Concert Plans Stalled — Although the concert Thursday night will close the regular season of semi-weekly concerts by the Salem Municipal band, two more will be given during the summer. They will be next Sunday and the following Sunday, also in Willson park. The two additional will be sponsored by the American Federation of Musicians through its recording fund.

Boy Injured — Douglas Gordon, 1286 Ruge street, West Salem, about 11 years old, injured his head in a fall at the West Salem park Thursday morning. He was taken to a doctor by first aid. It was not believed the injuries were serious.

Idanha Man Gives Boak — Charles deSully, Idanha, booted at the sheriff's office on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor has been granted release on posting $1000 bail.

Wreck Proves Costly — Two nearly demolished automobiles, a fire at a service station and two persons treated for minor injuries caused a commotion on the Pacific highway about a mile north of Salem Wednesday afternoon. First aid treated Mrs. N. E. Shaw and her grandson, Gilbert, for facial cuts and bruises. Police report that one of the automobiles skidded into a gas tank at a service station where attendants borrowed an extinguisher from a passing bus and put out the fire before any damage occurred.

Leaves Farm Store — H. P. Williams has notified the county clerk his office with retirement from Woodburn Farm store.

Grocery Purchased — Mr. and Mrs. John Shirman of Salem, have purchased the Hieslopp grocery store at Buena Vista.

Georges Have Girl — Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Nash of the Macleay district, are grandparents of Donna Rose George, born to Mr. and Mrs. R. K. George at Albany Saturday. Mrs. George is the former Lorain Nash. The little girl has three brothers.

Polk Man Injured — Louis L. Townsend, 19, of Independence, route 1, is hospitalized at Corvallis after a scaffold gave way and he fell 12 feet to a concrete floor. His injuries are not believed serious. Townsend and Ross Robinson were working at the Gill pavilion under construction when the accident occurred Wednesday morning. Robinson fell partially on Townsend and escaped injury.

Juveniles on Probation — Four Salem boys, ranging in ages from 14 to 16 years, were apprehended by a Salem police officer in the wee hours of Thursday morning for illegal possession of intoxicating liquor. The boys were brought to the station, released to their parents, and appeared Thursday morning in municipal court, where they each were placed on six months' probation.

Meadows to Open — Under the new ownership of Art Peters, The Meadows restaurant at 340 State street will open Friday morning at the usual hour after being closed several days. The restaurant has been redecorated and a new floor laid. Peters said he would specialize in evening and after-show meals, featuring among other things waffles and fountain specialties, also chicken dinners and steaks.

Seek Man Here—Sheriff Denver Young has been notified by the city police at Phoenix, Arizona, that they are interested in Roland Griswold, under arrest here under the name of Jack Henry Dycks on a charge of grand theft for alleged car larceny. Dycks was arrested here on a similar charge and Sheriff Young says he will not be returned to Phoenix until the case here has had final disposition.

To Examine Bridge—A report to the county court states that a bridge on road 79 on Drift creek north of Victor Point is in need of repair due to heavy use by log trucks. The bridge foreman has been directed to make an examination.

Asks Ditch Cleaned — Frank Redmond, route 4, Brooks, has asked that a ditch by his land near the Manning school, be cleaned out so as to allow surplus water to drain off through files he has installed in his fields. As it is, he says, water backs up over the road in the winter and otherwise causes trouble.

Detroit Gets Ranges — The Portland district corps of engineers received a low offer of $3900 for supplying 48 electric apartment house size ranges for use at the Detroit dam on the North Santiam river. The bid was the lowest of 19 submitted.

Eggs Advance — All local produce firms were quoting eggs a cent higher on top grades, Thursday morning. Some quotations had been boosted earlier in the week, but the list generally was up the cent advance Thursday following similar boosts in Portland produce market. Top grades are listed as follows: Buying prices, extra large AA, 63 cents; extra large AA, 62 cents; large A, 63 cents; medium AA grades, 57 cents; medium AA-58 cents. All other produce unchanged.

Chief to Speak—Chief of Salem Police Clyde A. Warren will be the speaker at a meeting of the Salem Credit association at the Golden Pheasant restaurant Friday noon. He will talk on bad checks and effective methods of curbing them.

New Complaint Filed—Walter Upshaw of the state department of agriculture, has filed a complaint in district court in Portland against Leslie E. Marcus, owner of Sherwood Bulb gardens, with unlawfully selling nursery stock by engaging a dealer. This section is not in connection with Marcus' other operations, it is explained. Upshaw states that Marcus at no time had a right to operate at the dealer address because he had never been issued a license to do business there.

Census Aid Asked—Carl J. Gilson, district supervisor of the United States bureau of the census today issued an appeal to the business men of Oregon asking them to complete their census of business reports and mail them to his office at 418 Dekum building, Portland. Mr. Gilson said that many business men had completed their reports but had neglected to mail them and that the delay was hampering census bureau operations. It is estimated that the census of business will be completed in this area by September 1 except for a small amount of cleanup work which is made necessary due to enumerators being unable to visit business men on their first visit.

