Patterson Returns Home — Mrs. Orlando J. Watts has returned to Salem from Gerber and San Francisco, Cal., and reports her brother, Willis (Red) Patterson is improving. He suffered a serious head injury several months ago while working with a silo filler. His memory is returning, his sister reports, and he is able to read newspapers and letters. His left arm still shows the effects of paralysis, but there is a possibility it may improve.

Detroit Restaurant Opens — A new restaurant, known as the Blue Moon, has been opened on the North Santiam highway at Detroit. The operators of the new establishment are Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Donnelly and Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Ebricht.

Chambers Heads Tour — G. F. (Ted) Chambers will be marshal of the Salem contingent going to Detroit next Sunday for dedication of the new North Santiam highway. The Detroit community is making much preparation for the event, says a letter to the Chamber of Commerce from Ed Vickers, president of the Chamber of Commerce club.

Air Markers Placed — Twenty-eight air markers have been placed on the roofs of forest lookout towers as a part of the state air marking program being carried out by the state board of aeronautics. Approximately 20 more of these will be added and around 36 markers in small communities along the most-traveled air routes of the state. The instructions to providing paint and board to service clubs of various communities interested in painting an air marker.

Rickreall Woman Hurt — Mrs. Julia Wuerch, Rickreall, was treated at an Oregon city hospital for a sprained wrist after the automobile driven by Edward Wuerch, of Portland, a relative, rolled over after hitting an embankment on the Pacific highway near New Era Tuesday. Wuerch was declared dead but his death is ascribed to a heart attack brought about by shock rather than any injury received. He was listed as the 17th Oregon fatality over a four-day period.

Permits Are Granted — Application for a package store class "A" license has been approved by the Oregon liquor control commission for Floyd H. Hamstreet and Mary Dorothy Hamstreet, North Commercial grocery, Salem. Frederick Merchant Marsh, as Fred's Steak house, Lebanon, has been granted a retail malt beverage class "B" license.

L. Kirsch, chairman of the sports committee. Table arrangements will be in charge of the Howell Bee Hive club.

Asks Road Fixed — J. W. Wilson, Scotts Mills, member of the school board of district 33c, has asked the county court to relocate a piece of road which has been vacated near Briar Knob school, to gravel it and improve it as a county road. The portion was vacated some time ago as being too steep. Wilson says now it is asked the road be relocated to give a better route for the school bus which he says would be both shorter and safer. Commissioner Roy Rice and Engineer Hedda Swart were delegated to look over the situation and report.

Leaving for Berkeley — Francis Reiersen, health educator with the Marion county health department, will be leaving September 2 for Berkeley, Calif., on a year's educational leave during which he will study at University of California in advanced work. Howard Pyfer, who has been teaching with the Seattle public school system, has arrived to take Mr. Reiersen's place during the year and is spending this month with Reiersen in orientation work preparatory to taking over the local work for the year.

BORN
The Capital Journal Welcomes the Following New Citizens:
ROBINSON—To Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Robinson, Oregon State hospital, at the Salem General hospital, a boy, Aug. 18.
RAMP—To Mr. and Mrs. George Ramp, Brooks, at the Salem General hospital, a boy, Aug. 10.
CRISMAN—To Mr. and Mrs. Leo Crisman, Molalla, at the Salem Memorial hospital, a boy, Aug. 8.

Gets Chain Saw — The county has received delivery of a new 24-inch chain saw which operates by compressed air for the use of the bridge crew in cutting piling and other timber. The power saw is expected to expedite the work of the crew it being the first time the county has had a power saw for the purpose, the crew heretofore depending on the old fashioned type of cross cut saw operated by manpower.

Licenses Depleted — Wednesday there were but 10 of the ready numbered dog license tags out of the 7500 ordered for use by the county dog control board for 1949 and Ervin Ward, dog control enforcement officer, said after these are gone the clerk's office will manufacture the tags by stamping numbers on the unnumbered tags on hand. Next year it is expected 8000 tags will be ordered.

Water Threat Told — C. C. Tracy, rancher who lives near the Crawford school between Turner and Marion, has reported to County Judge Murphy that where the county some time ago replaced a 16-foot bridge with two 24-inch tiles that the tiles have proved inadequate to carry off the water. He says further, that some ditching work is being done which will materially increase the flow of water at the point and make the condition even worse in flood times. The matter will be investigated.

Threatens Dike — Dan D. Terpenning who owns a 12-acre ranch on the Marion-Turner road between those two towns has written the county court saying that culverts carrying creek water under the road from two creeks, one north and one south of his place, are too small for the flow of water and he asks the court to increase their size. In event this isn't done, he said, he would be forced to build a dike along his property as he says the water backs over it and takes off the top soil. The court will view the situation.

For PGE Occupancy — Robert L. Eilfstrom, Walter C. Winslow and Roy Harland were given a building permit today for alterations of the Pacific building at 138 South High street. That part of the building has recently been vacated by other business and will be occupied September 1 by the Portland General Electric company's Salem offices. The permit figure is $12,700. Finer he was suspended.

Armstrongs Back From Dance Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Armstrong have just returned from Hollywood, Calif., where they attended the National Association of Dance and Affiliated Artists, Inc. The convention was attended by dancing teachers from about every state in the union, and had a very well-known teaching staff which included such famous names as Veloz and Yolanda, Nick Castle from Warner Bros. and Jimmy Mattinson. Armstrong says there is much enthusiasm over a new dance called the La Bonga, which is a combination of the Samba and the Rumba. High school students and adults alike seem very fond of the Horse and Buggy Schottische and the Lamann, he said.

