

Judge C. S. Sorensen of Salinas, Calif., sits at wheel of automobile bearing famous "Flying Bell" from Mission San Antonio now being restored as great American heritage project near King City, Calif. The "Flying Bell" will visit this city Sunday, August 14, on extended tour of Pacific northwest, heralding peace, brotherhood and goodwill, and to stimulate support for restoration of the historic landmark as the "Williamsburg of the West."

Famous 'Flying Bell' Will Appear in Salem Sunday

The famous "Flying Bell" of Mission San Antonio de Padua, located in the Valley of the Oaks at Jolon, Calif., near King City, will visit Salem Sunday, August 14, arriving here about 2:15 p.m. en route to the national convention of the Knights of Columbus at Portland, August 15 to 18.

The bell will travel this time by an especially equipped automobile in the custody of Judge C. S. Sorensen from Salinas and John Walsh from Carmel, California.

This old Mission bell recently completed a tour of the Atlantic seaboard where it was rung by thousands of Americans in ceremonies at Chicago, Boston, New York, and Washington, D. C., heralding an era of peace and brotherhood. Its mellow chime was broadcast from the steps of the White House over the Voice of America around the world, thereby fulfilling a hope expressed by Father Junipero Serra, founder of the California Missions as he hung a mission bell from the branch of a gnarled oak at Mission San Antonio on Founders' Day, July 14, 1771, and said, "I would that these bells could be heard around the world."

On Second Tour
In starting the second interstate tour of two weeks' duration, the "Flying Bell" is scheduled to visit many cities and towns in northern California, Oregon, and Washington, along Highway 101 and 99 where Mayors, Knights of Columbus officials and other civic and religious groups are expected to stage fitting ceremonies in the furtherance of Peace and Brotherhood.
