift officiating.

White gladioluses and white tapers were arranged at the altar. Before the ceremony, Miss Edith Fairham sang, and Miss Ruth Bedford was at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the blonde bride wore a handsome classic style gown of ivory satin designed with a full skirt terminating in a train. The fitted bodice was made with long sleeves and a marquisette yoke edged with a wide satin cuff finished with a knot in the center front. An ivory satin open crown headress held in place the French imported ivory illusion fingertip veil. For her flowers the bride carried ivory roses.

Mrs. Paul Lippold was her sister's matron of honor and Miss Patricia Zahare and Miss Roberta Tussing were the bridesmaids. They all wore identical frocks of ice blue slipper satin fashioned with quilted satin in boat shaped necklines and full skirts. They had matching satin mitts and carried bouquets of fuchsia roses. In their hair were coronets of flowers. Diane Lippold was flower girl for her aunt and wore a fuchsia pink frock.

William Rock was best man for his brother and ushering were James Rock, Richard Taw, Glenn Widdows and Farrell Rust.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue crepe afternoon dress with lace trim. She wore deep pink gloves and pink flowers in her hair. Mrs. Rock attended her son's marriage in a steel blue satin gown with burgundy accessories and burgundy flowers in her hair.

The newlyweds greeted their guests at a reception in the parish house.

Pouring were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. E. R. Morse, and Mrs. R. W. Wilson of Eugene, and Mrs. A. C. Loppnow or Rochester, Minn., aunts of the bridegroom, Mrs. Rafael Venegas (Sarah Morse) of Irapuato, Mexico, cut her sister's wedding cake. Assisting were Mrs. Charles S. McElhinny, Mrs. Albert Cohen, Misses Mary Phillips of Berkeley, Calif., cousin of the bride, Misses Sue McElhinny, Sally Smith, Margaret Fisher, Jean Gilmer, Diane Proctor, and Prudence Craig.

For traveling the bride wore a turquoise gabardine suit with black accessories. The couple will drive south along the coast to Los Angeles, where they will live. Mr. Rock is a research scientist with Technicolor Incorporated in the southern city.
