

5 Dangerous Cons Escape

Parchman, Miss., Aug. 23 (AP)—Five "highly dangerous" escaped convicts fled today from police and state troopers who blocked roads, guarded bridges and stopped trains in their pursuit.

The five used a series of stolen cars to get away from the state penitentiary here, after stripping and disarming a trusty who was guarding their work detail.

They broke into a home and changed prison garb for civilian clothes, then continued a flight that was believed taking them to a Mississippi river crossing into Arkansas.

The convicts were listed as A. B. Burgess, 31, Belzoni, Miss., serving life for armed robbery; Noahson Walters, 26, Biloxi, Miss., life for murder; Richard Emory, 21, Tyrzonia, Ark., life for armed robbery; William McLaughton, 22, Onania, Miss., six years for attempted robbery, and Thomas E. Lane, 25, Houston, Tex., four years for grand larceny.

Prison Superintendent Marvin Wiggins said they were "among the most dangerous" prisoners at the institution.

Busy N.Y. Mayor Uses Helicopter

New York, Aug. 23 (AP)—Busy Mayor William O'Dwyer kept a date yesterday by helicopter.

He finished a ceremony on Staten Island and was due for a Manhattan meeting in 15 minutes.

The Staten Island ferry couldn't get him there in time. So he boarded a police department helicopter at a Staten Island field and was whisked across upper New York bay to the foot of Wall street in 11 minutes. A police car then rushed him to nearby City hall—with two minutes to spare for his date.

Man Wins Case by 'Just a Whisker'

Boston, Aug. 23 (AP)—Counsel for Aaron Zideman, 65, charged with peddling lottery tickets, won his case by what a district court judge described as "a whisker."

Police claimed they found lottery tickets under Zideman's flowing whiskers. Zideman's lawyer proved the slips were found under Zideman's bed.

Acquitting Zideman yesterday, Judge Frank W. Tomasello smilingly told counsel "this is one case you have won by a whisker."

Summer School At W.U. Ends

Eleven students who attended Willamette university's summer school completed their work for degrees, according to announcement by Harold B. Jory, registrar.

Those to receive bachelor of arts degrees are: Ralph Gardner, Salem, history; Bruce A. Barker, Ocean Lake, history; Jim Johnson, Lead, S.D., physical education; Marjorie Andresen, Camas, history; Matthew A. Elishoff, Tillamook, economics.

Master of education degrees were earned by: Robert A. Matson, Portland; Chester Goodman, Canby; Robert Keuscher, Salem and Karl Thelan, Salem.

Fishing Vessel Grounded

Ketchikan, Alaska, Aug. 25 (AP)—The 15-ton fishing vessel Lady May with six men aboard, ran aground "full force" outside Wards cove, Alaska, near Ketchikan today.

Attorney Walks Out Of Mountain Forest

Portland, Aug. 23 (AP)—Attorney Clarence D. Phillips walked out of the Mount Adams wilderness yesterday after having strayed overnight from a climbing party.

The past president of the City club and past master of the Masonic lodge of Oregon said he knew where he was while parted from his friends, but couldn't risk walking out in the dark in the rugged terrain.

A search party was being organized when a motorist picked up Phillips and returned him to Bird Creek Meadow camp.

South American countries are salvaging sunken vessels along the coasts to provide scrap steel and iron for domestic needs.
