Covalt-Hoereth Service at Church

There will be the traditional "something borrowed" and "something old" at the wedding of petite Ruth Joan Hoereth and Theodore Lincoln Covalt Sunday afternoon, the ceremony to be solemnized at 3 o'clock in the First Congregational church with the Rev. Charles L. Williams, of the West Seattle Congregational church, the uncle of the bridegroom, officiating. The borrowed will be the illusion net veil worn by the bride's sister, Mrs. John A. Long, at her wedding, and the old will be a single strand of pearls belonging to Mrs. F. M. Haberman, aunt of the bride-to-be.

Miss Hoereth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Xavier Hoereth and Mr. Covalt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ferrel Waldo Covalt, all of Salem.

The couple will repeat their vows in a setting of pink and white gladioluses and candlelight. Before the ceremony, William Bush is to sing "Thine Alone," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer," Jean Hobson Rich to be at the organ.

Miss Frances Baum and Miss Gayle Juve, both wearing pink taffeta dresses fashioned after that of the bride, will light the candles.

The bridal dress is of white slipper satin. It is designed with pointed scallops on the yoke and sleeves. The fingertip veil is to be arranged from a crown of seed pearls and for her flowers the bride is to carry a bouquet of deep red roses. Mr. Hoereth is to give his daughter in marriage.

Sister Attendant

As matron of honor for her sister, Mrs. John A. Long is to wear a yellow taffeta gown designed in the same style as the bride's dress.

Miss Marian Carson, Mrs. James B. Williams (Beula Arnold) and Miss Virginia Lewis will be the bridesmaids, all to wear aqua taffeta frocks fashioned in the same design as the bride's dress and that of the honor attendant. All the attendants will wear hats matching their gowns. All will carry nosegays.

Vicki Church as flower girl will wear a white organza dress with pink sash and she will carry a miniature nosegay.

Johnny Long, nephew of the bride, will be the ring bearer.

Ferrel Covalt, Jr., is to attend his brother as best man and ushering will be Dave Chamberlain, Richard Eckley, Bill Johnston, Jerry McReal, James B. Williams and Bruce Boatman.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hoereth will wear an aqua afternoon dress with white accessories and a corsage of gardenias and roses. Mrs. Covalt, mother of the bridegroom, will wear a gray crepe gown with satin trim, mulberry accessories and corsage of orchid and pink blooms.

To Live in South

The reception is to be in the church parlors. Mrs. Daisy McIntyre and Mrs. F. M. Haberman, aunts of the bride, will serve the cake. Mrs. James Liggett of Seattle, grandmother of Mr. Covalt, will be at the punch bowl and Mrs. Joseph Wirth is to preside at the coffee urn. Misses Marilyn Burris, Janyce Baker, Eva McMullen and Cathy Cooper will serve. Miss Nancy Snyder is to pass the guest book. Misses Donna Whitley and Shirley Webber will have charge of the gifts. Leslie Seder of St. Helens, cousin of the bridegroom, is to pass the dream cakes, and also assisting at the reception will be Cynthia Long, niece of the bride, and Clarine Woolery, cousin of Mr. Covalt.

The couple have planned a trip north to Seattle, Victoria and Vancouver, and for going away the bride is to wear a navy and white wool sharkskin fitted suit with plum accessories and a corsage of deep red roses. The couple will be at home in Santa Rosa, Calif., after September 12, the two to continue their work at Santa Rosa Junior college. Mr. Covalt is president of the student body there this year.

Silver Teas on Tuesday and Wednesday Interest

ANTIQUe shows are always drawing cards but one that is a bit different is that planned for next Tuesday afternoon, August 30, when early farm life furniture and objects will be shown in conjunction with a silver tea arranged for the benefit of the First Christian church building fund.

The tea will be at the Salem Golf club, between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon and 7 and 9 in the evening.

Careful arrangement of those articles typical of early farm life will feature the tea, the club rooms and the front porch to be included in the theme. There will be old room settings—old attic rooms, front rooms, etc., as well as table settings typical of the time. The objects are from private collections. Mrs. Ernel W. Kay and Mrs. Ben Lambert are general chairmen for the tea and arrangements.

Presiding at the tea table during the different hours will be Mrs. Estill L. Brunk, Mrs. Monroe Cheek, Mrs. Gerald A. Reher, Mrs. W. L. Morrison.

Assisting at the tea will be Mrs. Taylor Hawkins, Mrs. Daniel J. Fry, Mrs. Hollis W. Huntington, Mrs. Harry Weidner, Mrs. Arthur Rahn, Mrs. Paul R. Hendricks, Mrs. Linn C. Smith, Mrs. William L. Phillips, Sr., Mrs. Prince W. Byrd.

An invitation is extended to all interested to call at the hours set. The evening hours were arranged especially for those who might be away for the day and for the men.

Dallas — Miss Gladys Joan Elliott, daughter of Mrs. W. M. Elliott was married to Frank Michael Cembellin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Cembellin of Hollister, Calif., at a double ring ceremony in the First Methodist church, Dallas, August 14, at 4 o'clock.

Rev. Clark S. Enz officiated, and Kenneth Elliott gave his sister in marriage. Her gown, of white slipper satin, was fashioned with a fitted bodice, long sleeves and a boat neckline. The full-gathered skirt ended in a short train. The fingertip veil of illusion fell from a beaded Juliet cap. The bride carried a fan-shaped bouquet of orchids and stephanotis with loops and streamers of white satin ribbon.

Mrs. John Pederson of Portland was matron of honor, and Mrs. Jack Boydston of Corvallis and Mrs. Charles Hopper of Portland, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids. Kay Elliott and Janet Kemp, nieces of the bride, were flower girls. Other nieces, Miss Julie Kemp and Miss Jane Elliott, carried the rings on white satin pillows. Lighting the tapers were Miss Esther Heino of Oregon City and Mrs. Byrd Sprenger of Corvallis.
