

Senators Meet Chiefs Here

Salem Victor Over Spokane; Wins Series

Fresh from winning the abbreviated Spokane series, two games to one, the Salem Senators will return to Waters park at 8 o'clock Thursday night for a session with the Wenatchee Chiefs. The two clubs will engage in a single encounter on Thursday night, two Friday night and another the following evening. Johnny Price, famous acrobat diamond artist, will entertain between contests Friday night. An exhibition game of three innings between Midget Market and Master Bread teams of the Class C juniors will be staged as a preliminary Thursday evening at 7:30.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 25—For nearly three hours the Salem Senators and Spokane Indians went round and round last night and when the groundskeeper finally turned off the lights, the visiting Solons were out in front 11 to 9. The win, chalked up by Gene Peterson, although he was jerked in the seventh, enabled the visitors to return home with the series on a 2 to 1 basis. Jim Olson finished on the mound for the winners while the Indians employed four flingers in an effort to pull the contest out of the fire.

Andy Adams started for the Indians and had a six to three bulge going into the top of the seventh when the roof collapsed on him. Ken Kimball came in and pitched a third of an inning and when it was evident he was no match for the hard slugging Solons, John Conant took over. Conant had two strikes and three balls against Art Pennington when the Negro shortstop powered the next pitch over the right center fence to score two runs ahead of him. Lee Howard, who took over the first basing job after Larry Barton had been chased for using language unbecoming a gentleman, eventually wound up on the mound.

The seven runs notched by the Senators in the seventh came in handy as the Indians came back with three in their half to trim the margin to a 10-9 basis. Salem added another in the ninth and then stood off the Spokes as they tried to engineer a last ditch rally.

Pennington and Dick Bartle each hit four for five and six of the 17 Salem blows were of the extra base variety. Wenatchee downed Yakima 10 to 3 to move within a game of the second place Vancouver Caps who were rained out.

Robinson Scores 7th Round TKO

New York, Aug. 25 (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, the best all-round fighter in any current division, today was slated tentatively for a winter shot at the middleweight championship as a reward for his thrilling seven-round knockout victory over Steve Bellosie.

Robinson, present world welterweight champion, said he would be willing to give up his 145-pound crown for a chance at the 160-pound diadem now worn by Jake La Motta.

Sugar Ray—sleek, slender Harlem negro—established himself as a middleweight contender last night by stopping veteran Bellosie of the Bronx at the end of the seventh round in their grand brawl that attracted 28,812 and a gross gate of $120,860 at Yankee stadium.

Davis Cuppers Will Hold Draw

New York, Aug. 25 (AP)—Four slips of paper will be dropped today into the huge silver Davis cup, and the draw will then be made for what promises to be one of the closest battles in international tennis history.

Two of the slips will carry the names of the American players who will open the defense of the cup in the first two singles matches. On the other slips will be the names of their Australian challengers.

C. V. Kelway, Australian consul general in New York, will withdraw the pieces of paper one by one; the order in which they are drawn will be the order in which they play.

Most certainly the United States will be represented in the first two singles tests by U. S. national champion Richard (Pancho) Gonzales of Los Angeles and Wimbledon champion Ted Schroeder of Larescenta, Cal.

The two Aussies will be selected from the trio of Australian champion Frank Sedgman, Billy Sidwell, and Jack Bromwich. The fourth member of the Aussie team is George Worthington, but it was most unlikely he would be picked for singles.

Did Yankees Make Good Deal in Acquiring Mize?

By CHARLES C. CAIN (For Hugh Fullerton, Jr.)
Detroit, Aug. 25 (AP)—Baseball circles were divided today in their opinions on whether the New York Yankees had made a wise move in their investment of a bundle of cash for first baseman Johnny Mize.

The ex-New York Giants star first baseman joined the Yankees here Tuesday and showed some of his former tremendous hitting power in his first appearance in batting practice. He drove two balls into the Briggs stadium stands before retiring to the bench where he spent the afternoon.

Pennant Chases in Both Major Leagues Tighten

The spirited stretch battle between Brooklyn and St. Louis may develop into a personal feud between the rival managers of the Redbirds, has kept his peace. At least he hasn't openly belittled the Brooks. But not old Burt Shotton. The 64-year-old firebrand, sometimes referred to as "Battling Barney," is simply boiling for a fight.