Saluting Woodburn—A salute to Woodburn will be heard over radio station KSLM Friday night at 10:15 o'clock. The program will give a brief summary of the history of Woodburn, industries, products and activities.

Ex-Oregon Con Escapes Police

Portland, Aug. 18 (AP)—A 30-year-old ex-convict who vanished after a court hearing was being sought by police today. Harold William Manning who escaped from the state prison in 1942 after setting a $200,000 fire, disappeared from police headquarters yesterday morning. No one knows just how. He was brought into criminal court on a charge of breaking into a gun shop. He asked for a postponement of his hearing, because his attorney was out of town. Sometime between his court hearing and the next jail check, Manning skipped out. One theory is that he slipped from the hallway where prisoners await court hearings and into a police classroom, and made his way out from there. It was seven years ago that Manning and other prisoners set fire to the state prison flax plant. He escaped later, but was recaptured in Denver and returned to serve out his term.

Stadter Talks Crime Trends

Assumption of a responsibility toward law enforcement was urged upon members of his audience by District Attorney E. O. Stadter, Jr. as he spoke before the Salem Lions club Thursday noon concerning matters pertaining to his office. He said he was optimistic concerning crime and expressed the opinion that society was making strides toward its reduction. Crime, the district attorney declared, was the result of a lack of responsibility on the part of the general public. In this connection he added that the misfits in society are the ones that fill our prisons. Stadter stated that "every dollar put into youth work will be returned to the giver twofold" in the amount of good that will be accomplished. In detailing the various branches of law enforcement of the city, county, state and federal government, Stadter said he did not feel there was any overlapping and that all were needed to care for society.

Christofferson Buys Ebner Market Here

G. O. (Chris) Christofferson, formerly with Hudson Duncan of Portland, has recently completed purchase of Ebner's market at 2080 Market street. Mr. Christofferson has been a resident of Salem for the past 40 years and is an active member of several civic organizations including the Salem Lions club and is vice president of the Englewood Parent Teachers association. The market will feature free delivery twice a day and credit can be arranged. Chester Waite, formerly of Dallas and Portland, has the meat department and features quality meats along with quality service. Albert J. Evans is in charge of the produce department.

Bartle Recalled By Salem Club

First Baseman Dick Bartle was being recalled from the Medford Nuggats today to strengthen the Salem Senators. George Emigh, business manager of the Salem ball club, said that he was short on players because of injuries to infielders. He wanted especially to use Bartle's talent against left-handed pitchers. "We got a chance to get in the first division now, and he might help us," Emigh said. Bartle has been on loan to Medford in the Far West league subject to short recall. Formerly he played for University of Oregon.

Woods Order

Control was strongly resisted by many landlords and other owners of housing units, particularly by the Salem chapter of the Home and Property Owners association. Some for a long time refused to register their properties, but the majority complied and as time went on few cases were taken to court. The office later was removed to the Old High School building where it is now. Changes were made in the rent control act and in methods of administration. Provision was made for a local advisory board, and the director was given charge of several areas. E. G. Clay of Corvallis became director and the Salem advisory board is now Homer Smith, Sr., chairman, John A. Heitzel, Ernest J. Smith of the office of veterans affairs, and Charles W. Creighton, an attorney.

About a year ago the area in the east part of Marion county was decontrolled. Resisted by Labor and Vets. About three months ago the Home and Property Owners association and the Salem Realty board began agitation for decontrol here. This was resisted by organized labor and many tenants. A decontrol resolution, permissible under the local option feature of the control act of 1949, was introduced in the city council. The council at the first vote defeated it. At the following meeting it was reconsidered and adopted. It was sent to Governor Douglas McKay, who approved it, and it then went to the national expediter.

Priority to the establishment of federal rent control on October 1, 1946, local control was attempted here by appointment of a board appointed by the mayor. All interested elements were represented on the board.

Vaughan

Questions about Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods' announcement yesterday that the rent controls will be lifted by Oct. 1, the president said congress did not provide enough money to enforce the rent control laws.

Woods called in his top lieutenants and regional officials to discuss the stepped-up plans. Officials said a determined effort will be made to lift controls first in so-called "borderline" areas—those where sufficient rental housing exists or soon will be available.

On Public Welfare

The president withheld a decision on whether to make an attempt to transfer federal security agency functions to a new department of public welfare.

A coalition of republicans and southern democratic senators turned back that phase of the president's government reorganization plans in a senate vote this week.

Formal Decree

The decree directs Floyd E. Siegmund, 1948, "unless otherwise ordered by the court, to divide the waters of the North Santiam river and the city of Salem on the following basis: At any time when the flow of the stream at city's point of diversion on Stayton Island falls below an amount equal to the sum of 50 cubic feet per second for the state fish commission for a fishway; and below 254 cubic feet per second to supply the Salem Power rights, and 812 feet per second to supply the adjudicated rights of plaintiff Gardner Bennett, the water-master shall assume control of the division of waters of the stream by "adjusting, setting or closing" all headgates, valves or other diversion works as may be necessary and divide and regulate the stream in accordance with the various priorities. He is directed to continue to make such division as long as the deficiency in the stream continues.