Order Issued

Meanwhile, the White House again said that Vaughan has Mr. Truman's permission to testify in the committee's so-called "five percent" inquiry if the senators want him to do so.

Ross Says No Comment — Presidential Secretary Charles Ross said he had "no comment" concerning testimony linking Vaughan's name with the Tanforan race track matter.

When a reporter recalled that the president told a recent news conference that Vaughan has his permission to testify, Ross said that "still applies."

Committee Chairman Hopes (D-N.C.) said his group is especially interested in getting all the details as to why the Tanforan track finally got government blessing for the construction after approval had been denied repeatedly.

The committee is checking on whether the inquiry has figured in the administration of federal regulations and in the awarding of government contracts.

Admits $5000 Retainer — The inquiry stemmed from disclosure about the activities of James V. Hunt, now a Washington business counselor. Hunt formerly was a lieutenant colonel in the army quartermaster corps and later worked for the war assets administration.

Francis D. Flanagan, a committee investigator, testified today that Hunt received a check for $5,000 in 1948—while he was still with the WAA—as a retainer to help get the Lido Beach hotel on Long Island (N.Y.) returned to its owners.

Flanagan said Hunt returned that check, but three months later got another check for the same amount after he had left the WAA and had formed the J. V. Hunt Co., a management counselor firm. Flanagan said his testimony was based on WAA and Hunt company files.

Truck Damage Road — Report to the county court stated that there is a hole in the Buena Vista road caused by heavy truck hauls and it was directed repaired at once. Nine trucks are operating carrying heavy hauls of gravel from near Jefferson to a point north of Independence where riprap work is being done along the river bank.

McEwen Held on Murder Charge

Edward Charles McEwen, in county jail here awaiting arrival of officers from Phoenix, Ariz., who expect to return him there where he will answer to a murder charge, will also be looked over Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff Probst from Amarillo, Texas, to see if he can be tied in with a murder committed there June 22.

The deputy sheriff from Texas contacted Sheriff Denver Young by telephone from Grants Pass saying he was out here on an investigation of that murder and he would like to get a chance look at McEwen and talk to him as there were some similarities in description between the Texas suspect and McEwen, enough at least so he thought it would warrant a trip here to look him over. Sheriff Young told him to come ahead.

McEwen, as suspected in Phoenix, Ariz., is wanted in connection with the murder of a rancher there.

He was arrested here for stealing a hearse from a local mortuary which he partially wrecked by driving it into a ditch here. In district court he admitted the larceny charge but local authorities decided to let Arizona officials have him to answer to the more serious charge there.

The Arizona sheriff had notified Sheriff Young that he expected to start from Phoenix Wednesday and may bring some witnesses with him to assist in identification.

Unification Bill

Under the law signed today, however, the council membership is fixed, and any additions will have to be confirmed by the senate.

As a whole, however, Mr. Truman said the bill "represents a great advance" and will lead to "increased efficiency and economy and greater coordination of our military forces."

He used seven pens in signing the bill. It was as souvenirs to Chairman Tydings (D-Md.) of the senate armed services committee; Chairman Aronson (D-Ga.) of the house committee; Secretary Johnson and Stephen Early, who becomes the $14,500-a-year secretary of defense under the measure; Secretary of the Army Gray, Secretary of the Air Force Symington, and Secretary of the Navy Matthews were handed the other three pens.

Johnson wasted no time. As soon as the bill was signed, he appointed a national defense management committee and a management advisory group.

This new agency is to work out a program for maximum reduction of defense department expenditures—and still maintain military effectiveness.

Johnson named General Joseph T. McNarney as chairman of the management committee. Other members will be Army Secretary Gray; undersecretary of the navy Daniel A. Kimball, and Air Force Assistant Secretary Eugene M. Zuckert.

Young Grangers Camp—The summer camp of the Oregon state juvenile Grange will be held at the Falls creek camp in the Silver Falls state park August 24 to 28. Demonstration work and lectures will be held each evening.

Governor Douglas McKay recently presented training certificates to 98 state employees who had successfully completed the first state-wide training classes in the state's history. Courses in accounting principles and filing methods were sponsored by the state civil service commission. Shown above receiving his certificate is D. D. Caspell, an employee of the accounting department of the state highway commission. Robert R. Johnson, director of the civil service commission, watched the proceedings after he and Governor McKay had made brief talks. James M. Clinton, training supervisor, assists the governor in the presentation. Civil service training classes in various fields are planned by the civil service commission to promote the efficiency of the state workers.

New Tremors

This area yesterday flew over the area yesterday to Ambato with some of the U.S. air force transports helping out in the "little airlift" which is dropping food and medical supplies to isolated towns.

Pelleno, a town of 3,500 population, resembles a garbage dump surrounded by bright green grass and trees. Not a house escaped damage. Block after block is a jumble of abode walls and dust still hung over many areas which have had no rain.

President Galo Plaza Lasso, educated at the University of Maryland, received a message of sympathy from President Truman.

Massachusetts was reported coming from many of the American republics. In neighboring Colombia a commission was formed to raise assistance funds.
