Important Spot in Census Held by East Salem District

By BEN MAXWELL
If the 1950 census shows the population of Salem has increased from 31,000 to 50,000 or more in a single decade no small percentage of this has sought homesites east of Salem between the Garden and Silverton roads and eastward to Lancaster drive.

In this region the city limits extend northward from Market along 24th street and almost reaches Evergreen avenue extending in the same direction. Then the boundary turns eastward until Lansing avenue is reached and a map in the city engineer's office shows the area comprises seven or more subdivisions.

U. S. Population Up 200,000 a Month

Washington, Aug. 19 (AP)—The United States population is growing at the rate of 200,000 a month and may reach 150,000,000 by November 1.

This report from the census bureau said that the estimated population was 149,215,000 on July 1.

The bureau also estimated that in April this year there were 38,537,000 families in the U.S., as compared with 32,166,000 in 1940.

Bernard M. Baruch 79 Years Old Today

New York, Aug. 19 (AP)—Bernard M. Baruch—79 years old today—says his doctor has told him he may live to be "well over 100 unless you get hanged or shot."

The financier, who has served as adviser to presidents, made the wisecrack last night as he declared there will be no birthday party "if I can help it."

Lloyd A. Lee on Poultry Board

Corvallis, Aug. 19 (AP)—The Oregon Poultry Improvement association elected G. A. Boyington, Hood River, president at the annual meeting at Oregon State college yesterday. He succeeds Don Anchors, Grants Pass.

F. E. Fox and Richard Hanson, Corvallis; J. R. McRae, Milwaukie; Lloyd A. Lee, Salem, were elected to the board of directors. Holdover directors are Anchors and George Gilmore, Junction City.

The association agreed to discontinue carding controlled raising on the Oregon poultry improvement plan. This follows similar action in neighboring states.

Silverton — Mrs. Bernard Gaffey (Evelyn Solum) has returned to her home from several days' special treatment at the Silverton hospital where she was very ill.

Practical Value of Aviation Will Be Stressed in Show

Emphasis will be placed on the part the airplane has in this modern world at the Aviation day program to be held at McNary field Sunday, August 28.

Arranged through the cooperative efforts of the commercial operators at McNary field, the National Guard and the U. S. Navy, Aviation day feature these usual in airplanes rather than the unusual and stunts.

Pilots all over the state have received invitations to take part in some of the events. The guests will begin registering at 10 a.m. and on hand to greet them will be representatives from the Salem Cherrians.

Salem CAP members will have charge of air traffic and parking. Breakfast will be served the visitors at the field after which they will be free until the show starts in the afternoon.

Coming from Portland will be at least eight National Guard planes, under the command of Maj. Gordon Doolittle. The planes (F-51s) are to arrive Lines. Dealers in light planes will also have planes on display. For the farmer an exhibit of dusts and sprays used on crops is being arranged by Leo (Ace) Demers in his hangar on the west side of the field. Demers will give a dusting and spraying demonstration and has arranged for a helicopter to be brought here to give a dusting demonstration.

Brooks' events for pilots will be one of the highlights and there will also be an event for visiting pilots only.

Demonstrations are to be given by Evelyn Whitmaker of the state board of aeronautics office, in a light plane in dead-stick landing, spot landing and the esentials for securing a private pilot's license. In cooperation with the CAA control tower at the field she will give a demonstration of ground and air control by the CAA tower.

After the show in the afternoon courtesy flights are to be given by a selected group of pilots to persons whose names have been drawn for flights.