Nearly back to his normal cocky self following a couple of smashing victories over the Cardinals, the silver-haired pilot of the Brooks disdained referral to the Redbirds as "Just a so-so ball club."

"They're not much," Shotton dismissed the Cards today. "And here's why. We've never felt worse, played worse nor looked worse than we have during the past week. And yet those guys could build up only a one-game lead on us. In my book that makes the Cards not so hot. I'm informed of Cards' snoring. Dyer had this to say: 'Let's see, now, how have we fared against those dangerous dodgers? I think we've beaten them 11 out of 19. Yeah, Pard, I guess we are lucky at that.'"

Shotton's Dodgers never looked better than they did yesterday, at that. They were smooth, aggressive and positively spectacular in their 6-0 triumph over the Redbirds. Don Newcombe overpowered the Cards, giving them only six scattered hits and allowing only one man to reach third.

Everybody in the starting Dodger lineup connected safely. Carl Furillo, Roy Campanella and Gill Hodges hit homers. In winning the rubber match of the three-game series, the Dodgers moved only one game off the pace. They began the series two games behind.

The American league race tightened, too, when the pacesetter New York Yankees playing without their ace, Joe DiMaggio, took a terrific 13-2 lacing from the Tigers in Detroit. Thus, the idle Boston Red Sox moved to within two games of the Yanks. That's the closest they've been to the top since the first week of the season.

For the second straight night, the third place Cleveland Indians failed to take advantage of a Yankee defeat when they bowed to Washington's seventh-place Senators, 3-2.

The Philadelphia Athletics retained their fourth place hold over the Tigers by the slimmest of margins — one percentage point—by conquering the Chicago White Sox 5-0.

Boston's third place braves in the National league edged out a 6-5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Lefty Warren Spahn staggered to his 16th victory, which was Boston's fifth in a row.

Wes Westrum, rookie catcher, slammed two home runs to lead the New York Giants to a 5-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Ski Down the Equator? German Thinks He Can

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 24 (AP)—Robert Hildebrand wants to ski down the equator. He has the places all picked out. They are the snow-covered peaks of Mt. Ruwenzori in British East Africa, and Mt. Kilimandscharo in what used to be German East Africa.

Hildebrand, a German mountaineer, has been to both before. He was a member of a German exploration party that claims to have made the first ascent to Ruwenzori's peak, in 1937. The party also claimed the first southern slope climb to the peak of Kilimandscharo.

But the men took only ordinary mountain-climbing equipment. They were somewhat surprised to find that the equatorial peaks offered good ski slopes. The war interrupted Hildebrand's chances of getting back there with a pair of skis. Now that the fighting is over, he is eyeing the possibility again.

Why these East African mountains? Well, there is something fascinating about these equatorial peaks. Once seen, you want to see them again, he explains. You reach the foothills with a typical jungle safari in steaming weather. Then you start climbing and you are in the snow.

Hildebrand has climbed the Matterhorn and Mt. Blanc but still prefers East Africa. Ruwenzori is 16,000 feet high. From a map it appears that it slopes down directly across the equator. Kilimandscharo is farther south but in the equatorial region.

"Anybody with good equipment and a good heart can climb them," says Hildebrand. Fred Egan's victory with Miss Tilly in the Hambletonian was his second. The 69-year-old driver scored with Spencer Scott in 1940.

Baseball Moguls Blind to Betting

New York, Aug. 25 (AP)—If there have been large scale attempts recently to "fix" baseball games, the higher-ups of the sports say they don't know about it.

As for reports that there have been hundreds of tampering efforts in the past few years and even implied threats of violence, Secretary Walter Mulberry of the commissioner's office said yesterday they had "no substance."

He acknowledged there had been a couple of letters addressed to baseball men which aroused suspicion. When they were properly investigated, he said, they were found to be of a crackpot nature.

The New York Post home news reported yesterday there had been hundreds of attempts to fix games in recent years with "sums up to $10,000 offered to players."

The article was one of a series dealing with what the paper calls a five billion dollar a year betting racket controlled by gambling mobs.
