

11 Parcels of Land Offered By Management Bureau

Daniel L. Goldy, regional administrator, Region I bureau of land management, reported today that seven parcels of O & C timber carrying a volume of 15,325,000 board feet of timber and 2,150 lineal feet of cedar poles with an appraised value of $130,035.50, and four parcels of public domain timber carrying a volume of 3,057,000 board feet with an appraised value of $32,570.90 will be offered for sale beginning September 13.

Eight of the parcels will be offered for sale by sealed bids on September 13 at the regional administrator's office in Portland. These tracts carry a volume of 12,542,000 board feet of timber and 2,150 lineal feet of cedar poles with a value of $101,110.15.

The three remaining parcels will be offered for sale at oral auction on September 12 and 13. One parcel carrying a volume of 1,285,000 board feet appraised at $15,936.75 will be offered September 12 at the office of the bureau of land management, 460 north High street, Salem.

Aged Greek Woman Going Back to Greece

Albany, Ore., Aug. 18 (AP)—An 89-year-old Greek grandmother, who came here a year ago to live in this country, is so homesick for Greece she is going back there.

Mrs. Mary Christie said she could no longer bear living in a country where she does not know the language and whose customs are foreign to her.

The aged woman, who home is 40 miles from Salonika, Greece, flew here last year to live with her son, James Christie, an Albany restaurateur.

But she missed her other children, back in Greece. She missed talking—she loves to talk.

So Christie is sending her back home on a plane next Saturday.

So-Called Weaker Sex Outlives Average Man

Washington, Aug. 19 (AP)—The public health service came up today with figures to prove that women—the so-called weaker sex—live longer than men.

In 1947, the service said, the average life expectancy for white women was 70.6 years while the average for men was only 65.2. Among non-whites, the life expectancy for women was 69.9 and 57.9 for men.

The average for the total population was 66.8 years.

Hospital Fund Now $373,075

The latest figure in total of cash and pledges subscribed in the Salem Hospital Development Program is $375,075, Ford Watkins, general director of the campaign, reported Thursday after meeting of the larger gifts committee at the Marion hotel.

Additional pledges reported at the meeting were $10,000 from United States National Bank of Portland and $5000 from the First National of Portland and their Salem branches, also $1075 from other sources.

The campaign administration is retaining one person who will solicit pledges from concerns and individuals from whom no pledges have yet been received.

What is termed the first phase of the campaign, goal for which is $1,100,000, has now been completed.
