To Swap Arms With Canada

Washington, Aug. 13 (AP)—Lawmakers voiced general approval today of a proposal to swap military supplies with Canada, although some of them picked flaws in the plan. Secretary of Defense Johnson reported to President Truman and the cabinet yesterday that the Canadians want to barter warships, aircraft, small arms ammunition and other things they make for American supplies. This would help keep Canada's dollar reserve intact but still provide her with equipment she can get only in this country.

The defense secretary said he is very much in favor of the idea. And so were many members of congress.

Chairman Connally (D., Tex.) of the senate foreign relations committee said the proposal looks as if it might "be helpful to both countries."

But Senator Maybank (D-S.C.) said he doesn't like the idea of exchanging U. S. supplies for anti-submarine vessels, one of the Canadian items named.

Along that line, Secretary of the Navy Matthews assured Senator Johnston (D-S.C.) yesterday that he knows nothing of reports that the Charleston, S. C., navy yard will be closed.

Halloween Float Wins Praise In Annual Kiddies Parade

Crepe paper was dangled on just about everything on wheels Friday afternoon as the annual kids' parade day was held at the city playgrounds. Everything from dainty doll buggies to all-steel wheelbarrows were decorated for the occasion. Swimming races at Olinger and Leslie pools were also a highlight of the day.

A halloween scene depicted by Steven Rutherford and Jack Wolcott at Olinger playground, Sandy Wells' queen of hearts float at West Salem, and a miniature vegetable garden in a wagon pulled by David Westley at Englewood were judged exceptionally outstanding for the entire group of playgrounds.

Winners in the swimming races at Leslie pool were: Boys 12 and under, 1—Robert Heath; 2—Bruce Patterson; 3—Bruce Wolff; boys 14 or younger, 1—Jack Schreiber; 2—Jerry Nairns; 3—Gene Gebauer; girls 12 or older, 1—Janie Lambert; 2—Roberta Neuschwander; 3—Roberta Neuschwander; boys 15 or older, 1—Jack Schreiber; 2—Jerry Nairns; 3—Gene Gebauer; girls 15 or older, 1—Janie Lambert; 2—Roberta Neuschwander; 3—Roberta Neuschwander.

40,000 Visit Sears Opening

Opening of the Sears, Roebuck & Co., store in Salem Thursday hit one of the highest spots in the history of the Sears mercantile development. James Mosloff, Salem manager, said Saturday that the comment of all company officials who were here was that it was the second largest and most successful opening day for a Sears store on the Pacific coast. The biggest was at Compton, Calif., in metropolitan Los Angeles, where the company has its biggest store on the coast. It was opened two years ago. It is estimated closely that from 38,000 to 40,000 people circulated through the Salem Sears store in the Capitol Shopping Center Thursday. The night crowd especially was tremendous. The Friday crowd was almost as large.

Mrs. Schlegel Dies, Hillsboro

Funeral services will be held at the Donaldson-Sewell Funeral home at Hillsboro Monday, August 15, at 1 o'clock for Helen Kaffun Schlegel, former resident of the Salem vicinity, who died at her home in Hillsboro after an illness of nine months. Interment will follow later in the day in Salem at the City View cemetery. Mrs. Schlegel, who from 1930 to 1942 was a resident of the Fruitland community, born in Prague, Czechoslovakia, in 1892, and at the age of 18 came to the United States alone. She went to Cleveland, Ohio, to settle on coming to this country and there in 1910 married John Kaffun, who died in 1934. It was from Cleveland the Kaffuns came to Fruitland community near Salem to reside. In 1942 Helen Kaffun was married to Ed Schlegel, a retired farmer, and the couple have resided in Hillsboro ever since. Surviving besides the husband are two sons, Howard Kaffun of Salem and John Kaffun of San Francisco; three daughters, Mrs. Eddie Lindstrom of Eugene and Mrs. Bill Bedient and Mrs. Melvin Stanbrook both of Portland; three step-sons, Robert E. Schlegel and Erwin Schlegel, both of Banks, Oregon and Lester Schlegel of Forest Grove; and 14 grandchildren.

1300 Pickers Needed in Area

Two-thousand more pickers are needed to help harvest snap beans, hops, prunes and other late crops in various parts of Oregon, the state unemployment service reported today. The service said that the center of agricultural activity for the next month or six weeks would be the Salem area, where 1,300 more workers are needed at once in the early hops and snap bean harvest, and where many more will be needed at the height of hop picking in early September. Cucumbers, blackberries, pears, peaches and grain also are ready for harvest. Hop pickers for early hops near Independence and bean pickers in the Stayton and West Stayton area are especially urgently needed, according to William H. Baillie, manager of the employment office at Salem. McMinville, Hillsboro, Gresham and Eugene have issued calls for outside help, but there is room for only a hundred or two in each area, the employment service said. In eastern Oregon, the only labor shortage area is Freewater, where fresh prunes are being picked and packed. The employment service said the pear harvest in full swing around Hood River and Medford, but the labor supply is adequate in each area. Ontario, which had early shortages of field workers, also has a surplus now, the service reported.

