

Wyatt's View Vacation for Radio Tower Gets Approval

Vacation of Wyatt's View tract, location of the KSLM radio tower, in the Kingwood annexation of Polk county, was voted in the passage of an ordinance by the city council Monday night.

The area of the tract is in excess of one and a half acre, and since the area is all under ownership of the radio station and all necessary to operation of the tower no benefits are assessed by the vacation. Robert W. DeArmond, representing the owners, explained that an area of that size is necessary because it is permeated by wiring.

The ordinance was passed after a public hearing at which no objections were made.

Also enacted after public hearing, with no objections, was an ordinance permitting a change of zone from Class III special business to Class III business zone for a 50-foot property of Al Loucks Home Fuel Oil company in Block 34, North Salem, to permit the installation of fuel tanks of 50,000 gallons capacity with loading platform above them.

A third ordinance passed changes the name of Fair Oaks to Forest Hills Way, names Alpine avenue, and eliminates the name Charles street, all in the Kingwood annexation.

An ordinance bill up for third reading in the interest of a new doctors' and dentists clinic was tabled for amendment. It proposes a zone change from Class II residential to Class III business zone property of Jack Watson in Block 6 of Roberts addition, which is at 1240 Center street. The project is to convert a two-story apartment house so the first floor may be used for the clinic. The bill will be amended to make the change to Class III Special business zone so the business will be restricted to a clinic.

Acceptance of a deed to property from A. J. Flint for street purposes cancels paving and weed lines levied against the property.

Improvement of Candalaria boulevard from Doughton street to Alvarado terrace with asphalt pavement 30 feet wide was approved.

Another resolution directed H. P. Barrett to appear before the council August 22 and show cause why his taxicab license should not be revoked for failure to pay fees due on July 1.

According to previous announcement all of the three ordinance bills covering the Baldock street and traffic plan, and a resolution authorizing a contract with the highway department, were tabled until the next meeting.

A public hearing also was held Monday night on petition of M. Clark for vacation of a portion of Oxford and South Capitol streets. No objections were heard. Elmer M. Amund-

Hereford Men Will Meet Here

Two national directors of the American Polled Hereford association are expected to attend the August 15 meeting of the Oregon Polled Hereford association in Salem.

Dick Hibbard of Imbler, a native Oregonian and a director, is a well known breeder in eastern Oregon. The other guest is Fred Vanderhoof of Woodlake, Calif. Vanderhoof has just recently established a northern branch of their Woodlake operation at the Santiam Stock farm at Lebanon.

All beef men are invited to attend the 8 p.m. (DST) meeting on August 15 at the Salem Chamber of Commerce, says Ben A. Newell, secretary of the Polled Hereford association. Special entertainment of the evening will include the new American Hereford association film, "Beef Production—the Hereford Way."

Breeders who arrive in Salem early are invited by Bob Sears, association president, to meet at the Senator Coffee Shop for dinner. Sears is owner of the Circle S ranch south of Salem.

Money, the governor indicated, is not a satisfactory measure of success. "Try to be the best in your business or profession or in whatever line you want to follow," he advised, adding "I would rather be the best bootblack in town, for instance, than the worst lawyer."

Good wages and working conditions, he emphasized, however, in his opinion result in increased efficiency and service.

The courses, completed by 81 state employees on their own time, were in filing methods and accounting procedures and were sponsored by the state civil service commission. According to Robert Johnson, state civil service director who presided at today's "commencement exercises," an effort will be made to resume training in the autumn.

McKay Presents 80 Certificates

Certificates representing the completion of the first statewide civil service training courses in Oregon's history were handed personally by Gov. Douglas McKay today to 80 state employees. A bit of advice from the governor accompanied the certificates and his congratulations.

Chinese Reds Admit 170 Revolts

Nanking, Aug. 9 (AP)—The communist new China news agency reported today that rebel societies in more than 170 villages in Honan province have revolted against communist authorities since spring. The agency said the rebels were directed by nationalist "secret service" agents, including some former "Japanese puppets." It did not say whether they were under a central command.

Communist authorities have opened a "military suppression campaign" supplemented by a propaganda program to quash the rebellions.

According to the agency, the uprisings were marked by "arson, rape, murder, robbery and rumor mongering" which hampered the construction of the "new China."

Nickel silver is used for architectural hardware and decorative fixtures because of its resistance to atmospheric corrosion and its ease of cleaning.

Some Lower Prices Seen In Fall by Ag Department

Washington, Aug. 9 (AP)—The agriculture department foresees "some decline" in retail food prices this fall.

In a review of the national food situation, the department said today that food supplies during the rest of the year are expected to be somewhat larger than during the same period a year ago.

And, in the fall, the department said, there will be seasonally larger supplies of meat, chicken and turkey, fresh fruits and vegetables, sweet potatoes, dry beans and peas and rice.

On the other hand, supplies of eggs and dairy products are likely to be seasonally smaller, the department said.

Here's the department's forecast of retail food prices this fall:

Meat—prices are expected to decline seasonally in the fall. The reduction is likely to be most in pork prices.

Eggs—higher prices during the next few months, with the seasonal price peak reached sometime in October.

Fish—prices are likely to continue lower than a year ago, but higher than in the late spring. Chicken and turkey—lower prices are expected. Supplies will be considerably larger than last year. Turkey meat supplies per capita may set a new record.

Dairy products—a seasonal drop in supplies, but higher consumption than a year ago. Retail milk prices aren't likely to change greatly.

Citrus fruits—prices will continue substantially higher this summer than last. Supplies will continue short until the new crop comes in in volume in the fall.

Other fresh fruits—prices are expected to decline more than seasonally this summer and by fall should be lower than a year earlier.

Nuts—record large crops of almonds, walnuts and filberts are in prospect.

These telephone men will soon make a damaged long distance cable carry calls again. Come along and see how it's done.

THEY GET GOING FAST WHEN TROUBLE STRIKES

Telephone repairmen's big job is keeping your calls moving

1. When someone's ditch-digger bites a chunk out of a long distance cable—and it happens now and then—repairmen get on the job fast to fix it. Back at a test center, sensitive instruments located the break and splicers hit the road. Almost simultaneously, many long distance calls carried by the cable were routed around through other cities, over different cables, to get them through with as little delay as possible.

2. Service restored... the hundreds of tiny severed wires have been spliced temporarily and, even as the workmen stow their tools, calls are again speeding through the cable. Later it will be permanently spliced without interrupting service. Such fast repairs are made possible by planning ahead for emergencies, so trained people can be pulled from other jobs on short notice... part of furnishing reliable service to you.

3. A warm "hello" from the folks back East means a lot—and we make sure you can talk to them whenever you wish. Keeping service reliable makes your telephone a more valuable servant—just as keeping rates as low as possible makes service a bargain today. A local call still costs just a few pennies... and you can call New York or anywhere on the East Coast at day station rates for only $2.50 plus Federal tax.