Starts New Bridge—Work of tearing out the old bridge on Hubbard hill in Mission bottom on market road 24 has been started by a county crew, a replacement bridge to be constructed as fast as the old bridge is torn down. A detour structure has been thrown around the old bridge which crosses Goose lake.

Business Loans Show Increase

Washington, Aug. 18 (AP)—Business loans appear definitely on the increase in volume. The gain is a sign that business men are stocking up on goods at last for fall and Christmas sales. Finance officials here predicted today this uptrend will go on—with perhaps some interruptions—right on up to Christmas itself.

The rejuvenating effects on the economy of increased inventory buying can be judged by the fact that the commerce department singled out a cut-back in that buying as the prime cause of the 1949 dip in business. A federal reserve board report showing an $80,000,000 increase in loans to business men by leading city banks during the week ended August 10 mirrored a virtually country-wide improvement. All districts shared in the expansion except the Cleveland district, where there was a $7,000,000 downturn, and Boston, where the loan volume was unchanged, officials reported.

The big gains were $38,000,000 in New York City and $20,000,000 in the Kansas City district. At New York, the loan increases extended to a wide variety of business fields, officials said.

For president, Clifford G. Sparkman, longtime president of the Detroit local; first vice president, John R. Evans, Washington, D. C., defeated by Randolph in the May, 1948, election; and secretary-treasurer, George Bante, Chicago.

Two more vice presidential candidates will be picked later.

The election—by mail ballot—is set for next May 17. Randolph has given no indication he intends to step down. His personal plea in favor of pensions for international officers led to lobby talk that he would not seek re-election. Friends have discounted the speculation.

Farm Bureau

Other Officials Coming

Among others will be Mr. and Mrs. Royce Hank and son, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wakefield and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Howard and two daughters. Hansen, Wakefield and Howard have been in the organization department. Hansen will continue organization activities and Wakefield will assume sales supervision for the insurance company. Howard will be editor of the Oregon Farm Bureau News and monthly publication of the federation.

Among the employees of the Farm Bureau insurance service making the move are Mrs. Lorena Anderson and daughter Barbara, Mrs. Evelyn Wheeler and daughter Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Don Sommers, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grogan and daughter Georgiann. Sommers and Grogan plan to enter business in Salem.

Salem applicants are being interviewed for three more positions to be filled September 1. According to plan the federation and the insurance service will be ready to service the membership by that date.

Services of the federation are available to all farmers of Oregon and it interests itself in agriculture only. The membership is made up of county farm bureaus which control and set the federation policy. Salem as a location was picked by the board of directors and the house of delegates.

Grange Booster Fair—Plans for the annual booster fair program and the local fair will be discussed Friday night by the Union Hill Grange, according to Julius Krenz, master.

ITU Votes Pensions for Randolph and Officials

Oakland, Calif., Aug. 18 (AP)—President Woodruff Randolph got paid-up pension benefits for himself and other International Typographical Union officers on the ITU books today. But he's going to hear plenty about it.

Spokesmen for the anti-Randolph minority within the union seized upon the pension voted by the 91st ITU convention yesterday. It was steamrollered through, they said; and it was illegal in the first place.

The administration forces denied both charges. The anti-Randolph bloc earlier suffered another major defeat. It could muster only 50 votes to 258 in trying to block an amendment giving the ITU chief full power to approve or reject all local contracts.

Randolph interpreted the decision as a rebuke to locals at odds with his collective bargaining policy. The opposition group—the ITU's "independent party"—indicated it was prepared to make the pension an issue in the forthcoming union election campaign along with Randolph's strict contract policy.

Meanwhile, Charles Tucker of Indianapolis, a party caucus leader, announced a tentative and partial slate to oppose Randolph and his "progressive party."

Arms Money

The administration's stand was set forth in a letter from Secretary of State Acheson to Rep. Lodge (R-Conn). Lodge put it in the Congressional record as the house neared a vote on the $1,450,000,000 arms program.

Other Curbs Smashed
On the way to the crucial test on the Richards amendment, the house quickly smashed other efforts to trim or curb the program.

By a voice vote, it whipped a proposal by Rep. Battle (D-Ala.) to slash an even $100,000,000 off the western European arms fund.

Then it rejected 187 to 5 a proposal by Rep. Javits (R-N.Y.) to cut $234,000,000 and stop the program next March 31 so congress can take another look at it before going ahead.

And down to defeat, too, went an amendment by Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.) to crop the European arms fund in two and deduct the whole bill for it from appropriations for the military forces. The Keating amendment was whipped 161 to 79.

Monmouth Man Ill—Edwin S. Jensen, Monmouth post office clerk, is hospitalized here following a heart attack Monday. He is in the Salem General hospital and reported improving.

Salem applicants are being interviewed for three more positions to be filled September 1. According to plan the federation and the insurance service will be ready to service the membership by that date.

Services of the federation are available to all farmers of Oregon and it interests itself in agriculture only. The membership is made up of county farm bureaus which control and set the federation policy. Salem as a location was picked by the board of directors and the house of delegates.