Miners Finish

On the south side of the river, access roads are being built by CBI around the hills, to provide several approaches to a rock quarry from which dam builders will obtain all the "aggregates" needed to mix with cement for the huge, tall dam. The formation in the quarry is also diorite, the same as found in the tunnel, and is particularly suitable for a most satisfactory cement mix. Two bridges now span the North Santiam at the damsite, the upper stream bridge having been in use for some time while the lower river bridge is completed except for plankings. This bridge is picturesque, an arch rib type with one 200-foot span, another 100-foot span and two 50-foot spans. The bridge will support up to 70 tons.

About 500 men are now being employed by CBI with the peak of construction expected next spring when pouring of cement will begin. It is estimated that approximately 1500 men will be employed at that time. Far more than this number are already registered, it was stated. Both CBI and the army concern.

Vaughan said it is his recollection that those receiving the home freezers were not acquainted with either Hoffman or Bennett. He said: "They may have asked me later from whom I obtained the units and some acknowledgment of the receipts of the units may have been made to these men, or to either of them."

Babies Taken Home—Leaving the Salem General hospital with recently born infants are Mrs. Charles Shaffer and daughter, 3167 Moody and Mrs. Gordon Sines and son, 570 S. 18th.

Marion County Prisoner Confesses Slaying—Edward Charles McEwen, held by Sheriff Denver Young for stealing and wrecking Rigdon's mortuary hearse, has confessed to Arizona authorities in Salem to accomplish his extradition that he killed Frank Shupe, a citrus grower, near Phoenix on June 12, of this year. From left: B. W. Wiskstrum, Arizona deputy sheriff and McEwen who are now on their way to Arizona.

McEwen En route Arizona To Face Murder Charges

Special investigators B. G. Wikstrum and Lin Constantine from the sheriff's office at Phoenix, Ariz., left Salem Friday afternoon with Edward Charles McEwen in custody headed back toward Phoenix armed with McEwen's confession to the murder of Frank Shupe, citrus grower, whose body was found in an irrigation canal about a mile out of Phoenix, June 12.

Also leaving Salem Friday afternoon was Texas Ranger Frank Probst who had hastened here following McEwen's arrest to see if he could be tied in with the murder of Tex Thornton, widely known oil explosive expert, at Amarillo, Texas, June 22.

While McEwen made a statement to the Arizona officers admitting the crime in that state he as stoutly denied any implication in the Texas murder, telling them he had never been in Texas and giving information as to his movements after the Arizona crime which, he said, could be checked on by the officers and he was certain would clear him of such complicity.

Texas Ranger Probst told local officers that when he backtracked to his own state he would check on McEwen's story.

And he left here somewhat convinced that McEwen's statements would be borne out as latest information as to the finger prints found in connection with the Texas killings indicated they didn't match up any too well with McEwen's which threw a considerable shadow of a doubt on the theory that one man did both the jobs. While the description of the Texas suspect showed a great similarity to that of McEwen, it was said to be not such as to be entirely conclusive. The two murders followed pretty much the same general pattern and this was one reason which sent the ranger hurrying here when he heard of the McEwen arrest.

VEW Has Birthday—The 50th anniversary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars is being observed Saturday with a special broadcast to be heard over radio station KSLM at 7:30 o'clock. The program, transcribed, will feature a well-known and talented cast.

gineers are constructing headquarters at the damsite. The contractors headquarters, temporarily at Mill City will be moved in the new building at the damsite about September 1. Capital Journal representatives were escorted through the project Thursday by Carl Paulmier, assistant office engineer and F. F. Paul, coordinator for CBI. Incidentally, Paul is assisting a group of the CBI employes and citizens of Mill City in an effort to launch a nine-hole golf course. The company has nothing to do with this, but already 150 charter members have been signed up and it is possible Mill City may have a golf course in the not too distant future.

A new housing project for army engineer personnel has been launched on the new highway, north of Camp Mongold. Lt. Col. J. W. Miles, resident engineer, stated that a contract for installation of water and sewer systems, an electrical distribution system and a warehouse has been let to Minnis & Shilling, Eugene. Fifteen permanent houses are to be constructed on this site, together with two barracks.

Home Freezers

Bennett is president of the Albert Verley, Chicago Perfume company. Testimony brought out in the senate inquiry was that the home freezer units were shipped by Albert J. Gross, Milwaukee business man. The testimony also was that they were paid for by the perfume concern.

Vaughan said it is his recollection that those receiving the home freezers were not acquainted with either Hoffman or Bennett. He said: "They may have asked me later from whom I obtained the units and some acknowledgment of the receipts of the units may have been made to these men, or to either of them."

Babies Taken Home—Leaving the Salem General hospital with recently born infants are Mrs. Charles Shaffer and daughter, 3167 Moody and Mrs. Gordon Sines and son, 570 S. 18th.
