Demand was highly selective. At the final bell, though, small gains and losses were thoroughly scrambled.

Trading activity was about on a par with recent plodding sessions. Turnover hit a rate of about 700,000 shares for the full session, although this figure was somewhat deceptive because it included one 50,000-share block of Commonwealth & Southern and several blocks of around 10,-000 shares of United Corp.

Portland, Aug. 31 (A)—Hop markets were described as steady to firm by the U.S. depriment of agriculture today.

Prices for regular seed clusters ranged at 52 to 53 cents a pound, with semi-seedless at 57 to 58 cents, and seedless at 60 to 65. Actual trading was scant however, as buyers awaited more samples of the new crop, and growers did not offer stocks freely.

Trade sources estimated that Oregon growers still hold about 1,300 bales of last years crop.
