

Winners in the annual model car competition of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild are Gale Morris (left), of Portland, who took first state honors in the Junior Division (ages 12 through 15), and Frank J. Coen, of Eugene, whose beautiful model car won first in the Senior Division (ages 16 through 19). Each received a cash award of $150, and Morris' model went on to take regional honors and a chance to win a university scholarship in the national competition.

Face Like Rhinoceros for New Romantic Sensation

By PATRICIA CLARY

Hollywood (UPI)—Paul Douglas, a 40-ish actor with a face like a rhinoceros, is Hollywood's newest romantic sensation. Douglas is the number one night club Lothario hereabouts. He's squired all the cute models and starlets in town. On the screen, he's been the romantic lead in all his pictures. "That's the funniest thing that's happened to me in Hollywood," he said. "I guess I'm the relief guy from the handsome hero type. "One look at me and everybody figures there must be something about me to make up for this map. So they write me swell dialogue, they put me in terrific yarns, they thrust the gal in my arms under 'how-can-you-miss' circumstances, and the public's so glad to see somebody besides a junior Adonis that they give me a cheer."

Transportation Planned

Hubbard—The North Marion Union high school district plans at present to send 100 students to Newberg and the pupils that attended Canby last year will again go to Canby. Transportation will be provided. Work has not yet started on the proposed new school building for the district but the well has been dug.

Douglas, who used to be a sports announcer, won Linda Darnell in his first picture, "Letter to Three Wives." He wooed both her and Celeste Holm in "Everybody Does It." He played opposite Jean Peters in "Turned Up Toes," and now he has sizzling love scenes with German actress Cornelia Bruch in "Two Corridors East." "I can't figure it out," he shrugged. "Nothing romantic about me. I've been a character ever since I was born. "It must be that everybody looks up there on the screen and says, 'If that character can get the dame, it could happen to me!'" Douglas readily admits that he gets a kick out of his screen love scenes. "I'm ready, willing and eager to do 'em," he said. "After all, kissing glamor girls is much pleasanter work than kissing cold microphones." Douglas' gusto is contagious where it counts—at the box-office. He's getting a lot of fun from his success. "Why wouldn't I," he inquired, "when for 20 years I tried to get in and all I got was the 'you'd better stick to the mike' routine?"
