3 Vets Testify For Tokyo Rose

San Francisco, Aug. 18 (AP)—Three wartime members of Uncle Sam's forces in the Pacific have only kind words for the Radio Tokyo broadcasts for which Iva Toguri D'Aquino is on trial for treason.

The three testified voluntarily for the defense yesterday as the trial of the 33-year-old Los Angeles-born defendant opened its ninth week.

The government earlier had produced a series of former service men who had testified in support of charges that Mrs. D'Aquino, as "Orphan Ann" on Radio Tokyo's zero hour program and known to GIs as Tokyo Rose, had broadcast traitorously. She is charged with derogatory references to "bonehead" allied troops, tales of ship losses, predicted troop movements, and efforts to make the troops lonesome for wives and sweethearts back home.

Robert Speed of Berkeley, Calif., an ex-lieutenant of marines; Nalini Kant Gupta, San Francisco, former infantryman, and Sam Stanley, Berkeley, wartime Seabee baker, testified in behalf of Mrs. D'Aquino yesterday.

'Uke' Coming Back
New York, (AP)—The ukulele, standard equipment of the really "hep" college boy in the 1920's, is making a comeback. Jay Kraus, president of a company which makes ukules, says about 300,000 instruments will be manufactured this year compared with 40,000 to 60,000 before the war.
