Legion Stages Huge Parade In Philadelphia Streets

Philadelphia, Aug. 30 (AP)—A gay task force of gaudily-dressed American Legionnaires began a 12-hour parade maneuver today to capture Philadelphia. Drums rolled, bugles blared. Strutting girls in pretty costumes twirled batons. Martial tunes filled the air. So did confetti and ticker tape—and the cheering applause of a million Philadelphians and visitors. The Quaker city surrendered happily to the invasion—the Legion's 31st annual convention parade.

Hours before the march began crowds gathered along the five-mile route. The sun shone brightly in the cloudless sky. U. S. military and naval units led off the march directly behind the Legion's parade marshals. The crack 116-man army band moved like a precision machine up Broad street to City Hall and the reviewing stand. Paratroopers, Wacs, marines, sailors and national guardsmen stepped in unison to the martial music.

The massed colors of the 48 states, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Guam, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and the Panama Canal zone were carried by a battalion of military policemen. Before the parade ends, about midnight, more than 30,000 persons and some 160 drum and bugle corps will have filed past the reviewing stand. Marchers from Minnesota wore Indian costumes, complete with feathered headdress. Legion departments proud of their state's history, displayed their favorite symbols—sagebrush from Nevada; Iowa corn; a Santa Claus from Santa Claus, Ind.; "rebel yells" and beautiful girls from Mississippi, and Texas sombreros. Legionnaires boast there's no bigger parade anywhere else in the world. It snarled downtown traffic to a standstill. The parade is the sole official Legion activity on this second day of the convention. It was like New Year's on Times Square last night.

Jet Fighter Ejects Pilot

March Air Base, Calif., Aug. 30 (AP)—An air force pilot was thrown clear of his spinning jet fighter and parachuted to safety in what is believed the first combat-condition use of an F-86 jet plane automatic ejection device. Second Lt. Robert E. Farley, 25, of Selah, Wash., told officers at this base that his plane developed trouble yesterday in a vertical dive. The cockpit ejection mechanism hurled him free of the ship. He pulled his ripcord only 1,000 feet from ground, receiving only deep feet and face cuts. Farley was stranded on top of a 3,200 peak in the San Bernardino mountains, 21 miles east of Palm Springs. He made a tent of the parachute to protect him from the 115 degree desert heat and was later rescued by an air force helicopter. His plane, which he was flying on an instrument training flight, disintegrated in the air.

Mrs. Johnson Better
Silverton—Mrs. Petra Johnson, mother of Miss Olga Johnson for a number of years a member of the Silverton school faculty, returned to her Third street home during the past week following serious surgical treatment at the Silverton hospital. Mrs. John is reported as much improved.

Cupid and the Possum—This possum isn't trying to look cute atop the statue, he's just plumb tired of all the water and wind which swept Miami, Fla., during the recent hurricane. (Acme telephoto)
