Truman Put Out Welcome Mat for Southern Bolters

Washington, Aug. 25 (AP)—President Truman put out the welcome mat for southern party bolters today, but demanded that those who cross it get in step with the 1948 democratic platform. He delivered the invitation—strictly on his own terms—at a rousing dinner of the democratic national committee a few hours after it had read five southern states' rights members from the high command.

And, leaving the door open to non-Truman democrats in congress to fall in line with the Truman program, the committee exempted them from the party purge.

The fires of revolt, however, already were burning anew. States' righters announced they are opening Washington headquarters to spread the flames. The whole thing was sparked by southern dislike for Mr. Truman's civil rights program.

It was Truman the campaigner—swinging free style in the manner of his "give 'em hell" stumping of last year—who proclaimed his party of today "a national party, and not a section party any more."

"The tail no longer wags the dog," he said.

He went on to say that he won in 1948 without New York, "without the industrial east and without the solid south" and that he was "prouder of that than anything that has ever happened to me."

Then came the invitation: "And that doesn't mean that we are not inviting the industrial east and the solid south and all the rest of the country to join the party of the people, and help the country go forward. That is exactly what we want, and that is exactly what we are going to accomplish in the next two years."

Leauner Perez of New Orleans, in charge of the new Washington states' righters office, said they expect to set up committees in all states and try to elect governors, senators and congressmen who see eye to eye with them.

He said they will defend themselves if the democratic convention in 1952 puts undemocratic, un-American and unconstitutional planks into the platform.
